

Emotions - Love - Cycle of Creation – MaGrav "3 Kings" - MG Flow Introduction to 479 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

Today's teaching was the start of the process of deepening the knowledge of our emotions, and that to transmute we need to understand their creation and be able to connect and control them for flight. But first we really need to clearly understand the process of Creation that continuously repeats itself everywhere. Everything in life is somewhere in this pattern, by discovering that, then we can change the conditions, fields, and field strength, and thus how to manifest something in physicality (P).

For the last months Mr. Keshe has been repeating this over and over for us to pay attention. It starts out with rays, which are singular and they interact with themselves to become fields, and these fields interact to become plasmas. Then it goes from physics, which means the atom, which has multiple plasmas inside it as neutron, proton, electrons. We can see the building up of the complexity of plasmas joining together. Then it goes further to chemistry, which means the elements. And with still further complexity you get biology, but remember these plasmas are interacting with the MG fields and Inertia in the environment to get the organism. It's like when you start seeing things moving in your Gans boxes. Then it needs a Soul. Then we have the Soul of Physicality (STP) and Soul of the Man (STM). When the life of the Soul is finished it goes back to rays and starts the cycle all over again. Also during the lifetime of the Soul it can emit rays and fields to start a new cycle of life. All the time the essence of the Creator is within everything, as everything is made out of His fields. If you truly understand what this process means then you have cracked open the Knowledge of Creation.

The knowledge added this week was that the rays go to fields, but then the 3rd dimension of this process, is that the fields create emotions. It was never said how, but somewhere in the process of interacting the fields become emotions. At this stage in our learning let's gather together what we know about emotions. Emotions have a field strength and a dimension, and they also span across an area. Emotion has an odor. And everybody has a signature an odor unique to them, like an expression of their fields, but how will the receiver interpret this emotion? If man has an emotion so does the Creator. The emotions of the Creator are within me, I experience them in life as love and pain. We carry all the emotions within us, but it is only when we experience them that we know them. The process of life matures us to the different emotions and the different depths of them. A child will only know the love of his mother, and maybe father and brothers, or even a pet, but not the love between a man and woman, that makes you want to give your life to be with your partner. In essence, it's a different experience one has to mature into, then you understand there are different types and levels of love.

Then Mr. Keshe snuck this one in. Man has to learn to fall in love with the Creator, then you become enlightened to the knowledge of the emotion of the Creator. He uses words in a very specific way. It's up to us to decipher and enter their depths through our life experience. So emotion or love is not just a feeling, it has a knowledge. But what is that knowledge? Is it to be one with what you want to know? In the last months, the teachings have changed in a subtle way, and one needs to spend a lot of time with them if we want to change ourselves. Today's teaching has no "yes or no" answer to it. It is being with it, that it reflects into our lives and opens a door that we all have been waiting for. When we have that experience of loving someone so much that we are willing to give everything to connect with our lover, it's like an initiation into "reality" that breaks all the concepts. In our world, we usually start out loving a physical body and the pleasurable sensations it gives us. And when it ends it is so painful, then we either quickly try to cover it up by finding a new love, or we say, "I'll never fall in love again, that was just too painful." Or a third option, which is rarely understood, is that we let that pain break our heart open, and if we have the right guidance and inner determination it can take us into the depths of true love, which is like the Creator's unconditional giving. But this is not a lofty idea only. It comes by feeling the pain, and then we discover that our Soul has been separated from our true Self, and that is what this pain is. The pain comes out of attachment to certain ideas and expectations, and then we go through a process of letting go or maturity. And then we end up discovering that we are already connected to the Creator, and that I was loving a false image and not the true Essence. From this comes a natural spontaneous feeling of detachment, because we have everything we need and are complete, and like the rays of the Sun we give unconditionally. It's just like the "Cycle of Creation" we went over earlier, we discover we are in the flow and part of the Creator of the flow, and with this direct experience, our knowledge becomes complete.

The Creator expresses His love for us through this cycle of life, and when we have understood it, we can control the cycle. There was a beautiful line where he said, did the Creators emotion come on the "superhighway of the H?" Remember that the H rays pretty much cover the whole of the U. In this process we will learn how to carry the STM on the bandwidth of the H & C14 that travels throughout the U. If we want to experience what it is like to be a raindrop, or another creature somewhere, then we can add those field strengths to our Soul and manifest them, and then return back to our Soul and continue traveling on that bandwidth. This gives us a huge freedom to do just about anything we can imagine.

(In previous teachings Mr. Keshe said, that for example, if you can match the field strength of Fe, which is 56, then you can behave like a Fe. But he never said, that you become a Fe. Maybe this is the same situation, where we can experience the field strength of a rain drop, without actually becoming a raindrop. Then it would add to the growth and experiences of our Soul as it journeys through the U).

A question Mr. Keshe used to ask a lot was, at what point does the G fields that enter the South Pole change into the M fields and go out the North Pole. But none of the scientists could answer it. Today he gave the shocking answer, which was that they do not change. It's a continuous flow of fields around the Earth. It's the point of the observer and observation. I think he meant that this point of observation is what determines whether you see it as M or G. But what this actually means, still has to be unraveled. But then Mr. Keshe started talking about the Prophets, and that they understood this point (of observation), and it gave them a little more knowledge than the rest of the people, and with this knowledge they could prophesize. Where do we start this inquiry? Maybe the first thing for us to understand is how to observe M fields, obviously not with the physical eye. And now we know they have emotions. Let's see how he will unfold these teachings in the coming time.

Then Mr. Keshe came back to the emotions and said, that no life can manifest in the U if it doesn't have emotion. And that our emotion is transferred through our thoughts and behavior, and this brought us to the Ethos of Mitra - Think, Speak, and Act Good, which were the 3 gifts given by the "3 Kings" in the Bible. But not only that, it's the same as the cycle of Creation, where a ray becomes a field, which through further interactions becomes emotions. Here we are again back to the same pattern. Then he threw in a twist for the people working on MaGravs. One of the coils creates the rays, another coil creates the fields, the interaction of these two together creates emotion, or the fields of existence, or the plasma of life. If you can interact with it, it will serve you and you can manifest gold, a lover, or a flower. But if the flow through the coils are not going in the right direction, you cannot create the plasma, you won't see the light. This is a lot for our MaGrav group to ponder over. (Maybe the "3 Kings" pattern can also be found in our relationships with other people. The ray would be when we first meet somebody's energy, and then the fields are how we interact with them, and the emotion is, do we develop that love for each other and become a plasma, which would be the Soul of that relationship?)

About the April Addiction Session, it's not really about being addicted to drugs and alcohol, but I am sure you will receive help if you need it. It's more about how to handle the blissful feeling of transmuting your Soul when you go somewhere. Maybe we didn't know that, what we call death, is actually a blissful transition to another dimension. It's the fear expressed on the living side of death, that gives it a bad name. He also wants to teach us how to be committed to keeping our STP and STM together, and not separate them at death. If the two love each other, then it will also create a stability in their union to stay together and travel the U, and the love between the two will prevent the addiction.

More topics are: Souls can go into other bodies, but if they are not wanted it creates a mayhem - there is a T to remove them; Environmental cleanup needs huge investment to become profitable - China is most likely nation to collaborate with KF; STM travels outside of U - how Universes are created - cultural exchange; Animal Souls communicate with humans; Salinity controls what and where you can be manifested in D of P; In Gans making need to consider local conditions and fields in the environment; Galaxy of stars just like Gans Box, but without walls; EU different than NDE - Near Life Experience; Influence behavior of friends through matching field strength and salinity.

Thank you for listening.
