

553rd Knowledge Seekers Workshop August 29, 2024

(Quick Index 17pp, Introduction, Topic Index, Proofing done ; Need to do; Key Phrases, Words) (Auto transcription from Elias)

Direct line to Creator; Change Polarity Sun not effect Earth; Rotation of plasma opposite when next to each Sun opposite to Earth - STM opposite to Earth; Polarity change only individually; Heart Twins with STM; Heartbeat create powerful M fields; Distance from Heart to STM - effects behavior; May 2023 Sun's M fields direct link to Earth - huge download; Predict changes to DNA; Control speed of rotation of STM - transmutation; 10 minutes path to Creator; Nightmare - body changed shape; Become detached close to Creator; Test - rotate Gans - change hands; MaGravs to Flight Session; Where Creator wishes you to go - obligation; Ayatollah listened - stepped back from war - exchange T for peace; Wish is command; 2 New Twinity Gans products - Detachment for addictions - Stamina strengthen Soul to transmute; Change social structure - psychosomatic; Connect all products together; Different type of Gans; Far-Right winning in Europe - anti-Moslem - destroyed countries nowhere to go; KS go through physical changes - meaning of transmutation; Expand Soul in sleep - return change P; Understanding cancer cell - Blueprint Day; Soul has to be happy with change; Star Formation teaching; Teaching on Ca - why in every cell; Ca40 to Ca43 create gravitational - pull lymph into conversion; Chronic low back pain - Ca weakened in loins - strength through G fields - hold organs; Seed for cancer; Victimization syndrome - through M field EU not Gans; Change negative emotions - inner understanding; New emotions in Space; Constipation - fear - shape of toilet; Find emotional cause of disease; Solidification of plasma to matter; Twinity Gans will connect to EU System - create fields; New KF retail shops; Once connected to systems -always connected.

Topic Index

Create direct line to our Creator - elevate - pass the boundaries of Unicose; Establish a field with our Creator - connect to all thoughts and knowledge - U is a plasma of Creation; Changed by touch of single line of fields; Turn one other turns; Sun changes polarity every 11.5 years; Doesn't change Earth's polarity - too tiny - fields pass us; Earth has own schedule for switching polarity - thousands of years; Evidence in soil changes; Earth's polarity change doesn't effect man; M fields opened up and made direct line from Sun to Earth for few seconds - April 2023; Don't interact in any way directly with Sun; Sun Earth rotate - so does STM; Sun rotates opposite to Earth - so does Moon - so does STM; Have to follow law of physics - can't be any exceptions; Polarity change happens individually within its plasma; One other planet in our SS rotates opposite to Earth; Macro in micro in work of U; Apply same knowledge to body - why heart on left side - heartbeat jolt every few seconds - change of polarity; Heart Twins with STM's M field; If damage heart - Soul disappears - lost its Twinity center of control; Heartbeat not only for delivering blood - creates powerful M fields - see in heart attack or stroke; If emotion of STM gets interrupted in P of head - can damage heart; Understanding how psychosomatic controls/operates in body; Consider plasmatic structure of body - heartbeat - STM - direction of rotation - position of heart - World of Science of body totally changes; Measure how far apart central line of brain is from central line of heart - changes in position - will change shape and operation of brain; During stroke energy release very high - touches left side of brain - left side paralysis; Learn to release and control STM in Space; Change field transfer in brain - realigns heart; Man dies young - age 70 to 80 - because of position of heart; Not just for pumping blood - keeps alignment with brain, STM, P; People living longer and longer - position of heart in respect to central line of STM; Heartbeat slower uses less energy - live longer; After so many millions heartbeats - it stops; Connect directly to Creator at death - same direction of rotation as Creator - create this channel; Get rid of emotion - attachment - everything else; Then Rays of Creator have direct line to us; It's possible - it happened between Sun and Earth - M fields opened up direct connection for seconds; We didn't lose our atmosphere; Still observing for changes in Earth; Downloaded massive amount field energy - bring changes; See after 100 years what happened in April 2023; It's the same when we get rid of attachments to this atmosphere of "me and mine"; Built a facade around STM - direct connection to Creator; Due to massive solar eruption - pushed back M field of Earth; First time have scientific evidence of it; Like when a mother kisses her child - feel warmth of Soul of Sun; Would we recognize this point - when we lose this barrier - blood flow around brain stops - become connected to M field of Soul of planet; Would the energy propel STM out into Space - to find its place in U; Last year saw M fields through North Pole directly connected to Sun; Received immense amount of energy; Aurora moved down towards Equator; Heartbeat creates that pumping of second Soul - continuously holding STM attached to itself; Heart is like dangling pendulum; Brain and STM fixed position - so heart moves; When heart stops - Soul is free; Man rotates in same direction as Sun - but not as Soul of planet which attracts STM to itself like two magnets opposite in polarity - acts like a springboard - propels STM out into U to find its own place according to field strength gathered during lifetime; By Laws of Physics - rotation of M fields of STM he should have been attracted to his Creator - But instead gets ejected out into infinity of Space; New science about positioning structure of STM & P - can predict every little thing will happen - from DNA to the cell; Change M fields change RNA then DNA; Do this by controlling speed of rotation of STM - manifest anywhere through transmutation; Soul is like a chameleon - reacts to atmosphere around it - manifests through interaction of fields with environment - take a form; How you manifest depends on how you lived on Earth - good or bad; If you have given from your Soul, that you have not much left to interact with - (come closer to Creator); Listen to all little words in detail - last 10 minutes - find path to Creator - understand how to break M field around Soul; P created by field strength STM - womb dictates shape; When wake up on another planet - actually a nightmare - nobody can hear or understand you - P is different than it was on Earth; Mankind has to learn more to be ready to transmute; When Technology becomes public many people will raise fear amongst people - they know their own Souls not transmute - because of wrongs; They want to deter others from reaching maturity of their Soul; New systems to expand Soul - change to P, STP, and STM; Become detached from fields of Creation - see your future; What you're going to see - already decided; Connection of STM to Soul of planet - Solar System - Galaxy - sequential no one can change; We think we are in charge of ourselves; KS do test rotate Gans drink water - put on MaGrav and drink - what is difference; Then check difference between holding Gans in left or right hand; Report back what you find;

