

London Spaceship - New Headphones Bring Change - Central Server - Secret Low level fields Introduction to 503 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

This workshop again emphasized on the importance of the London Ambassadorial Meeting on November 11th and that it will be an interactive experience of the new space technology (T) that it will shock the scientists and humanity for them to understand that the time of change has come. Those who participate will feel what it is like to live in Space, because they will actually enter into a spaceship without them knowing. It's one thing to talk about something, then people can just ignore it. But when you actually feel it, that is a totally different experience, and if the person is open it can change their life. The ambassadors will be asked if they want to put the Headphones on and communicate with their presidents. These are wireless headphones run on the plasma, so if they are able to communicate with their presidents, I think we'll all get a wonderful surprise.

We are coming down to the point of change and these new Headphones are going to help bring it in. These are the latest T but they took out the electricity part that was previously apart of the Compact Head Units. The T has advanced so much that Mr. Keshe is moving away from these old units, even though he did say that your body might feel warm in the winter time with the new Headphones. I am sure in the future the new Headphones will be able to provide for all of our needs such as food, energy, travel, wellness and communications. But we will start out using these to train ourselves and for us to learn that we have a Soul and to start communicating and working with it. Couples were very much encouraged to buy two units and start practicing communicating without speaking, or very little talking, as he said he is doing now with some KS, where they talk very little, but understand each other through the Soul.

The latest development in the T is the creation of the Central Server, not just for this planet but for the whole universe (U). If we have been following along all these years, then we could see this development occurring. It started with the Linz Enhancement Units (EU) where he explained that we needed to have people from all cultures, races, and continents to come and share their knowledge with the EU. These Headphones are a continuation of that same process. Everyone who uses them will connect directly to the Central Server, where the knowledge sharing will take place. It is not just for humans but all beings on this planet, and eventually the rest of the U. He said it has been designed for this very purpose. At first glance we might be a little uncomfortable with this, because isn't this what the ruling elite of this planet are in the process of doing right now. They think that if they complete taking total control over the Internet and Media they will be able to control what comes in and out of our minds. This is only partially true and only pertains to the matter state physicality (P) part of our existence. We are scared of this, because first of all we were created backwards through the physical interaction first, and then creation of the Soul of the Physicality (STP) and the Soul of the Man (STM). And because we don't know our Soul and the huge power we have inside us. When we discover our Soul and live through it, then nobody can enslave us. That is what this T is doing, helping us to discover and use the power of our Soul, and it follows the pattern of the Creation. In Creation we have the Original M Field, which has not been fully discussed, and our Creator was created out of the interaction of these fields. And we are created out of the interactions of our Creators fields. So it's a plasma inside of a plasma, inside of a plasma, and so forth on and on. All the time we are inside the plasma of our Creator just like a baby is inside the womb of the mother. In a way our mother is our "central server" with the knowledge of the father already contained in it. Remember in the Knowledge of Creation one plasma cannot invade and take control over another plasma. First there has to be consent and then matching field strengths. There is nothing to worry about with creating a Central Server, this is how the knowledge is shared equally among every single being, and the stronger plasma always gives to the weaker plasma to make it equal with itself, not to control it. We have to learn the knowledge and the new way of giving and then there will be no fear.

In general, society has a hard time to understand the nature of things, rather it formulates a belief in something and sticks to it. In the presentation of plasma science to society we want the people to understand the Knowledge of Creation, and not just believe in something blindly. Therefore, Mr. Keshe is constantly emphasizing that we need both the matter state and energy state understanding to live a complete life in the U. A nice example for this is Tesla who understood AC and Edison who found out about DC electric current. We actually do use both, the AC carries the current efficiently over long distances to our house and there we convert a lot of it with adapters into DC to run our devices. Remember that the only difference between the two is one has a frequency vibration we call Hertz or cycles per second.

He went further in comparing the two to the STM and P where the knowledge merges into one knowledge of the U. We don't reject the P over the Soul because we need both to confirm and enjoy life. This has been talked a lot about before, but today he brought it a little closer by comparing the relationship to the organs in our bodies and how they convert energy to feed the different entities. Mainly the stomach and digestive system converts energy from the food to feed the P and STP. But the air we breathe actually has 2 qualities in it. The lower order of the matter state gas gets converted to feed P & STP. I think this might be referring to the O and CO₂ transformation that releases a Helium plasma and occurs in the lungs. And there are higher order fields which pass through the back of the throat and get absorbed by the STM. The Souls need to be charged up just like batteries need to be recharged after they have been discharged. Therefore, we breathe to feed the STM and somewhere after a million breathes the Soul has gathered enough field strength that it can take birth as a Soul in the U.

We can use this knowledge as an awareness practice when we breathe. Sometimes we can think that we are feeding the STM and maybe even feel the energy transfer in the back of the throat. And while we are eating we can be aware of the energy transfer to feed all the physical cell/Souls in the body and that the totality of all the parts make up the STP. We can imagine the Infinity Loop between the STM and the Creator and then to the STP, and if we are having problems in a certain organ or part of the body we can interact with that part and know that it is also part of the STP. Slowly we'll start to become part of the flow of energy in our body and our environment and this is how we'll be fed in the future. At that time we won't have to visualize it, because it will be going on automatically.

The secret to life is using both the higher order fields to feed the STM and the lower order matter state energy to feed the P and STP. The higher order allows the STM to expand and the STP uses the lower order to be able to control the expansion of the Soul to use it for life. In other words, we become a kind of complete package that is conscious and aware of itself. Otherwise, I imagine we would just keep on expanding until we filled the whole U and became one with the Creator. This then gives us the knowledge to enjoy life to what satisfies our emotion and it keeps the cycle of life going. Keeping life going means confirming we exist through the physicality.

