

The Successor Soul - Weight Reduction - Transmutation of P - Dimensions - Soul can't Suicide Introduction to 514 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

It was nice to hear that the teachings, just like the life of the fields of the Soul will be endless. However, twice today Mr. Keshe reminded us that we should prepare ourselves, and that he accepted a physical term for his commitment. Once before he said, he knows the time of his departure. He has not said if it is soon or far, only that the "Daughter of Mitra" will take over and that, that Soul is already here. But the Daughter of Mitra is not necessarily physicality (P). This does not feel good to hear as we are just starting to understand very little and nothing yet has come into the open. The Prophets of the past always left things for the man to do, and he always failed. Let's hope this time will be different, and let's pray that Mr. Keshe will remain with us for as long as possible so that the teachings will take root on the Earth.

We have to be so grateful to Mr. Keshe and those who are working relentlessly in the background, and have saved the KF from disappearance only a week ago. Like a good father he has been taking all of the emotional burden onto himself, protecting his children in their fragile state. It's about ten years ago since I first started hearing about KF, and I remember the feeling of time to time checking back to see if it was still around, because I thought they will never let this kind of truth come into the public. And yet here we are 10 years later. This shows us that it is up to us, and to keep our faith alive, in ourselves and have the trust that in the end the Truth will succeed. And after all these years of study and growth, he must now feel we are ready to learn about true love. December 22nd will be an amazing opportunity for those Souls who understand, to experience the true love, the Love of Mitra and the Love of the Creator. What's even more unfathomable is that there can be a technology so advanced that it can help us to experience it.

In the London Conference the "weight reduction" systems were shown to diplomats. This was first shown to Knowledge Seekers (KS) in the KF Cinzano labs many years ago, and is referred to as the "129 Tesla." With a few thousands Euros we could generate 129 Tesla, which broke the record of 105 Tesla held by the Americans, who needed a huge electric power station to accomplish it. Common people without a science background may think, so what's the big deal about that? If we can prove a theory about something on a small scale, then it can be replicated to a larger scale and commercialized. This is why the Americans are so afraid for this to be shown, because then the thinking people will know the change has come. Mr. Keshe observed that the diplomats could not take enough pictures of it during the demonstration. That means they were excited to witness the "impossible" and they know the implication of it. Therefore, he will now start showing weight reduction more often Live, and it is our job as KS to inform people to watch it and more world leaders will understand what is happening.

I believe that the weight was reduced because the systems were absorbing fields and becoming more G. Later, he said, if we leave the systems in London on long enough the G will get saturated and switch to M and then we would see repulsion and lift. We call it "antigravity" or a "flying saucer." But through the knowledge we know that it is not really "antigravity," rather it is too much gravity, so that it flips polarity and changes to M. Also remember that the Flight Systems work in pairs of 2 reactors. One reactor acts as the center like the Sun, and the other like a planet moving around it. The second reactor is what we see as the Flight System, and flies where it wants relative to the central reactor. Today he reminded us again, that we have these 2 reactors inside us known as the Soul of the Man (STM) and the Soul of the Physicality (STP) and when we active them, or recognize them, and through our emotions we can control their fields, then we will become Passengers of the Universe.

The next step is to show the Transmutation and Transportation (T & T) publicly and they will try to do this in the upcoming China conference in the beginning of the new year. It's important to understand the differences in how we will travel. Transmutation has already been achieved, but through the Soul and cannot be seen by others in the physical dimension (D), although we can see it on the graphs, but matter state scientists will deny their validity. When it is called T & T then it means first the STM is transmuted to the destination. This happens at death, but in this case the STM & STP separate forever and the STM transmutes alone to its destination. In the Flight conditions the STM expands over the P, and what happens next has never been fully clarified in detail. Does the P return back to energy inside the STP? What I remember from Linz in one Flight test is, that the STM first goes to the destination. And this is why he is using a couple that are truly in love with each other, so that Soul of the lover will want to travel to where the partner is. Once the STM establishes itself at the destination the STP comes over, because remember the P is still at the starting point. When the STP establishes itself at the destination, this must be when the P decides if it wants to go to its lover at the destination. If the emotion is strong enough then it will manifest itself physically there, and the body at the starting point will vanish into energy. This is just overview of what will happen in the China conference. Obviously, if we have to be truly in love to do the T & T, then it will be very difficult. Having a couple in love is for demonstration. Mr. Keshe has developed a technology (T) that can compensate for the deficiency in love. Maybe this is the reason for the December 22nd session to begin the process for humanity to discover the deeper love.