Use M field of Soul and heart to detect things; Bring MaGrav to next Monthly Flight session - remember which way coils twisted; Next step interact STM with STC; In September - force you to feel fields - change your P; Start new life around system; Less you carry - sooner you'll connect with Creator; Detachment - not getting rid of wealth - get rid of fields that you have created within yourself; Have to start learning process of M fields - be part of it - become Passengers of U; Last Saturday opened gate for STM to go out; Today's teaching about Space, time, and Sun - apply to transmutation - establish line of communication with your Creator; Wherever He wishes for you to go in U - will become obligation for the next generation of man; Listen to teaching 2 to 3 times over until you understand it fully.

Part 2

Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran heard request to withdraw from war; Instead use advanced T in exchange for peace - restart peace talks; Start of world peace through religions; Your wish is your command - energy to bring benefit to others; Hope KS and Universal Council understand power of wish of man on every level; Move forward and accept new T to create new life on planet; 2 more Twinity Gans products - Detachment; Change directions in social structure - social psychosomatic materials - affect people around us and society; Twinity Detachment for what you are attached to - addictions; You can put all the Twinity Gans together eventually in future; Bring changes psychologically, emotionally, physically in society; All products work on same basis; Detach from these behaviors - stop repetition - effect work of STM - need to change before going to Space; Space viruses worse than addictions; Learn how to handle within ourselves; Twinity Gans's will be complete package; Bring inner peace; Use in KF Field Replication Units; Change total structure of STM, STP, and P; Twinity Gans - Stamina - adds strength - strong in your Soul - elevate P; Strengthening Soul to become independent - Transmute - confidence to come back; Not any more a Gans of this or that - new structures change society - social psychosomatic problems; Bring into remote systems Cosmic Ray Bundles - Monthly Flight sessions; Make change in RNA and DNA - detach from many things; Certain positions of heart in relation to STM create specific behaviors - become social structure; Can't see when Soul is created - within structure of brain; Can be detected - use for birthrights; Heartbeat rotation; When STM created abortion should not be allowed; Womb is like another planet - another Soul structure - child's Soul within; Sun rotates opposite to Earth - Moon opposite to Earth; Childs Soul rotates opposite to mothers Soul; Why at time of birth babies turn around; Children of Mitra stay in one position from time of inception; Doctors will be able to tell if child is of the Soul or P - already proven science; Recognize Children of Mitra in womb - behavior of U - can manifest themselves as man or another; Most Beings in U created out of interaction of fields of Soul - not P; Distance of STM to heart - height - creates certain behaviors; If husband shorter than wife can become cheater - 95% in statistics; Research has unraveled huge amount of knowledge about our social structure; T will handle social structure; Elections in America - go through a revolution - says if he doesn't become president - be a bloodbath; STM dictates everything about physical structure of man; London Police trained to look for - fingers equal size - pickpockets; About European countries turning anti-Muslim; Because West went to Middle East to steal oil and gold - purposely destroyed countries - now they come to the countries that destroyed what they built up over thousands of years; Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran responded to message 3 weeks ago - path of peace - technology exchange; We see future - have to make change; KF Austria under heavy pressure by Germans because Mr. Keshe is Iranian - closing accounts - but in time they'll lose; Far-right winning in European Parliament - find somebody to blame; Change to One Planet, One Nation - all will be welcome wherever we go; Twinity Stamina not for addictions - use Detachment; Do not ever share any of these plasma products - only for individual use; Gans is good as long as remains - energy changes; Relationships in house will change to beautiful dimension; Some KS went through actual physical changes in their life from T; Wish and sincerity of giving - in line with STP - love, even to yourself - body will change; Can happen when expand Soul in sleep - come back P changes - happens every day on planet; Step closer to understanding life of cancer cell - how it works - why migrates over body; Blueprint Day when ready; Thank Creator - opening door of knowledge; Implement to bring change; Soul has to be happy with change; Questions about abortion from mothers; Soul created around 14 weeks - legal guidelines 10 weeks; Can observe creation of Soul; If mother doesn't feel connection to it - Soul was not created; In Space children created through Soul. Cannot terminate Soul child or Children of Mitra - Soul implemented in womb - alive; Star Formation (SF) teaching; Plasma formed outside SF - reactors fly away; Teaching on Ca; Ca40 and Ca43 in bone structure; Every cell of body has a Ca40 - AA through Ca40 gravitationally pulled to center of bone - bone marrow creation; Ca below 38 rejected to intestines; Low back pain because loins use Ca47 - weakens with age - chronic pain; Importance of M field strength - not physical strength; Position of organs - decided by bone structure - muscle tissue strength; Inside decided by needs of STM; Create systems to deliver certain behaviors; Lymph nodes converts Lymph into matter state; Withstand gravitational field of planet - Calcium; Ca made through MG field conversion in Lymph to Ca40; Lymph is an energy pack - gets pulled into bone through Ca40; Forever produce Ca in body and recycle proteins; Ca production and maintenance like donkey carrying AA of different energies to different places; Ca above 46 to 48 - seed for cancer; System for victimization syndrome - not Twinity - use KF Universal Systems through M fields; Cannot just elevate negative emotions - first understand where comes from & reason for being there; Partially, emotions are characteristic of behavior; Can't pay someone to love you - has to be understood and shared and elevated; Work with emotions near to build up - don't use opposite emotions; Needs a lot of understanding of one's own self, emotions, and the spectrum of emotions; New emotions in Space; About chronic constipation - KF has system; Everything cannot be Twinity; Find out cause; Toilet construction effects constipation; Every disease - remember back 5 to 7 years - find the cause of it - change of emotion; Emotions can cause solidification of plasma state into matter state; Advertises KF retail shops in Europe - in existing businesses - restaurants; Twinity Gans is new type of Gans - new T - not like old - using as stepping stone until systems ready - gather knowledge put in solid state for correct fields; Materials are just like agents; T so advanced - beyond imagination - have to do what you understand; Later Twinity Sets will connect through headphones to Wellness Center - hold Gans in your hand - create different field interactions; Once you're connected to the system - stay connected; In evolution man went from horizontal to vertical posture - different field interactions; We built very complicated structures; Thank you for being and supporting us with what we are doing - hopefully sooner or later things will take a different shape.

