

Prepare for Transmutation - Spherical Graph 'Ready' - Safety in Creation - Reincarnation Introduction to 538 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

This workshop is primarily a preparation for those participating in tomorrow's Monthly Flight Session, but really it is for all of us as we are on the verge of full physical Transmutation. As I was listening to it over and over I realized it was not just the words, Mr. Keshe was transmitting Energy/Knowledge in the silent spaces for us to absorb the idea of transmuting, and what that means to each of us individually. Part of the preparation is to be able to imagine what it will be like to transmute as a reality, and what effect that will have on us and how it will change us.

First he briefly went over how we are created starting with the 'Rays of the Creator' that interact to make the universes, galaxies, solar systems, Earth, and then the Soul of the Man (STM), that's us. We are really part of the whole of Creation. And those Rays interact to create the daylight and when we understand that everything is made out of the interaction of the fields, then we'll understand how Creation works. He advised us to remain open when we are learning new things and not develop prejudices about what we are learning. This is what stops us from going further. This is very typical when our eyes get opened to something new that we didn't know before, then we think that little bit of knowledge is everything, and we start telling other people about what we know, and we unknowingly put it in a fixed or 'concrete' way. If we can stay open and remain humble as we advance in our understanding then we can go further much faster.

He slipped in a teaching about how the interactions of Cosmic Rays (CR) lead to crystallization, but this is not the crystals or diamonds we think about though I am sure they are related to them. He spoke about Gans crystals as having no dimension. I am assuming that means no physical dimension (D) and therefore we can't see them, but they must have a D of energy because they have a heartbeat. He said there was only a slight difference between matter state crystals and crystals of a life form. What does it mean that a Gans crystal has a heartbeat as well as the Soul of a stone and that we need to be able to work with them? The only heartbeat we know of is the kind that pumps blood in a rhythmic motion. The heart gives and receives blood, and thus allows the exchange of energies and life to exist. So would the heartbeat of the Soul be how it gives and receives, or how its M and G fields interact to exchange energies with our environment and thus live eternally? It seems we don't have enough information and knowledge about what crystals really are to be able to fit them into this.

After this he started explaining about the 3 phases of existence on this planet. There is the matter state energy which is most likely stones and matter objects that don't move on their own, then vegetation, and life forms like animals. And that all of these have heartbeats and through their interactions, it somehow leads to the creation of a sphere. It's up to us to find a way to 'connect the dots' together. Somehow this information is connected with why the Graph became spherical and why all the celestial bodies like stars and the plasma are spherical. Maybe it has to do with the field pressure of 3 plasmas being inside sphere and rotating? In the body we have 3 conditions of matter state like the bones, and the vegetation part is the food we put in our stomach, and the animal part is like the cells, and they all have Souls. And on the plasma level we have the STM, STP, and P and when the STM expands over the STP and P it forms a new plasma, which shows up on the Graph through the lines becoming spherical shaped. This means the Soul has taken over control of the P and it is ready to convert it back to energy, and thus he said, when we see a spherical shaped graph it means the Knowledge Seekers (KS) are ready to transmute.

Then right after the spherical graph there was a sharp peak which collapsed the sphere and the yellow line representing the P was on top and the green line of the STM on the bottom. This meant the KS got scared and went back to where they feel safe in their attachment to the physical body. This keeps getting repeated over and over again. Therefore, he decided to test the couple that will be the first to physically transmute to the Moon separately. This is the level of development the humans have reached in regards to Transmutation. One of the main problems is the fear which also comes out of attachment and identification with the physical body. This is what KS have to try to work more deeply on. First he has to get us to recognize that we have that fear, then we can decide to start working on it. If our intention is to help humanity progress then we'll find the desire and strength to understand more about ourselves. At the same time there is a subtle feeling inside of whether or not we feel worthy to be able to do such a thing as transmute. This is an equally difficult task to overcome because society and especially orthodox religions have programmed us with low self-esteem, as a way to keep the control in the hands of the leaders. It may be confusing to people unless you study human behavior more closely. But people who appear egoistic actually suffer from low self-esteem inside. I don't think this is about using positive affirmations, and telling ourselves with superficial thoughts that we are worthy. Rather it's about educating ourselves in the Knowledge of Creation and understanding how we are created in reality, and not listening to someone's fantasy about it. If we understand that we are made out of the fields of the Creator and are part of the Creation there is a huge relief and a feeling of self-love that arises and wanting to share that with others. If this is done properly it can alleviate the fears and feelings of unworthiness. Another way not to be afraid is to know that at any time we can bring ourselves back to physicality. In a way we learn to trust in a 'higher order' of existence and this will bring us the confidence to move ahead. He gave us a hint by saying, this is the 'mechanism for Transmutation.' In a way, we are letting go of the control by the P and surrendering to our own Soul. There is a huge Knowledge in this.

