

Can't Trust Eyes in Space - M Field Strength Vision - Sanya Success - Coke Bottle - No Federation - 3 years Introduction to 530 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

The Sanya conference was an amazing success and Mr. Keshe said it was one of the best conferences KF ever held. And he made a comparison that, what in the past was done over a 12 week training session, was done this time in 4 days and it was quite exhausting, which we could hear in his voice today. Yet he never tires to show us the true meaning of self-less service, as he again shared huge amounts of knowledge today. It's for us to unravel it and follow it into the depths of reality.

The main teaching of today was that, what we see through our eyes is what we think is the entire universe (U), but it only makes up a fraction of what is really there. The so-called empty space right now in front of our face is filled with beings and life that exists at a different M field strength. And if we were able to switch to another M field strength, then we would be sitting in the middle of a traffic jam of entities. How does this work? The amino acid (AA) or "Mr. COHN" has set the field strength for what our eyes can observe and whatever matches that same strength in the environment, that is what we'll be able to see. Even while on this planet if we find a way to change for example, the N in the COHN to say Ca, then we would see different things than what we see now. When we travel in Space our COHN will definitely change from what it is on Earth, and we'll see totally different things. And when we travel in Space we chose a particular M field strength to travel on and that will determine our speed of travel and also what we will be able to see along the way. And this is what we have to prepare ourselves for as we are getting closer and closer to being able to transmute.

Another example of this are the beings living above us in the upper atmosphere that NASA accidentally discovered some years ago. For centuries since the time Galileo invented the telescope we never recognized them or knew they existed. They are highly intelligent beings that look like cloud formations way up in the sky, only they move in coordinated ways and are able to reproduce. The reason we can see them is because they match the AA field strength of our vision.

To help us better understand this Mr. Keshe drew the spiral he usually does to show a plasma. But this time he drew green, red, and black lines to represent different M field strengths, and then he drew an eye for each of the colors. The green eye can only see the green line representing the plasma at that particular field strength. The green eye cannot see the red or black lines, only the matching green line. Likewise, we can only see things in this U that match the strength of our AA for the eye. It's like tuning into the different frequencies on a radio, only frequency is for a matter state vibration of energy. Whereas field strength of the plasma is different. In my understanding a field strength would be the power that creates an entire dimension (D). Would the source of this strength be the Creator? And then each unique strength would create an entire D of beings and created things that are connected to each other, but are separated from other field strengths. The implications of what he has opened up for us are vast and beyond anything we imagined could exist. I wonder if this sudden release of knowledge is related to the success of the Sanya conference.

At the beginning he said the Cosmic Rays (CR) divide themselves into these different strengths or dimensions. And some months ago he taught us how the Creator divides Himself into Creation, and after trillions of divisions the Earth was created on one of these lineages. The lineages basically look like a family tree. In this case the Creator would be the original Father. Mr. Keshe didn't tell us at that time, but I am thinking that these lineage must all have the same field strength because they come from a root AA, therefore we can see all of them, because we have a matching strength. Is this what we see in the night sky as our Universe? And the other lineages we can't see because we don't match their field strength. Then the next question is what determines what the next unique field strength is? These field strengths are based on how our eye converts it into our vision and therefore it is limited. The Soul vision is something different.

Another important thing for us to understand is that we will not be able to trust our eyes when we travel in Space. But I think that goes for on Earth as well. Because today's teaching implies that the Earth is filled with beings we are not yet aware of. Or he used the words, 'we decided to ignore them.' This makes me wonder about what we call 'peripheral vision', when we see things on the edge of our visual field, but when we go to look at it, it's not there. Recently, I have had a lot of peripheral visions that sometimes startle me. I am certain somebody is there on the edge of my vision, but when I look nobody is there. But there is a kind of intensity in my feelings, maybe that's what I am calling, being startled. It's not a bad thing, but it makes me wonder if there are beings that want to make contact, but I am not able to enter their dimension. Other KS have said they have also had these peripheral visions. Maybe at the edge of our physical vision there is an opening into other dimensions. And these occur usually as just a flash.