To prepare us for the transmutation he again went over a lot of things to help us. First was that we become aware of the fears we have inside to experience something new, and then for us to make a decision for change. Since the knowledge of Creation cannot be forced, we have to find a way to elevate our emotion and begin to feel love for it, then it becomes part of us. He explained about KS who test the systems but don't feel anything, that this is because there may be a fear in background of accepting something new, while at the same time that means having to give up what we believe in. This is not so easy since we have built our identity around our beliefs even if they are wrong, and this gives us a sense of security and safety. We relax into that and get disturbed when it starts to change. Along with this acceptance of the "status quo" we give up our independence. There are deep seated problems that in a way, are built into life in the physical dimension. But at least we should try to make an effort to understand.

You may have noticed that Mr. Keshe uses the word 'dimension' a lot in very specific ways and today he opened up the definition a little more about the dimensions of the P - STP - STM. First of all we should keep in mind that we are a plasma inside of a plasma all the way back to the Creator. So when he says for example, outside the physical D of the man, we are still inside the physical D of the Earth. As I was listening to the recording several times something became apparent. He started by first defining the P dimension as our body and physical life. Then looking at the body I suddenly realized, that it has its own D outside of the one who is now observing it. Then I wondered if the body knows what is going on inside this room. And if I touch my leg, does it know it is being touched or is it only the STP & STM that know? And what does it mean that the body is conscious? This is the first D he talked about.

The second D was the STP and he defined it as being the love we feel and the interaction of the fields of life. We can add this to what he told us before, that the STP is made from the essence of energies of all the parts of the body and it's what we refer to as the Spirit. There is a lot here to put together, so we'll just try to go a little further. I take this to be that all the interactions the body makes with its environment creates an emotion which is gathered in the STP. For example, he said, when we eat it is for the emotion it gives us. We don't just eat for the sake of eating or walk somewhere just to walk. The STP directs the body to do things for the emotions it creates through the interactions with the environment. And even more mysterious is that when we eat something, the field strength of that apple calls out to us to receive its fields. There is a lot more to ponder here. So basically the STP uses its "child" the P to experience and gather emotions and I would assume field strength for elevation. And later he said, elevation comes through physical consumption, but this is a general statement, which elevation is he talking about?

The third D was the STM. My understanding is that the two dimensions of the P & STP are contained within the STM, and as the STM is connected directly to the Creator it is in contact with the whole universe (U). In the example he gave, he said while you are enjoying all the emotions of eating the apple and the odor and feeling of the room, at the same time the STM is aware of your mother in New York and what she is feeling. And one day we'll learn how to be continuously in touch with another Soul. This teaching gives us a lot more knowledge to contemplate how we exist in the different dimensions and transmutation will allow us to travel between different dimensions. As this knowledge deepens the fear will vanish.

Many times he has explained to us that suicide of the P is forbidden because it stops the elevation process of that Soul and stops its maturity. Through the plasma science we know that the purpose of physical life is to mature the Soul so that it can take its place in the U according to the strength of the fields it has gathered while living as a body on Earth. As we just explained the P is of a different D than the Soul. He said the Soul is made of M fields in motion, and these fields come together and forms what he calls an "energy pack." It's hard to think of ourselves as a pack of energy, but in essence that is what we are made of. But remember the energy pack gathers field strength through emotions that come from experiencing life, or should we say 'rubbing up against other plasmas.' And our Soul becomes an individual and this is what we call ourselves.

