

Breakthrough Flight Sessions - Traveling with Soul / Inventions - Transmutation or Dream - Emotions Introduction to 521 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

This teaching mainly focuses on explaining the breakthrough developments in the Monthly Flight sessions especially with the new Non-Dimensional or Non-Containment reactors that were originally unveiled in the London Ambassadorial Meeting November 11th, 2023 without the people attending realizing it. And then on the December 22nd flight session he started to allow people after the session ended, to stay connected to the system and practice on their own for many hours. And because the results were so good, he offered a second session on January 12th for participants to repeat what they experienced and take it further to try and feed the STP through the STM, and he ran the new Non-dimensional system sometimes in the background without people knowing. And then last week on January 19th was the first of the 6 month sessions, where people stayed up 27 hours connected to the systems. Mr. Keshe is using this workshop to help us understand what all this means and how to work with it to use it in our daily lives.

First we should discuss what these new Non-dimensional reactors are, and how they differ from what we have been using so far. The reactors up to this point have been specific Gans's rotating in spheres at certain speeds, and all kind of other factors used to control the fields they emit and absorb. In plasma science it is always M fields, which means "giving," and G fields which means "receiving," and these two together interact to become what we call, MaGrav - magnetical and gravitational fields interacting. Everything in the universe (U) is plasma made from the interaction of M and G fields. Mr. Keshe gave another option to make the fields dynamic other then using motors. As he always said, there are no motor rotating the Earth and Sun. These systems were called MaGrav systems and made primarily of Nano coated Cu wires coiled in specific ways with Gans layers on top of them to make the fields dynamic. Up until November 11th, the Day of Peace, is as far as we have gotten in the T. The breakthrough in T was sitting on the stage in London, in gray boxes, but guess what? Those boxes were "empty" as far as the Man can understand. But were they really empty? If they were empty, how come the British authorities detected life in them when they passed through the security tunnels made to detect illegal immigrants? You can pretty much imagine MI-5 and CIA sitting in the background wondering how they are going to stop "empty boxes."

When we study the matter state science, chemistry for example, we always have to attend laboratory training, to put the theory into practice, and make it real for us. For us Knowledge Seekers (KS) attending the Thursday KSW is where we get the theory, but that doesn't feel right, because we are really receiving knowledge through the Soul. So we get the "theory" there, but how do we put it into practice? That's one of the reasons Mr. Keshe started the Friday Flight Session over a year ago. KS have been making the plasma science a reality in their lives for over a year now. If you talk to them you will realize how much they have grown in knowledge and understanding. Even if you can't attend the Friday sessions you can still benefit by them through paying close attention to how Mr. Keshe explains the results of what the KS achieved and he usually does that the following week in the KSW. Of course you need practice yourself and you can join with Group Intentions for world peace like the Daily Brazilian Intention. KS have reported that they feel the same intensity of energy like in the Friday sessions. Directly experiencing the fields is very important to learning about plasma, it's like feeling our own Soul and discovering that it really does exist. And group practice intensifies the fields.

Why are we saying all this? Because it's important to understand where we have come from and where we are now. A huge development has taken place within many KS without us really being aware of what has happened. Many people may think that nothing happened in the London conference because the Americans blocked it. This is totally wrong. They may have thought they blocked the physicality (P), but the Souls has broken through and many KS have become travelers of space, even if their P is not aware of it. Without announcing anything Mr. Keshe "threw the switch" and turned on the Non-dimensional reactors and the Souls of the Knowledge Seekers took off into the U. He said, the graph "flat-lined" and that means the P went to sleep and the Souls became Passenger of the U. If we could just grasp the significance of what this means, we would understand that the fulfillment of the Promise is indeed 2024, and we are a part of it, even if our body is asleep in the chair. It is happening here and now, and it is happening with us. He is trying to explain this to us in this workshop so that we can become conscious in our dream.

Dream is the "code name" for living in the Soul. When people talk about their experiences during the Friday sessions sometimes they say, it's like a dream. They might say, I saw the Earth from the Cosmos, or I went to this planet and interacted with these kind of beings, but you know, it felt like a dream. This implies that the state of the Soul is just a fantasy. And this comes from the fact that the P first created the Soul of the Physicality (STP), which then created the Soul of the Man (STM) and imprisoned it inside the brain with the M fields of the blood flow. The way I think about it is, that the STP identifies itself with the body, therefore in its ignorance of reality, says that when the Soul goes outside traveling the U it's just a fantasy. And many times the Soul just puts the P to sleep and goes and has fun with its friends and comes back and pretends nothing happened. And because we identify ourselves more with the STP than with the STM we accept it as true. The T is providing us with special field strength to directly experience the Soul and to remember it. And this is what is happening in the Friday Flight Sessions. To directly experience the Soul and remember it is what we call enlightenment. This is all that we were trying to do with the meditation, but failed. And this is where we are going with the teachings now.