Introduction to 553 KSW - Direct Connection to Creator - Polarity Change - Position of STM to Heart - Abortion - Ca Mechanism - Soul Expansion can Heal Body - Disease Starts with Emotion Change

There is a lot of deep knowledge hidden in this workshop and at the end of the first part Mr. Keshe suggested we listen to it 2 or 3 times. I have listened to it more times but still I cannot "get my head around it." He said it in the first few lines, that it is about opening up a direct line to the Creator. Can we imagine crossing the boundaries of the Universe (U) and Unicoise? This implies that there is a physical direction to the Creator. The religions of the man talk about the spiritual world or 'Heaven' as being somewhere else in another location. But if we think about it, how can it be in another location? In another dimension (D), yes, but isn't that D here and now? In the Plasma Science we are taught that the Soul of the Man (STM) and the physicality (P) are two different dimensions, but in reality the P is made out of the Energy of the Soul, therefore it can't be anywhere else, other than right here and it exists at a different field strength. Therefore, since they are both the same, we should be able to use the P to reach the Source of the STM, which is the Creator. It seems to me, that this is why he is teaching us about the rotation of the plasma, it's speed and direction. And the strange part is, that it is not 'mystical secret religion' stuff, it's very practical. Which way does the Sun rotate and the Earth and the Moon? As these are plasmas, and the STM is a plasma, and so is the Creator and both have a direction of rotation. This knowledge is very important for us to understand.

It's not so easy to understand why plasmas rotate the way they do especially when we get multiple plasmas rubbing up against each other. In some of the early KF videos they showed spherical plasmas with multiple rotations going on inside them at the same time. Mr. Keshe has not yet taught us this part. For now he is explaining that if two plasmas are next to each other they rotate in opposite directions. So if the Earth rotates clockwise then the Sun rotates counter-clockwise, and the Moon also rotates counterclockwise. And if the man is standing on Earth then his STM is like another Moon and it rotates counterclockwise. We have to learn it step by step otherwise it will become too confusing.

The next thing to understand is that the Sun switches polarity every 11.5 years, and when this happens it does not switch the polarity of the Earth. Each plasma switches its own polarity individually. The Earth switches its polarity over thousands of years. The reason it doesn't effect us is because we are too minute, we are just a speck of dust in comparison with the Sun so the fields pass over us. Stories have been told, such that many people are frightened of polarity switching, but this is due to ignorance. There are lots of things involved that we don't understand. Science discovered that if you flip one electron then others will switch also. Again, there wasn't enough information to understand it correctly. Today he told us that when we flip a spherical magnet then the spherical magnet near to it will switch. But the "catch" is, there has to be a connection between the two. They have to be linked in some way, then it will switch. It must be the same with Souls also. On Earth we are waiting for someone to make the change and switch, so the rest of us can start switching. But there has to be a connection. That's also why the change has to occur in a human being with the same amino acid (AA) as ours and have the STM connection.

There was one point in the teaching where Mr. Keshe said, that if we understood in detail the last 10 minutes of teaching then we have found our path to our Creator. I looked over these parts and they are different pieces of information some of which we have had before. For instance, how we live our life in P will determine how much M field strength we will gather and then when we die we'll go to the place that matches that strength and start a new life cycle there. He said, we could find out where we are going because it has already been decided.

There were different things about the rotation of the plasma. Our STM rotates in the same direction as the Sun but opposite to the Soul of this planet, and when we die our Soul is propelled like a ball shot from a slingshot, out into the vastness of the U. But, because of how we rotate in relation to our Creator we should have been attracted to Him, instead due to other factors we get sent out into Space. From all of our teachings, the strength of our love for the Creator should be able to override the forces of this planet. This is where cultivating detachment for the things we gather in our life, and the love and service of others will be so important at that moment. This is also why in spirituality people are taught to use their life to prepare for this ultimate moment, where our wealth and bodies won't be of any use to us. The only thing we'll carry are the energy and strength of the M fields of the love we shared.