With this knowledge it is obvious that we cannot kill our Soul. Suicide of the Soul is impossible because it is basically made from M fields. The body is a different D and that we can end with a bullet. However, the thought of suicide only comes from a suffering P and not from a Soul that knows the bliss of its own Being. But there is another way you can end the Soul, and that is through loving another. When you love another so much that you want to merge in that being, you can give all your fields to your beloved, and then you would have none left for your own existence. The "You" as an individual Soul will cease to exist, but all your fields will continue to exist in the other. What exactly does it mean to exist in others? Are your fields self-aware or is it just awareness itself? Is it the drop of water going back to the ocean? This requires further knowledge. But what was interesting was that he ended this teaching with the word - devotion.

When we realize that we have ignored the speed of M fields even of tiny solid magnets, then we realize how little we know of Creation. Because our scientists could not measure the speed of M fields they just assumed they don't exist and used the speed of light as the maximum speed, and this has blocked humanity in being able to understand the Creation. So when we travel with the Soul in the dream state maybe the M fields are coming out of our body, but we don't have a way to measure them. The M fields of the Sun do not take 8 minutes to reach us, they instantly enter and become part of us. This is a comfort in knowing that we really are part of everything. It's the same with our vision. On this planet what we can see depends of the M field strength of this planet. When we go to other planets if we want to see something visual we'll have to adapt our strength to that, of that planet. And we have the power to do this through our emotion. And now we understand that it is related to the STP.

In clarifying about how stronger and weaker plasmas interact with each other he said we should pay attention to the gap between the arms of the spiral. We tend to only think of the arms, which I believe represents the energy going out. Whereas the energy coming in, comes through the gaps between. If you remember he always draws a spiral to show how the field strengths of plasmas operate. The strongest point is in the center of the spiral and it draws the weaker plasma into itself, and when it reaches the bottom it switches from receiving to giving, and because it is now at its lowest strength, the center of the spiral starts to give its strength to that plasma. It reverses directions or polarities from G to M and start going out of the spiral.

This is a simplified version of the process. There must be other parts to the interactions, like the overall strength of the plasma that we are not yet knowing about. If the center is constantly giving why doesn't it get weaker? This could be explained by the energy it receives coming in through the gaps. The other important part is what he called the connection between the plasmas. They connect to each other through matching fields and exchange energies in that gap. Maybe all the fields don't have to match each other, and this allows the plasma to be relatively weaker or stronger than the other, and it doesn't lose its integrity as an independent plasma. In this case the overall strength of the plasma would have to be considered. Maybe there are different and multiple levels of field strengths that have also to be considered. One of the confusing parts are that we may think that as soon as a plasma gives its strength to a weaker plasma, then automatically it is lower. This may not be the case. There is still much more to understand about how this process works.

In general this is what our Sun does. As its fields travel to the edge of the solar system they give out their energy and when they reach the outer edge they are at their weakest point and form planets, which then gets pulled back into the center of the Sun and the process starts again. This is also how the Creator works but on the scale of the Universe. And this is how the flight systems can work. If we keep building up the G fields in the central reactor it will reach the switching point and become M creating lift through repulsion of the second reactor. It will become much more clear when we can start experimenting with reactors and learn to create the G fields so we can see how they eventually turns into M.

Other Topics:

Everything we do has a reason knowingly or unknowingly and it is setup collectively by the STP of the man on this planet. When it is ready to take place the "Soul of the U" brings everything it needs to be manifested;

Technological gains do not bring maturity of Soul - it requires understanding the work of Creation;

Denial of the Soul comes from the Religions - they accuse others of being "Anti Christ";

You can be enlightened while sleeping and learn things. Tesla did this. (From past teachings - his enlightenment did not come from within himself);

Dec 22nd will discover the true meaning of Christmas - born again to new dimension.

Thanks for listening.