Our job is to try to be able to control what the Soul experiences and we do that through our emotions. This means we have to become more aware of our feelings and emotions and develop our ability to create emotions and intentions. Up to now we have been sitting in the back seat of the car and they have been taking us where they want to. Now it's time for us to decide where we want to go and what we want to learn. The amazing part is that we can learn new knowledge through the Soul and then bring those discoveries back to Earth and implement them in P. Oh, so is this where all these so called inventions come from? Then patents are a lie and a robbery of the Knowledge of the U. It's interesting, because when I read about great inventors I was expecting them to say, how they thought up this or that. But that was not the case. They usually said that they did something to relax themselves, and just when they were about to fall asleep, the ideas for the invention came into their head. This is exactly what Mr. Keshe is telling us about working with the Soul. So the atheist scientists are actually Soul travelers, but they are ignorant of it.

Soon the Earth will be flooded with new inventions, knowledge and T from the whole universe. This is why we have to get rid of the patents, and implement a new system that still respects peoples work and their creativity.

Another area of exploration that opens up to man is to be able to go inside the human body. We don't always have to travel into outer space. We can go inside the body, which is a universe unto itself. It's not only the micro inside the macro, but we can discover the emotions that create illnesses such as cancer and then find a remedy for it ourselves. My understanding was that, the remedy is not like a "medicine," but rather a self-discovery of what we have done to our body through our emotions, as we say, "unconsciously." And the remedy would be like an enlightenment, where we become aware of our true feelings and then from that we can change ourselves.

Mr. Keshe clarified more the difference between having a dream and the dimension (D) of transmutation. When we travel with the Soul in dream and visually see things, it's because our eyes are closed and the fields are coming through the front of the head. He had discussed this in previous workshops and said, that the reason we visually see things in our dreams is because the physical visual apparatus, namely the eyes are in the front of the head and the incoming fields put it into operation and we see images. A KS said she saw the face of a Chinese woman in a Friday session. So he explained that in transmutation your eyes are usually open and you will see images because the fields are passing over the front of the head. But pay attention carefully, do you see the background or just the image of the face? In other words it is like dreaming with our eyes open. Because if the Chinese woman would have physically been in the room, we would still see the background of the room. And because we don't see the background it's a Soul image. This is very interesting how we have to pay attention to the details of what we are experiencing and learn to distinguish between physical images and Soul images. He also said, that this shows that the KS was in the state of transmutation. He said, in the future he will teach us how to physically manifest ourselves in this state. So my understanding is that the Chinese woman could have also manifested herself physically in the room, then I believe the KS would also see the background of the room. Keep in mind that these states are reality, they are not made up by the mind, they are made up by the fields. The question is, if an ordinary person were in the room along with the KS, would they be able to see the Chinese woman if she manifested P, or only the KS who was in the D of transmutation? Step by step he is teaching us how to live in both dimensions. In the same way when we transmute to go shopping, we only bring back the energy essence of a bag of sugar for example, and manifest it in our kitchen. I guess that means we will still be able to enjoy the physical sensation, emotion, and energy of eating sugar, but we won't have to kill the sugar cane to get it.

Right after this came a question about how to understand and work with the emotions of the STP and STM. When I was listening to this talk over and over something clicked inside, but it is too subtle to understand with the physical mind. The framework is that we need two plasmas or two Souls to interact to create an emotion, and that this interaction, actually is the emotion. This is where something "clicked." That the interaction itself is the emotion. So for us, in our brain the STM and STP interact to create an emotion. To clap we need two hands, the intensity and the way we clap expresses the emotions of the STM with the STP. The clap may be to show appreciation or to frighten a dog away. It helps if we actually clap our hands together while imagining one is the STM and the other the STP, and then think about what do we want to express? This makes the experience very intimate and can open the door into what emotions are. Then we can try to imagine how we ourselves create an emotion. Think about what actually happens when we become sad for example. Let's use sadness because it's a deep energy that brings one inside. If I rub the STM & STP together what is that sadness it produces? How does it do it? Can I try to see or understand the fields that are being produced? How is it that the sadness goes from the thoughts to an emotion and then we feel it? I am sorry I don't have an answer yet, but it feels good to go in this direction and try to open up more knowledge. The understanding of the fields is a good addition to the practice of becoming aware of our emotions. I have been practicing becoming aware of emotions for many years. The best time is when the emotion is "hot" and active, and try to let it into the heart and look at it. And sometimes we can ask "who is feeling this emotion?" The biggest part is not to cover up the pain with thoughts and distractions, but go deep into the pain or whatever. It takes courage and diligence, but it also changes our lives. I found it important not to drown oneself in negativity. It's good to start out with love and knowing that we are the Soul, and then allow the emotion to come in for as long as possible, and it's very important to end the session with love, if we can. There are many ways to do work on ourselves. Understanding our emotions and being able to work and control them is part of the work of transmutation.