This Knowledge of Creation has been transferred to the new Headphone Units and will be able to feed both the STM and STP, thus allowing us eternal life in the U. Then we don't need to kill to survive anymore. Man already knows a lot about how to control the matter state, and now he needs learn to control the energy, which Mr. Keshe says is not that difficult.

On this same topic, I would like to expand a little. Today it is very noisy at my place as they are working with heavy machinery on the street outside. I started thinking about how we function in matter state at the moment. If we want to make any changes to our environment or living condition what do we do? Hundreds of years ago we started digging up elements from the ground melting them down creating metals and then making motors to move things around. We made huge machineries of metals, which are basically rotating and grinding of metals on metals to move and cut things. It's so hard and heavy to work with the matter state in this way. And think of all the fields created as heat through the friction of the metals grinding on each other. There also must be huge M & G fields produced that we are not using. It fits with that feeling of heaviness and ignorance. Unfortunately our scientists cannot even imagine another way of doing this, and if they did they probably won't be around very long. It's the same understanding as how we are wasting the knowledge of nuclear energy just to boil water and kill people. Okay, we used a little of it to make the x-ray machine for health. But the main thought here is, this is the present state of our lives and in this we want to give birth to the plasma science. It's not that we are replacing what we have done, but rather to see it as a developmental process that we have gone through to get to where we are today. Going forward this will all change into a beautiful and peaceful life where everybody is treated with equality and freedom. These Headphones are going to be the start of this process. Later we'll be able to implant this T into the body itself that we can always remain connected to our Souls. For the "Children of the Soul" and "Children of Mitra" this will not be necessary, they will have it from the start of life.

There were some teachings about Calcium (Ca) and its importance in the creation of our body. Every cell in the body has a Ca seed in it. The Ca seed is used to replicate all the different cells in the body. If this seed is perfect in M field strength, then all the cells will be replicated at their original strength, so there would be no disease. Would we even age if the field strength is maintained? This is not matter state Ca, it has to be plasmatic and it depends on the fields that we create it from, and the emotion and Inertia. With plasma science there is a lot more to think about. We have to consider all the field interactions. He said further that the STP has chosen Ca to encage the STM, and then feeds it on little bits of emotions, that would mean energy. We also have to consider matching field strengths and all the rest of it. Then he put the question what does the STM use to encage the STP. This is the reverse case at the time of departure and travel through the U. He added that the M and G fields can be separated and individually used to create invisible boundaries. In a way, like cages or containers.

Man has taught himself to think that the strongest survives and controls the weaker. It seems we are born with this crazy program playing in the back of our head. And even if we don't want to think about it, it still manages to creep inside our head and behavior. The U works in the opposite way, like the ocean which is the result of single drops of water joining together over millions of years. In plasma science we have to start learning how to think that the Creation works on the smallest and softest energies. This is the secret to our life in the U, and how to be fed by the softest and lowest fields. There is more energy in low level M fields than in the highest strength fields. I used to think the 200 volt hybrid battery was a 200 volt battery until I took it apart. I found out it was 200 1 volt batteries that are hooked up to each other and work together. To work this way requires patience and knowledge in understanding what it is we want to achieve. He said the Headphones feed the man through the lowest strength fields. And the Soul of our planet is fed by the lowest levels. We have to ponder this more deeply.

There is an important teaching starting around 57 minutes, but it is something that you should listen to many times to understand. Remember that in Manchester he started training the first 25 in transmutation. It was not revealed exactly what happened in the conference, but some people went to the Moon and picked up the dust and rocks. This was done by the expansion of the Soul. Does it mean that they expanded their Soul to reach the Moon and then they went to the edge of the boundary of their Soul? Then he questioned us, is that the same Moon we see, the one the Americans said they went to and the Indians landed a craft on? Or is it made by the person's Soul, in interaction with its environment? Was it the emotion that they were the planet? Then he said, what you feel, you create. This is where he prepares us to travel the U. If we have the detachment and the knowledge, then we don't need to make a barren planet, but a heaven for the Souls we will create out of our own Soul. He doesn't talk about having a partner to create children. But as individual Souls traveling the U to start new races of Man. There is a lot here to learn, because after the London Meeting the spaceship in that building will remain there, and those who understand can go there and travel the U with their Soul. We'll end it on the note: we have ignored the depth of knowledge we have within us.

There are a few places Mr. Keshe talked about himself. He said he was the best one the Creator could have sent to Earth to do this job. And that he has been here for thousands of years and knows how the man works. The Soul of Mr. Keshe is always behind the work of making these systems and they are being made to change humanity so there can't be any mistakes in them. As a Master he will not leave the classroom until all the students have understood. It's not the time to reveal about if a higher Soul can transmute itself into the womb of a mother. One day mankind will know who we are and where we come from. When we listen to the teachings we should be able to distinguish when the man speaks and when the "Soul of Knowledge" speaks. Millions of people know about the T, if anything happens to Mr. Keshe the T is setup to be released internationally in a different way. The beautiful part is that with this T we can govern ourselves. So if they try to do something severe to stop the T, they will end up the losers, because the T will be brought to all of us.

Other Topics:

DC current also has AC current inside it. When STP materializes matter state it creates AC and this is the basis for the heartbeat;

What we call déjà vu is really the STM & STP communicating with each other;
There will be peace between the STM and STP;
KF Flying Car will come out in next 2 years - T is ready;
Those who do evil with their P become Space dust;

The biggest gain for mankind is evolution in emotion. The T will end greed and jealousy because it satisfies the Soul & touches the emotion. Everyone will have found their best companion which is their Soul and it will satisfy all their needs;
Indian guru who didn't eat was a cheat because he did not elevate his Soul.

Thanks for listening.