What does it mean when he says, we find our safety in the matter state of existence? I am sure we have all experienced this at one time or another. When we experience something new that is a little bit too energetic, or too freeing, or the conditions in our physical world get shaken up we look for a way to get out of those feelings. If it's a spiritual experience then we say, 'oh, now I can feel my body I am safe again.' Or we get back to our house and feel the safety of being at home. For Transmutation it's important that we understand all of this and begin to work at loosening the attachments. But then how will we handle uncomfortable situations? He gave us the perfect solution and that is to think of ourselves as belonging to the 'Soul of Creation' instead of the physical body. First we have to become aware that such a condition exists and then we have to develop love for it. If we think about it, the Soul of Creation is a universal condition, and in it we love everybody equally as ourselves. We are all one. But it's a deep feeling that has Truth with it and then comes the feeling of peace and that everything is okay the way it is. If we can develop this sense we will have found the true security in life or existence, and not the illusive one that wealth, family, and intellectual knowledge gives us. Another name for Transmutation is Enlightenment, and then we become part of the Universal Community, and maybe this is what the concepts of Heaven and the Angels are referring to.

If you remember last week Mr. Keshe said that transmuting the Gans plasma condition of our body is different than transmuting the matter objects we carry like our clothes and the coins in our pockets. In other words, it might be easier to transmute a physical body that didn't have matter state attached to it, or should we say naked. But that would be uncomfortable for people to accept, but it might make the development of Transmutation easier in the beginning. We should be aware that it might happen that we end up transmuted on the other side without clothes anyway. But the wonderful thing is that we'll get a new body that is perfect, and all the diseases will be gone. It sounds like being 'born again' but in a true way.

In a way, it feels good to hear that we cannot fail, and that we have no choice, because the history of man has already been written and we are just players in the game. Somebody is watching, and Mr. Keshe must be one of those who do both, watch and play. Nevertheless, we still work hard and do what we have in front of us, and one day the energy on the planet is going to shift. When that happens we'll already be part of it because we have been doing the work, and we'll be able to help make the transition easier for the others. And before he said that the technology should not be in the public yet, because we first have to elevate more Souls so that when the shift comes the technology will be a tool for peace. Right now the governments only want to use it to gain power over the others. And we can't have that. This time it will be a true change that will be irreversible. Because then the Children of the Soul will start to be born on the planet. And those of us leftover from the past will use the technology to improve our lives. And hopefully, those of us who work hard now to bring the change will be able to live in the both the Soul and P at the time of the change.