Today Mr. Keshe gave a couple of examples of how things are not always the way we think they should be, or how they look to be in P. He told a story of how he misjudged a man who had been unpleasant to work with, and it turned out that he gave his whole heart to the work of the KF. Maybe it wasn't misjudgment, rather that Soul actually changed. In the second example, he talked about how when working with people on the Soul level we can feel exhausted afterwards, or we can feel really refreshed. It's not just energetically, but we should look at how our life changes afterwards. The point he was making was that the Soul and the fields work in their own way, and not the way P thinks or wants. The example was that you may think you gave a lot of energy to someone, but actually you received instead, but you didn't know or understand it. The Souls make the arrangements with each other to exchange fields. And sometimes a Soul cannot "empty" its cup so that it can be filled with new kinds of fields. Keep in mind that fields are not just any old field you can give to someone. The field strength has to match with the other being in order for them to receive, and they have to want to receive it. If someone has a strength they can't get rid of, and you happen to match that field strength and could use it, then your Soul will make arrangement for you to interact with that person. You receive the fields they don't need, and now because they made room for it, they can receive the fields they want to have to progress in their life. It's about understanding the nature and work of the fields and not simplified concepts in the D of physicality. And the exchange of fields can happen across the U, time and space are not a limitation.

He gave a very beautiful and wise teaching about how to raise children in today's world so that they develop independent thinking and understanding of the Ethos of Mitra. The point was not just giving them a budget so they could teach themselves how to handle money. It was about getting them to directly experience how life works, and how if you want something then you have to give something for it. Many children learn today that if they beg and cry loud enough, then their parents will give them what they want. Mr. Keshe taught his children the opposite way. First he recognized them as living beings and respected and loved them as such. Then he helped them discover what "karma" really means, that each of us are responsible for how we use our mind, and how we behave in society, and as one master said, "there are no free lunches." You always pay in one way or another through the balancing of the fields. If we understand that right from the beginning in life, it can become much easier to navigate. Then we don't waste years of our life blaming other people for our problems, or expecting others to solve them for us. It was a touching end of the story when his son found money in the store and was looking for the owner to give it back. He knew inside that it did not belong to him and he could feel the pain of the one who lost it. This is how the Children of Mitra will be.

He explained more about how the scriptures of religions are more like "old wives tales." And how powerful people can change scriptures to suit themselves and as soon as people start repeating a lie, it becomes a "fact" for them. Then he explained what he meant by "Chinese Whisper." It's when you pass a story on to another person from memory and it totally gets changed into something else after passing through many people. He has gone over many examples of how the Holy Books got changed and so forth, you can read the teachings of the past several weeks. Also remember, that historically the Christian Bible died out in Europe during the Middle Ages. It was the Irish monks who kept a version of it and they started to copy it again. Who knows what was added or taken out at that point. A few years ago National Geographic did an article of how different versions of the Bible were made for different people. One version was made for African slaves, one for Native American, etc. This by itself enlightens us a lot. The only problem is the White Man thinks he got the original version. And this really is the problem.

Now with the new T we can use transmutation to find the Soul of the Prophets of different religions and ask them if what was written was true or not. But even better is if we can reach the Soul of Knowledge and be enlightened with the Knowledge of Creation, that these books say they want to teach. This is the beauty of the times we are entering.

Other Topics:

The old Jewish Pagan god Jehovah was loving kebab's so much that he put a recipe in the Torah how to make it the way he likes it. This is not a joke, but shows how the things really are. Then they said this god is the Creator of everything. People don't understand what the implications of this are.

Technology is being released on the strength of peace, so they can't abuse it.

Thanks for listening.