So what are we going to do about seeing in the U? We'll 'see' through our Soul. Which means we'll feel through our emotions and confirm our existence that way, and not by saying, 'I only believe what I see.' Before we reach the maturity of our Soul, he said, they will develop 'Space Glasses,' which will allow us to switch to other M field strengths to observe other beings in other dimensions that may be standing next to us. I imagine it will be like changing channels on the television, only we'll do it with our emotions. And there is the possibility to develop systems that would allow us to see a whole spectrum of field strengths and not just a single mono-energetic strength like we do now.

Once Mr. Keshe said, that just by looking at a star connects us to it and then we can travel on that field to go to it. This teaching is a further elaboration of how we will travel the spans of the U. But we have to be able to see it, to be able to connect to its M field strength. So what we see in the sky is the 'channel' of the M field strength of our U, and right now it is limited to the matter state of our eyes. Then if we start being able to access other 'channels,' these possibilities and choices of travel will go beyond infinity. How many channels can there be? And how many Creators can there be? When I think about this, then the meaning of infinity is beyond what I can imagine. This is another reason why it is so important to act properly in our physical dimension, because this will determine how much energy we can accumulate to be able to play in the vastness of Creation.

An old video of the 'Coke bottle' with Nano spiral parachutes was shown briefly. At that time it was called the 'empty box of the U,' because there was nothing visible inside it except the Nano materials and yet it produced different DC voltages. We thought it was about getting the 'free energy' and today Mr. Keshe explained the purpose was something very different. All the parachutes were purposely positioned at different heights from the bottom of the bottle and this was to show, that based on position they were receiving different energies of the U. In relation to people, this is why taller people have different intelligence than shorter people, because they are receiving different energies. We are not saying it is good or bad, rather it's based on the conditions manifesting themselves in physicality (P). People with certain heights also have certain behaviors because of the energies they receive, but they also receive certain energies through the color of the skin and hair. With this knowledge there is a lot more to consider when we analyze our lives and what influences our behavior. It also doesn't mean that people who receive certain energies are automatically going to behave that way. There are other things to consider, like the main one, which is the relationship with the Soul and how we choose to live our lives.

Other things came out of the Coke bottle experiment. For example, if we could understand what is really happening in this bottle we could answer a lot of other questions we have, mainly how fields are created. What I think about is that we have Universal Fields coming in at certain heights, and then they interact with the Nano spirals. Every turn of the spiral interacts with the next turn and so forth, and all of these together create a huge amount of interactions. And these interactions then lead to creation of plasmas, and the proof of this is the DC that is picked up from the probes. The voltmeter showed some probes are plus and others minus, which means some are receiving energy or G, and others are giving energy or M. If we learn how to control the interactions between the parachutes we could generate AC or matter state electricity. But because none of the KS wanted to understand, so Mr. Keshe kept quiet. This is another example of how we are the main ones responsible for what we learn. If only we realized that, a huge resource is sitting right in front of us waiting to help us. Namely, Mr. Keshe, but he cannot force us to want to learn.

In the Sanya conference they used a Star Formation and other interactions to create a field environment in an area 10 meters by 10 meters he called the 'Plasma Room.' He said, in that space he created the conditions of a spaceship. People went into the PR in groups of 10 and many fell sleep as they found peace. Others tried to elevate their Soul and it is possible that one person transmuted, but it wasn't confirmed. They created gold and 'unique' materials from the fields of the system. Elite academicians, members of the Military and others were in attendance and they experienced enough to understand that the change is coming. And even the ones who said they didn't experience anything, later discovered that their lives changed. There was a lot happening. Technologies were shown to certain people who needed to see them to help bring the change. He said, it was the first time they used 'pre-transmutation' systems. And there were things going on that he cannot talk about. Overall, it sounds like it was truly an amazing conference, and today's teaching is maybe a continuation of the process that got started in Sanya.