KF solved the situation with cataracts a while ago but they shelved it. Some years ago KS did trials with ski goggles from KF and then through their feedback they were able to develop systems. He said, that as we age the cells in the eyes get dementia and this develops into cataracts. When the new Vision Enhancement Units get marketed by the KF partners they will be used together with the Transmutation Units. A lot of things are happening in the background that cannot be told to the public, otherwise as what usually happens certain groups 'hone in' on the work to try to stop it. This brings up a disturbing trend that has happened with scientists and doctors. Mr. Keshe said, he recently attended a meeting with doctors where he showed them the results of tests proving the validity of the technology (T). So in the past they always denied that the T was real and would say that we have to prove it to them. The new development is that they don't want to talk about the T and this is very disturbing. Because before there was a kind of innocence of ignorance and that some part of them wanted to understand the reality. Now it's a total denial of the truth and a hostility for it to come out. Their character has become very low, because it means that they would rather that people suffer and die, then to get help with the new T, only so they can keep their position and wealth as experts of an outdated science. This is something horrible and we have to elevate their Souls. This means we have now advanced to the point that the Plasma Science is like a mirror reflecting back the true understanding of Creation and this will bring the change. But we also need to develop a love for the T so that we ourselves are not afraid of the coming change, and can work to bring it about faster.

Part of the teaching on Leukemia was taught before in how the micro or Nano channels in the spongy part of the bones make the bone marrow and the immune system such as T and B Cells, White and Red Blood Cells and the rest of it. These channels create different MG field environments and as the lymph flows through them, it leads to creation of the different components of the immune system. When there is malfunctioning in this process it effects the blood and this is what they call Leukemia. The head of the femur is the main area and these Nano channels work together with the Thalamus to create the blood components. Leukemia occurs a lot during nuclear accidents when the radiation released can change the channels in the spongy part of the bone heads.

Last week in the 537 KSW there was a subtle teaching clarifying more about what we consider to be reincarnation. He said, 'the way you go (from) one shell to another, you can go (from) one Soul to another, and add to that Soul, and by it, strengthen (its) position (so that the) next cycle of life it creates will have more intelligence and understanding.' The Hermit Crab goes from one shell to another and lives in it. If we read this carefully it says our Soul can add to another Soul, and doesn't have to create a new body. This opens up a whole new chapter in the Science of Souls. How does this take place? Mr. Keshe told us something like, twice he said no, to receiving his mission because he wasn't mature enough. On the third time he accepted. Is that when the 'Soul of the Creator' entered into him? Once he was asked about this and he said something like the Souls merged. This leads me to think that it's a copy of the 'Soul of the Creator,' and the original copy of the 'Soul of the Creator' for this planet gathers all the experiences and knowledge of the Souls that have been gathered from those we call Prophets. And each of these Prophets keep their individual amalgamated Soul, that also contains the copy of the Soul of the Creator. Because how are we going to deal with the Soul of Moses, and the genocide, lying, and killing? Part of our work to end the religions is to elevate the Soul of the Prophets. Does that Soul still contain the Soul of the Creator within it, or does it lose it when its physicality goes the wrong way? And the physicality of every Prophet had their problems. Then he said, that if we added our Soul to a 'Soul of a Sheppard,' but we didn't attain the Knowledge then it ended there. In other words, the Knowledge gained did not reach maturity and so it was lost. One has to start over again and try to reach completion. Then he said, that Messengers like them know how to add to another Soul, so that they gain more understanding. One question that comes is, then what happened with Moses, how come he didn't gain more understanding? Or is part of Mr. Keshe's life to correct the mistakes of the Prophets? There is a lot to think about, and a lot of knowledge we don't yet have. In summary, we don't reincarnate, instead our Soul adds to another Soul and continues its growth back to the Creator and to serve the Creation. The other part I can't quite figure out is, what happens to the STM that was created when this STP & P were created from my parents? Does it remain a separate entity? This requires a much higher order dimension of understanding to comprehend.

The main point of this workshop was for us to start thinking about transmutation in a real sense and how it will effect us. And if we start thinking about it on our own, then when we go into the system it will be less shocking, and we'll be able to come to terms with our fears and feelings of unworthiness. And to be aware that in a group when the Souls are connected, if one Soul starts to get afraid, the other Souls can pick it up and this stops the process of transmutation. It's something that first we become aware of and then we work to overcome it. This will open the next step towards full physical Transmutation.

Other Topics:

One STM can expand the entire Unicose. The way I understand how he can do that is he has to identify himself with the Creator, and that he is part of the Creator.

Thanks for listening.