There was one thing that might be difficult to grasp especially due to our modern education. The last thing he said in this section was, ... 'what you have given from your Soul, that you have not much left to interact with.' When we give our field strength to others so that they can reduce their suffering and try to live a good life, that strength goes out from us. This is contrary to our training where we are taught to build up our life and create a good life for ourselves and family and friends. Life itself is field interactions. The whole U is created out of field interactions. Having less to interact with means that we have already enjoyed what life can offer and are ready to go back towards our Creator. He stressed many times in today's teaching about going back to our Creator. And this may be strange to most of us because we are trying to find a way to stop suffering and become happy. It's a little like when we were children and playing with our friends and our mother called us to come home for dinner. There is that feeling of not wanting to stop the play. Maybe we think that if we go back to the Creator, then the game is over. Some religions teach this. They call the game of life, Samsara, or the great Illusion and when we go home to the Creator they call it, Moksha or liberation. Maybe there is another part that we don't know about. Maybe going back to the Creator is not an end but a new beginning. I believe he wants us to think about these things because there will be opportunities to advance very quickly towards our Creator if we have that interest and desire.

One of these opportunities are like what happened in April of 2023 when there was a solar flare and massive amounts of M field energy were downloaded by the Earth from the Sun. He called it, "the kiss of the Mother," when she showered us with love. It's not yet known what the effects of that field transfer will be. Is it part of the upcoming change for humanity and the planet? How do we make ourselves ready so that when these opportunities come we can make a huge leap in our spiritual development? What would happen if the Creator is about to give the whole of humanity a "kiss"? Are we even contemplating what detachment means, so that we make room to receive such a gift? These are the things that are hidden in today's teaching. But it is us who has to want to receive them and be open to change our life beyond what we can imagine. There is one part where he seemed to imply that we could have control over our life, and that is through controlling the speed of rotation of the STM. But how we do it was not discussed. It's like when we used motors at different speeds to rotate Gans Balls and observed the field effects. But this time it is using our emotions and intentions. Maybe it's as simple as imagining and feeling the Soul rotating in the center of the brain. It's something that we could work on and play with and even consider the direction of the rotation and how that effects us.

In the first part of the teaching he explained how the distance between the STM and the heart effect a lot of things in us. And in the second part he gave us examples of how people with certain heights behave in certain ways, and this is related to the distance between the two. The STM is fixed in the center of the brain and cannot move. But the heart is anchored in the chest through M field positioning and it can move around. Our science has not yet been able to understand this. They are two plasmas, like 2 rotating reactors and they create field interactions that effect the whole body. We know that if we damage the heart the Soul will leave. And if the Soul creates strong emotions it can damage the heart. We mainly think that the heart is just for pumping blood, but now we have to consider that it is an important M field generator for the whole body. A dangling pendulum is a very good image for the heart, and not a fixed one. And just like if we stop the pendulum the clock stops working, so too with the heart. This new idea of the flexibility of the heart has an empowering feel to it, and maybe there is a way we can work with it. We tend to become very scared when something happens with our heart. If we could switch the focus from the heart to the STM, and understand that, that it is the true controller, then maybe our fear can transmute into fearlessness.

There was more emphasis on us learning to detach from our strong identity with the human body. When we transmute to another environment we are not going to have this human body. And that the destination is like a womb and the fields of our Soul will interact with the fields of the environment and create the new body. He has given us many hints of landing somewhere we didn't expect and the difficulties we could have. In fact, he said it could be like a nightmare waking up on some planet where nobody can hear or understand us, and our Soul knows it has to survive. We will be aware that this is our Soul, but the type of body we could have might be unsettling. When I first heard this it brought back a memory from my childhood. I could have been around 12 years old, I was conscious that I was a human body, but totally ignorant of the energy or the Soul, and my mind was not very developed. And yet one day while I was waking up from a nap in the afternoon, I had the distinct feeling that I was waking up into this human body, and there was this huge fear about how to survive. From that moment onwards I denied the horrors of human life and survived by constantly moving forward. Maybe there is no way to prepare for the planet we will transmute into, and we just have to mature ourselves to be able to handle whatever situation we find ourselves in. It seems he is preparing us to live lives of service throughout the U. And he said that wherever the Creator wishes us to go, it would become an obligation for Mankind to go there.

There is a test we can do to understand more deeply about the rotation of plasmas. We can rotate a cup of Gans clockwise over a magnet, then drink the water. I am assuming with the second cup you put it over your MaGrav and rotate it the opposite way and taste it. There should be a surprising difference in the taste and feel of the water. We can do the same with holding the cup first in the right hand and then the left. Just by changing hands the taste should be different. This means there is a lot more to rotating a plasma than we ever thought. And maybe this is why all the plasmas in the U seem to rotate in one way or another. This could be related to the plasma being like a spiral. This is part of the fundamental knowledge of Creation that we have not been aware of.

Two more "Twinity Gans" products have been released called, 'Detachment' and 'Stamina.' Detachment is for overcoming addictions and things that we repetitively do that harm ourselves, those close to us, and the society. This series of a new kind of Gans is for psychosomatic and social problems and they can bring a change to the whole society and prepare us for Space travel. Stamina is for making us strong inwardly so that we can handle the transmutation. We have to become self-sufficient in our existence and mature to the Knowledge of Creation. All of these products will be connected together the way plasma reactors are in a system, but these will create a field balance over society to help bring the change. The other two that were released previously are called Flagpole and Pause, and they should be used by a man and woman couple, where the woman is going into menopause. As we discussed in detail before, the man should also use it to prevent Parkinson's from developing. The knowledge gained will be added to the Enhancement Units to benefit everyone through the fields, then the Gans will not be needed anymore. We are not going backwards into Gans's, instead we are obtaining the knowledge of the appropriate field strengths and adding that information to the systems.

