

Creation of Soul Non-dimensional - Not Crazy - Neutron Decay - New Emotions - Eye for an Eye Introduction to 523 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

One of the main themes of this workshop is how man's knowledge has reached the point that we can make Souls, and the new Non-dimensional system that was created for the London conference on Armistice Day 2023 has a Soul. Just like humans were first created in physicality (P) and then the Soul was created, so too these reactors first start out as matter state reactors to create the M fields. Then when all the matter state framework is removed and there is only empty space remaining, we find out that the fields continue to interact and show themselves as alive. It is my understanding that Mr. Keshe made another special reactor intended to bring the change to the planet, because he said, 2 weeks ago we switched on a reactor that will bring change, and that it is too late to stop it, and the fields are already spreading across the Earth. And that a human built the reactor, not Mr. Keshe, he only provided the knowledge. This way we won't think it is magic. They are transferring the knowledge in a short and shocking way, so they don't have to be here for thousands of more years.

The feeling is that this new system is the one that is going to fulfill the promises of the past. Why? Because this is the first time that I can recall that a system is so strong right from the birth and has the direct connection to the Creation and Creator. This is why he keeps repeating that the KS could feel it, that it made the hair on their arms rise, the same way your hair rises if you really love your lover and touch them, or are in their presence. I don't think many can say that, but we can imagine it. Now this Field has that same power of love even though there is nothing there to see. He implied that the KS who built the system is the "father," and that he is feeling the emotion of his child. The system is his child, and it is responding to him with love. Now we have to learn how to interact with the system through our emotions. Since we'll be standing in front of "empty" space. He has been training us for the last year, by having us sit for hours listening to "nothing," or Silence, or Presence. And this is why the families may start to think we are all a little crazy. Maybe now that the new system is so powerful, all we have to do is to have our family members put the Headphones on and they will experience it. However, we all know that they have to want it, otherwise it will be the same struggle of resisting change and truth.

Maybe you felt the strong energy in Mr. Keshe's voice today and the power in the teachings given. He said they put a fish in front of the reactor and have been observing how it has changed over the past couple of days. The amazing advancement is that the fish can move up and down without using its fins. Most probably it is using its thoughts. This means the fish is using transmutation to move around the aquarium and they think he is being fed by the fields, but they need to wait and see. I am sure there are many other things going on that he has not told us about. The important thing for us is that if this fish can transmute using the fields of the system as a help, so can we. We have made a huge step closer to our own transmutation.

I was wondering about the fish being able to so easily transmute. It's like some years ago Mr. Keshe said one day his dog was outside the window, and suddenly appeared inside next to him. He transmuted and Mr. Keshe would have most probably provided the fields for the dog to do it so easily. Is it that the animals don't have the same complicated thought process of the STP like we humans do with our fears, doubts and low self-esteem? Well, we know that the Controllers intentionally programmed us with the low self-esteem, and the fears and doubts come from not knowing about our Soul. The Messengers are giving us so much help, but we still have to find that love within ourselves to make the next steps. This is where the monthly sessions are going to come in to help humanity evolve, just like one human was able to make this Non-dimensional system with the help of Mr. Keshe. As the first humans start transmuting in the session, this will open up all of our Souls to follow.

There is a very important 10 minute teaching on Nuclear Decay and how it relates to transmutation. First of all, our scientists only look at the physicality of it and they say an atom turns into a different atom, because the numbers of neutrons and protons in the nucleus have changed. The time it takes for this to happen they call the "half-life." This is very limited and there is no understanding of the essence of what is actually happening. Today Mr. Keshe 'cracked' this door open a little. Whether or not something decays depends on whether it can remain in balance, which in turn means, whether or not it can receive energy from its environment to remain in balance. The ability to absorb energy from its environment is the key here. Atoms can have a millisecond half-life or a million years. The ones that can live for a million years is because they have learned to create a "seed" within themselves to attract energy from outside. Isn't this the same as what we do when we eat food? By learning to absorb energy, they have learned how to live forever. The atoms that can only live for a millisecond, is because they have not learned how to absorb energy from their environment.

This is a fundamental knowledge he uses a lot in space T. He also said, he used this in Fukushima with the Gans's. Through the Gans's he was able to in a way, feed the nucleus of the plutonium and uranium so that they came back into balance and didn't have to decay, or release nuclear radiation. As long as they remain in balance they will not "leak" out radiation, and their fields will remain stable inside. What is interesting to ponder is, did the Gans's act like a seed to attract energies from the U? We know that somehow Deuterium Gans was used and the Gans or fields of White Gold remained, and the Japanese officials somehow learned how to turn that into the matter state gold. This is another example of the beauty of plasma science and how simple it is. We don't have to get confused and lost in "complicated mathematical formulas" that more or less confuse the issue, and leave everybody in ignorance.

The other part of the question raised by a KS was that Mr. Keshe said, at death when we transmute with our Soul to the new destination, we can't come back to Earth. So for example if we thought of ourselves as an electron at the time of decay, or death, then we would lose our link to the neutron or "Mother." For us the Mother is Earth, where our Soul was created. He answered that we never lose that linkage, we are always connected, because our Soul was created on Earth. And that all the Souls have a fingerprint on them of where they are from. It's like an address, other Souls can see what planet, solar system, galaxy, and U we come from. And when we meet other Souls we have the same knowledge available to us about them. It's like the GPS on Earth, but on Earth this T is not perfect and can send us to the wrong address. The Soul's GPS is always perfect. I don't think Mr. Keshe meant that absolutely we cannot ever come back to Earth. Rather he said, it depends on the field strength we have gathered by our behavior in P on Earth. Maybe it is just highly unlikely because of the way the fields behave and they don't match anymore to come back to Earth again.