KF Brazil held their normal group Intentions during the same time that the conference in Sanya was going on to support the change. When asked if they felt the support given by the Brazilian Intention Mr. Keshe said, you have to ask those who were in the conference. Usually he doesn't answer these kind of questions directly. Instead he put it as a question. Did your support bring an elevation of the Souls in Sanya, so that they started at a higher strength to understand more? The implications are very nice. But hopefully we were doing the intention out of love and not trying to get something. Just to inform you, there was daily attendance of around 70 KS and after the official intention ended about half of the people stayed most of the night, and by the time the conference day ended in China, which was about 7 AM in Brazil, there were still between 20 to 30 remaining. This went on for all of the 4 days. It was an amazing feeling of devotion to what KF stands for. And we had 2 people connected to the Universal Council who were in Sanya join our intention one or two times during their break time in Sanya. One said she could feel our presence in the conference very strongly, and when she was in the system and sending us unconditional love, the power was so strong it almost knocked her off her chair. It was a great privilege to be part of the support for the Sanya Conference. Finally, Mr. Keshe said, I am sure your prayers and support ?? are maybe part of the reason why the conference was so successful.

A KS asked if KF would try to form a world federation of nations politically, as Bahá'u'lláh said, that was the only way to bring world peace. Mr. Keshe's response was to teach us the true meaning of things. And that with the implementation of the plasma technology, all of us will become self-sufficient in food, medicine, energy and be able to travel the U. Nobody will be able to control anybody else for their own purposes and we'll each serve the others in ways that are joyful to us. And that we won't be forced to live like a circus dog that runs around the circus ring to get his lump of sugar. That sugar for us are wages, which are just enough to survive until we are forced to run around the circus again, on the orders of our masters. This will all end and the new life of living true to our Soul will begin.

Even though Mr. Keshe himself was connected to the Bahá'í Faith when he was young, he said many of the teachings of the Bahá'í Faith and Bahá'u'lláh are wrong. In his writings Bahá'u'lláh favored kingship which means one person is made more important than another. And this is fundamentally wrong. The fundamental principle should be that all beings are equal in their essence. This includes humans, animals and what we call, aliens, and all the creatures of God in the U. This is one of the reasons why after about 150 years these teachings have not succeeded in bringing change and peace to the world. Respect and honor is a different thing than leadership and kingship.

On this same note. He saw Knowledge Seekers in the Plasma Room hanging on the system and worshipping it as a god or something. This is again the wrong way humanity wants to go. KF is not about creating a new temple or a belief system, or something to worship outside ourselves. It's about recognizing the STM we have inside us, that created us out of the fields of the Creator due to the conditions of this planet. He said, we should look at the power of the Soul and how it has created these intricate organs to function together as our body. Everything is coordinated and controlled by the Soul. If we want to worship something we should worship our own Soul. This does not mean worshipping ourselves as an ego. That is something totally different and is what the man is doing now without knowing it. But we have to come to this understanding through our own experience, and we can't rely on someone else to do it for us. We can accept advice from a trusted source and then test it through our life.

It's like reading books. The libraries are filled with all those dead concepts from somebody else. When someone experiences something they write it down in a book and we copy it without truly understanding it. Now the time has changed and it is up to us to bring those ideas into our life and test them and if they prove to be True, then they become a living part of our experience now, and not something copied from the past. The knowledge becomes alive.

It's not as simple as that. If we study things and only allow our immature ego to interpret what we have learned, then we create other problems. So the guiding force behind our life should be following the Ethos of Mitra, to think, speak, and act good. And if we are truly following the correct path, then eventually our life comes into balance and we find our joy in serving others. Then we discover what is the 'True Love' of the Soul. It is very possible that this happened to a lot of KS during the Sanya conference and this is what is carrying us into the next step, which this workshop is part of.

Other Topics:

The governments have 3 years to start bringing World Peace. If they do not do it by March 21, 2027, then new technologies will be released to the people that will free us from the control through food, energy, and medicine. And we'll be allowed to travel the U.

The next conference in Isfahan will be like a magic show of new space T. But don't be looking for a UFO, that is alien technology, which is much lower.

Thanks for listening.