The legal guidelines for abortion now is 10 weeks, and Mr. Keshe says from his experience the STM is created around 14 weeks. But in the future we'll be able to scientifically measure when the STM is created and at that point it will be considered as an independent life and cannot be terminated. One of the ways to know if the STM has been created is the connection the mother feels towards it. If there is no connection then the STM has not yet been created. Women who have had a miscarriage in the later stages feel the Soul strongly and become very attached to their child. In the future, doctors will be able to tell if it's a child of the Soul. For Children of Mitra it's totally different and from the first day the Soul is implanted in the womb it is a living entity that cannot be terminated and they stay in one position inside the womb during the entire pregnancy. Most of the created things in the U are created from the fields and not from the physicality like it is done on Earth.

There was a big teaching on Calcium (Ca) that still needs further clarification. I will try to summarize what I understood. In the question from the KS it was stated that Mr. Keshe taught that Ca is in every cell and acts like a Black Hole, which can be another way of saying, 'gravitational pull.' The answer to the Black Hole was that there is a Ca in every cell and that links them to the center of the bones where Ca40 is a lower field strength. And in the U the stronger plasma always feeds the weaker. So the Ca43 on the outer part of the bone is a higher field strength and it gets attracted to the Ca40 in the center of the bone. This field pressure difference is what drives the mechanism to make the bone marrow and immune system. Because remember that Ca is in the Lymph and it gets pulled through the micro channels in the bone, which are specific M field strengths, that convert the Lymph into bone marrow and other things the body needs. I believe this is one of the fundamental conversion processes needed for the existence of the body. Then he added up all the field strengths in the COHN, or AA, which adds up to 43. This is the same field strength as the Ca43 on outer part of the bone, so now the AA and Lymph is connected to the bones and are drawn to them plasmatically. Or in a way, we could say they are being gravitationally pulled to the bones so they can be converted into what the body needs. Ca above the field strength of around 38 can be converted to other calcium's and is recycled. But Ca below 38 is rejected from the body through the intestine.

Maybe you were wondering why the ribcage stops where it does and there are no bones until you get down to the hips. The abdominal area is all muscles and it has organs that just hang in place. It would have been a strange body if there were bones in the abdominal area and our bodies wouldn't be as flexible as they are. This is all due to MG field positioning of the plasmas of the body. It's the strength of the M fields and not that of matter state. For example, the body creates the fields in that area and the liver manifests itself. If you take out the liver, the fields are still there and the liver can be re-grown. The loins and the low back area have special field characteristics. For some reason the outer muscles of the loins have Ca47 and the inner part is Ca40. This field difference between the two causes them to squeeze each other and those muscles become very tight and strong almost like bone to maintain the organs and movement of the spine and hips in that area. The doctors have never been able to figure this one out. And most of the chronic low back pain is due to the weakening of the Ca47 to a lower field strength in this area. He hinted that if we could solve this problem with the low Ca strength many of the back problems would be solved. And I think a lot of the organ problems in this area might be also from the same cause. The GM field of the Earth has given the Ca this function. And the Ca production and maintenance is like a donkey carrying AA of different energies to different places.

Big advancements are occurring now with the Enhancement Units (EU) where several KS have experienced physical changes in their life. This is one of the main functions of the transmutation and now it is starting to happen, as Mr. Keshe adjusts the fields created by the EU. When we reach the point of being able to expand our STM over the STP and P and then travel somewhere, when we come back to the body, the Soul through its emotion can repair the P as it re-manifests it. In other words it rewrites the RNA not to create the P through the DNA in the old way. The STP and the STM have accepted the change in emotion and that "problem" in P is not needed anymore to bring attention to a particular issue. It gets resolved internally and the suffering is no longer desired. We can do the same thing in our dream time when we expand the Soul out of the body and then return back. In fact, Mr. Keshe attributes the change to the persons own development in empowering themselves, and that we all have the power to heal ourselves. The EU are aiding the process by making the fields readily available for us to use.

For all diseases that we have, he said, we should look back 7 years or so to what changed in our life when the disease started. We should try to find out what changed in our emotions and then from there change it back, or maybe we could touch the deep roots of the feelings and transcend the issue altogether. But as he said, it takes a lot of inner work and having deep knowledge about ourselves. And the main thing is to be honest with ourselves, and from my experience we have to face and feel the pain of what we were trying to avoid, or what we didn't understand, or misunderstood. All of these things are very simple, and all of us can do them if we want to. It's usually a matter of determination. What's interesting is that Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) teaches that over 90% of all diseases are caused by emotions and this confirms what Plasma Science teaches and that it is a further knowledge.

Other Topics:

Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran has heard our request and has withdrawn his position from war and expanding the war and will use the tools of advanced technology in exchange for restarting the peace talks with the Americans. KS and the Universal Council should understand more deeply how to make our wish, our command, and that it is for the good of the whole humanity;

The elections in America are getting the country ready to go through a revolution, because one man is pushing it and he's very ruthless. He says, if he doesn't become president, there will be a bloodbath;

Don't miss the September Flight Session, he said he will force it, so that everybody will feel the fields of the plasma and then we'll start fresh;

Thanks for listening.

Quick Index

(Have you ever wondered what would happen if we created a direct line to our Creator, and could see ourselves as elevated, or see ourselves pass the boundaries of the Universe (U) and Unicose? We would establish a field with our Creator, (and connect to all the thoughts and knowledge (of the Creator), and we would be connected to all the fields of the U, because it is itself a plasma of the Creation. What changes would it bring to us? (Would we be afraid of it? Would touching a single line of the fields of it change us? Would it elevate us? Would it bring another dimension (D) into play? And as the scientists discovered, if we turn a spherical magnet, then the other spherical magnets (that have a connection to it also turn)).