One of the points that Mr. Keshe was stressing, was that the purpose of the plasma dividing was not to create other elements, but to maintain the energy balance of the fields by creating a larger environment and thereby having a greater spectrum of fields to draw from. So when a neutron divides into a proton and electron for example, the two together now create a larger environment and have a greater spectrum of fields to attract.

How is this related to transmutation? The first thing I think about is what Mr. Keshe continually reminds us, pay attention to the fields. It's all about field interactions. We can think of our body like an atom, if we cannot receive enough energy from the U, then the energy of our body will start dividing, so that it can maintain its balance. Maybe this is like when certain functions in the body start shutting down. Of course, the doctors then give different names to diseases, but those have nothing to do with the reality of what is happening with the energy in our body. Isn't this what the organs do, they maintain the energy balance in the body by getting rid of excess energy, and storing and converting energy. And then the STP through the emotions and thoughts cause us to grab different plasma sources from other living entities and we take their energy to maintain our own balance. We can take this analogy into a lot of different scenarios. It is a good exercise for learning about plasma.

In a quiet way he slipped in something for us to think about. In the labs he is teaching the KS how to bring a Soul inside another Soul and move it around and do certain things and watch what fields it creates and how they interact. And then they can take the Soul out. Just switch the word Soul for plasma and then it sounds more scientific. This is related to the fact, that they can now create a Soul in KF laboratories. And in fact, our own Soul through its interaction is creating Souls that we don't know about, and maintaining other Souls by feeding them with our own energies. K Seekers have complained to him that they don't like him to use the word Soul. But the way KF uses the word Soul, has nothing to do how the religions have used the word to abuse the man. It's for us to mature and get over that limitation in narrow mindedness. The Soul means the Central Energy of the body, and we have to have a way to speak about it. We already have a similar word we call, "Soul" we can use that, and then teach the people to expand its meaning.

With the new Non-dimensional systems we will experience emotions that we have never experienced before so we won't know how to describe them. Therefore, he has asked that people who participate in the monthly flight sessions to get together and discuss their experiences and then try to develop new words and vocabulary for expressing their feelings. He mentioned that we would experience the "emotion of arrival." I wonder what that means. Because if we think about going to a new country for the first time, when the plane touches down on the runway I have had the experience of like I was coming home, even though I had never been to China before, and really didn't know much about the country. Or is it like the excitement of going to a new place? We won't know until enough KS experience it and are willing to discuss it with others for the advancement of humanity. He mentioned also an emotion of movement. These are more things to ponder, but we still haven't learned much about what emotions we do have or how to control them. Maybe the new systems will help us in that. He said, we could also use the system to help get over the Fibromyalgia due to abuse. Would this mean being able to deeply touch the hidden feelings and pain and gain the full understanding of our life? At the same time he has mentioned that there are no shortcuts. So basically, we still have to find the love within ourselves to want to be free from pain and suffering, and the systems are here to help us experience what we may not even know is possible in our lives. Once we have a definite experience of the root cause of our problems, then we can steadily work towards balancing the fields. This is the beauty of the time we are entering and the unbelievable opportunity we have been given through the love of Mitra for the Earth, to heal this nursery of Soul, that we can spread the love throughout the U.

He gave us another hint about understanding our emotions. He used the example of deciding to commit a crime like murder. And that the STM and STP decide and then manifest it, in the same way we decide to become an animal, a stone, or a plant. It's maybe not a nice thing to think about, but what happens if we would decide to commit a crime? Actually they have made movies about this. First there is some kind of emotion like jealousy, anger, and maybe it increases to hatred. But it becomes a very strong emotion, and then I would imagine the mind gets involved with ruminating thoughts about how to take revenge, or to get back what one feels they have lost. It would then continue to build up until one is willing to risk their own life, or a lifetime in jail to get what they want. And in their own world they would feel totally justified and focused in what they are planning to do. This kind of emotion has a great power to fulfill itself, even though it will end up in its own destruction. If we can understand the process and then turn it to love and service we would be able to focus our thoughts and emotions to be able to transmute. In a way, this is what the Yogis do, they focus their mind and emotion on a mantra and continue year after year until they achieve it. And now with the new Non-dimensional systems we'll be able to interact with the fields of that plasma, which is directly connected to the Creator to achieve the transmutation and enlightenment.

The people in charge of the religions ended up changing the true meaning of "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth," into being able to take revenge on someone who does something wrong to you. In a way, they used it to justify war and eternal family feuds between groups. They said it meant if you take my eye I can take yours. But the true meaning is if you take my eye, then you have to become my eyes for the rest of my life. You have to serve me. If we kill a man then we have to take care of his family. This is too heavy of a burden and nobody would commit a crime. So they changed it, because those who were the leaders benefited by war and killing. It's very interesting to think about it this way. It requires us to understand the essence of the scriptures and not the physical words. He talked more about the falseness of the religions and why they have to come to an end for there to be peace on Earth.

Other Topics:

We'll be able to locate the Soul after death. The Soul will be the same, but the P will be according to the environment it is living in. This will be very strange for us to get used to, because we are heavily identified and attached to our physical shape;

The Cosmic Rays and Fields of the U have no dimension of life but they still need to be respected (because they can begin life ??);

We are not going crazy, instead we are accessing a bigger knowledge;

The U is a lonely place of Souls, so we want to take as many Souls with us as we can. The whole point is to share our love and emotions with each other. But this is in a healthy balanced way. Not the way it is done on Earth through ignorance and lust;

Satellite Souls will help other Souls with energy to transmute. They may feel a Soul passing by and want to give more energy to them.

Thanks for listening.