(It brings us to a lot of deep thinking and understanding because we know that our Sun changes polarity every 11 and 1/2 years in its 24 year cycle. Even though we are connected to it, it doesn't change our polarity, why? We are so minute that the field just passes us. (We only know about it if something happens. And we just recently discovered about these polarity changes. How come the Earth doesn't change polarity when the Sun does? The mass of the Sun is 99% of the mass of the solar system (SS) so we are like a speck of dust in comparison to it).

(Is this polarity change sequential with its Twin Star? Does it change also? We know there is a Twin Star and we have confirmation of it through disasters that have happened to us and the rest of it. But how come it changes, but not us and the other planetary systems? Our planet has its own independent time schedule for switching its polarity. What controls that change? After so many thousands of years our polarity changes. We have evidence of it through different measurements and we see the flow of materials such as the layers of the soil, and other data).

(Just as when the Sun changes polarity it doesn't touch the Earth, so too when the Earth changes polarity it doesn't effect the man, because he is too minute. It's exactly the same comparison as the Sun and the Earth. What would happen if the line of magnetic (M) fields between the Earth and Sun opens up, then there would be no atmosphere. At the moment, we don't have any direct line connection to the Sun. We just see M field forces. We don't interact in any way directly with the Sun at all. We are a rotating object, and the Sun is a rotating object in respect to the Earth, and the plasma of the Soul of the Man (STM) is another rotating object).

(?? When the polarity changes it doesn't effect us and we carry on with our work and so does the STM. Our Soul is a third party. The direction of the motion of (?? rotation) of the Sun is opposite to that of the Earth. And the Moon rotates opposite to the Earth. So if the Sun goes anticlockwise, then the Earth goes clockwise, and that's why we have the (horizon of the sunrise in the East). (The Moon also goes anti-clockwise in relation to the Earth. But isn't the STM, another Moon? So the STM rotates also anti-clockwise, because we have to follow the law of physics. There can't be any exceptions)).

(This brings us a lot of understanding about the World of Creation. Because when the Sun changes its polarity every 11 and 1/2 years, it does not affect the Earth. And every so many thousands of years when the same change of polarity happens to the Earth, it does not affect the man who lives on it. Nor does it affect the Moon. It's something (that happens individually (within itself). If the Earth had a twin structure somewhere in the Solar System, then it would also change polarity at the same time as the Earth. We know there is one planet which actually rotates in the opposite direction. And we know how they change polarity. (We see the same pattern of the macro in micro in the work the U. ?? (when the body changes (?? rotation), then the STM changes ?? to anticlockwise))).

(We can use this same knowledge and apply it to the body structure and understand why our heart is on the left side, and why we need a jolt of (the heartbeat) every few seconds. Isn't this jolt the change of polarity (that the Twin Partner, of the body makes (in relation) to the rotation of the STM's M field?) Isn't this why when we damage the heart, the Soul disappears, because it has lost its Twin (as in Twinity)? It has lost its (center of control). Man looks at the heartbeat only for delivering blood. But it (creates) powerful M fields. And we see that when its work gets interrupted, we have a heart attack or a stroke. When the emotion of the STM gets interrupted in the D of its physicality (P), which is the head, it can damage the heart. (This gives us more understanding about how the psychosomatic control operates in the body)).

(If we look at the plasmatic structure of the body like the heartbeat, STM, the direction and D of the rotation, position of the heart, and the heartbeat, then the world of the science of the body of the man totally changes. How far apart is the central line of the brain from the central line of the heart? If for any reasons there is change in its position will it bring a change in the shape and operation of the brain? Yes it does. If we have a stroke the energy release so high, that when it goes up it always touches the left side of the brain. And we usually see paralysis on the left side with a stroke, during the stroke, or because of the stroke, and during a heart attack).

(If we understand these things, then how we release and control the Soul, or Central Energy in Space will change. The world of medicine will change. (By changing the field transfer in the brain, we can realign the heart, even if it's on the left side. (We can move its energy to the side that is realigned directly with the physical structure, or the spinal (?? column and the brain)). One of the reasons that man dies so young at the age of 70 to 80 is because of the position of the heart. The heart isn't just for pumping the blood, it has to keep the alignment with the brain, STM, and the P. Why are so many people living longer and longer? Think about the position of the heart in respect to central line of the STM? That's where you'll find an answer. Because it needs less energy, it doesn't need such a high heartbeat, (so it lowers the rate and people live longer. Because scientifically they discovered that after so many millions or however many heartbeats the "motor" stops. They scientifically discovered that there is an average number of heartbeats that the heart can make before it stops. They can calculate when it's time to start saying goodbye)).

(The biggest question for man is, what would happen if at the point of death we were able to connect directly to the Creator? What if we were on the same direction of rotation as the Creator? Would this create a new dimension of understanding in us? What do we need to do to be able to create this channel? We have to get rid of all those things that we have created for ourselves such as extra atmosphere, emotion, attachment, and everything else. If we manage to get rid of these things, and if the Rays of the Creator found a direct line with us, then what would happen to our Soul? Maybe you think this is impossible. But we know it's possible. We've seen it, and our scientists have scientifically observed it (a year ago). We're waiting to see what has happened when both the Earth and Sun directly connect through their M fields to each other. We are waiting to see how the 'Soul of the Earth' will respond to this event in the coming time. (It happened a year ago when Earth and Sun directly connected to each other. The Earth lost all of its plasmatic M field strength, but we didn't lose our atmosphere. The Earth and Sun directly connected to each other for a very short time. After a year we haven't seen any changes yet, but we're still watching it. (We want to see if the massive amount of field energy the Earth received from the Sun will bring changes to this planet)).

(Maybe in 50 to 100 years from now the scientists will look at the event that happened in April of 2023 when the Sun's M field directly connected to the Earth. (One day human's will understand what happened. It's the same as what will happen when we get rid of all of our attachments to this atmosphere of "me and mine." This is the facade we built around the STM. If we manage to get rid of it, then we can create a direct connection to the Creator. How will we react to that?))

(Scientists are observing and studying the effects of last year's event when the Sun and Earth managed to create a direct line of M fields to each other. (It was due to a massive solar eruption, and in a few seconds and due to the strength of it, it pushed back the M field of the atmosphere around the Earth. For a few seconds it created a direct line. How much energy did we download from the Sun? What information did we get from each other? It's the first time we discovered this and have scientific evidence of it. It's like when a mother kisses her child. That's all it is, it's feeling the warmth of the Soul of the Sun).

(What happens to us when we hit this point? Would we recognize it? Or when it happens to all of us, will we play it in a different way. As humans do we lose this barrier, and there is nothing to protect us? (Is it like when the blood flow stops at the point of death, and we become connected to the M field of the Soul of our planet?))

(Would this happen to the man at the point of death as he loses the atmosphere of the M fields, and pressure, the same as what we saw last year with the Sun. Would the energy from the Earth and Soul of the planet, push and dictate a new D and direction (for the STM)? It would be like the mother kissing her child (goodbye) and letting it go. It would become a push that propels the STM through the open space of the U. And the child will find its place in the D of Creation).

(In last year's event the central system of the Earth still had half of (its) pressure on the South East side so it did not lose its totality. It was still in charge, but we saw the connection from the North Pole directly to the Sun. It received an immense amount of energy. (When this happened the Aurora, or the Northern Lights (in Europe) moved all the way down towards the Equator. At that time the Sun flare was so huge and powerful, that it literally blew everything up. It blew open the M field connection to the Earth, creating that dimension of protection. It was the first time we have record of such an event. (We can always understand the macro in the micro, and vice versa)).

(In the life of the man we have this heartbeat which creates that pumping of the second Soul. It is continuously holding the STM attached to itself. It's like a dangling belt, and it has a little space to move. The brain and STM cannot move. So something has to give in that position. (It's like the little pendulum dangling on the Grandfather Clock, which is like the heart of the man. The motion of the heart is like that dangling pendulum in the clock, but it is for the life of the man. (The most important thing for man to understand is what causes the pendulum or heart to stop. Is it the energy taken by the STM, which stops the pendulum, or is it due to the weakness of the cage, that it stops working and causes the separation of the STM from the P?) (When the heart or the pendulum stops, the secondary system, which is the blood flow, also stops. The STM is released from this cage)).

(The man moves in the same direction as the Sun, but not in the same direction as the Soul of the planet. (Does this attract the STM to itself like two magnets opposite in polarity, or is it because of the rigidity of the time, place and space of the fields of the Earth? And that will create a springboard to propel the STM out into the U to find its own place according to what field strength the Soul was able to gather during its lifetime. It becomes like a 'slingshot' and who knows where we'll land. But by the Laws of Physics, and because the rotation of the M fields of the STM, it should have been attracted by his Creator which is the Soul. But due to its vulnerability and position, these fields become the rejecter of the STM, and they eject it out into the infinity of the Space of the U).

(If you understand this part of the technology (T) and the interaction of the plasma fields of the whole system, then a new science will emerge. (This new science is about the positioning of the structure of the STM and P of the man. If you go deep enough into it, then you can predict (?? through the depth of the fields, every little thing that will happen from the DNA to the cell, and by changing the M fields you can change the RNA which will change the DNA. You do this through controlling the speed of rotation of the STM. And through this you can manifest yourself in another position by transmutation (and be able to survive anywhere in the Universe))).

(Our Soul is like a chameleon, it's the heart of that chameleon, and the atmosphere around it reacts (to it). (It shows itself through how its fields interact with that atmosphere (or environment). This is how you take a form or a shape in Space. This is how we will make that fish in a tank we talked about. (How you manifest on a planet will depend on the field strength of your Soul, which depends on how much good or bad you've done on Earth, and what you have given from your Soul, that you have not much left to interact with? If you understand all the little words in detail, that have been said in past 5 to 10 minutes, then you have found the path to your Creator and you'll understand how to break the M field around your Soul. This keeps you from directly connecting to your Creator. I made man in the image of Myself. And the physicality of the man is created by the field strength of the STM. It's the environment of the womb of the mother that dictates the shape of the man. When you arrive in another destination, the "womb" will be the environment of the planet, and how it interacts with your Soul will determine the shape of your physicality. Your Soul has to survive in the place where you arrive).

(But in fact, when you get there, it's just a nightmare. You wake up but nobody can hear or understand you. And then your P is different than it was on Earth. If the planet is liquid then you could look into it like a mirror and see your face, but then you'll run like mad because you didn't look that before. You will be aware of your Soul, but your P is not what you're used to. (Mankind has to learn more to be ready to transmute and understand exactly what will happen)).

(When the T becomes public many people will raise fear amongst the people, because they know that their own Souls (will not be able to transmute, because of the wrongs they have done through their physicality, and they will try to deter the others from reaching the maturity of their Soul)).

(We are testing new systems that will allow you to expand your Soul beyond, which will bring a cycle of change in your P, STP, and STM. We can create conditions for you to become detached from the fields of Creation, and through this you will be able to see your future and what it will be. (?? Some of you have already seen part of it. What you're going to see, has already been decided)).

(The connection of the STM, to the Soul of the planet, to Soul of the Solar System, and then to the Soul of the Galaxy, all has a sequential event and no one can change it. Even though we think we are in charge of ourselves and can dictate the future).

(Knowledge Seekers (KS) can learn a lot in a very deep way by doing the following test. Put a cup of Gans and rotate it clockwise over a magnet, and (then after the Gans settles drink the clear water. Then fill up the cup again with new water, don't use the old water which you tasted and took the clockwise energy of. Put the new water on top of your MaGrav, and observe it. You'll ?? wish that the (?? new water will go anti-clockwise and the other one clockwise. Then taste both waters and feel what the difference is between the two. Which one is the food, and which one is the medicine? Which one gives you what pleasure? Which one takes the pleasure from you? Which one is there to serve you or are they both serving you, and providing you with the facilities of the material to exist and survive?))

(Then report back what you find out. Do not put the water directly on the MaGrav material. Keep a distance ?? between the water and the MaGrav. Take note whether you hold the water in the right or left hand when you taste it. (?? Think about your position and what is secondary to the structure of this planet, as the system has already changed itself)).

(Then tell us yourself what differences you experienced between the two. And then hold the water in the other hand and do the same thing. Write down what changes you feel and what changes they bring to you. I think many of you will be shocked. Many of you would not believe that just by changing the hands that are holding the cup, you can create so much change in the emotion and understanding).

(You should be able to feel the condition of the heart attack and that of a healthy life. The M field of your Soul and heart will dictate the connection and correction under the material of the detector. For the next months Flight session bring your MaGravs. And, remember which way your MaGrav coils are twisted and which materials they are made of. I would like to see the shock in the mind of you KS and the emotion, and realistic response when you go through this. Then the next step will be to interact the STM with the Soul of the Creator (STC). In the upcoming Flight sessions of September, I'll put you through this position. I'll force it, so that you will feel it. You will feel the change in your physicality. We'll bring everything to zero, and then you can start the structure of your life around the new system).

(If mankind understands the totality of what's "on the table," he will understand the principles of Creation. Man will understand how to transmute, and how to reach the STC. The less you carry, the lesser are the fields you have created amongst yourself and the Soul, and the sooner you will create a connection with your Creator. Detachment is not about getting rid of your clothes and wealth. Detachment is to get rid of the fields that you have created within you. (If you can do that you will at least stand a chance to create that line of connection (to the Creator)).

(The reason I brought this topic up today is because you have to start learning the process of M fields. You've been taught a few things like playing with magnets, and other things. But now there is no time for play. You need to learn, and you need to be part of it. You need to understand the fields of Creation so you can become the Passengers of the U. And if you get it wrong, you might one day hit the ceiling of a planet, (and get stuck there)).

(Many times in the Friday Flight session we have set out to push the STM out and give it enough energy to go (?? out into the U). In last Saturday's meeting we opened the gate for the STM to see where the man is at. (We wanted to see what man will do with his P and what will be the next step in the D of the Creation, for the Soul and P)).

(I hope you understood the simple teaching of today about Space, time, and the Sun. And I hope you can apply it when it comes time for transmutation in how to create and establish a line of communication with your Creator. And that whatever His wish for you is, to be where and in which U of His Creation, will become an obligation and part of the structure of the Creation for the next generation of the man. I hope you understood. But if you haven't understood then listen to the teaching 2 to 3 times over until you understand it fully).

End of Quick Index Part 1 - 553 KSW

(In the past few weeks we have transferred our emotion and Soul, the way the Universal Council works, we work the same way, and we achieved a "stepping stone" to bring peace to a corner on this planet. We had the pleasure of having our request heard by the Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran to withdraw from war and expanding the war. And instead to use the tools of the advanced T in exchange for peace and restart the talks. Yesterday Iran stepped away from war and instructed the Iranian nuclear negotiators to go back in and find a way with America, to bring peace to the Middle East. Without America there can be no solution. And I would like to thank those who worked in the background, through whatever means to bring the truth. We have achieved the first steps of the goal of peace, because this time we'll negotiate 'on par' with the Americans (as Iran is now a nuclear power) for Iranian nuclear weapons and Space technology. We're sure a solution can be found. For sure this time we'll reach an agreement. It will be the start of world peace through the religions. And the next step to make man ready to become a Passenger of the Universe).

(Everything is connected. And in the teachings a few weeks ago I strongly and clearly said, that we'll move out Iran and with us will move the new technology. Because of the wisdom sitting within Iran we managed to change the direction by the wish and the wisdom. This is how you as individuals have to understand, that your wish is your command. As long as your wish, which is the energy, brings benefit to others, and brings elevation of the Soul of the others to bring about peace. That's all you need to do).

(I hope KS and especially the Universal Council will be able to understand the power of what we call, the 'wish of the man' on every level. And I hope we'll move to the next stage and back off from fighting, and instead start exchanging technologies and understanding. It's thanks to many Souls and the wisdom which was put forward. Now we are seeing the heavy-headedness of the religions and those who fight for religions taking one step back. The next step is to bring technologies that will force the nations to move forward and accept the new technologies to create a new life on the planet).

(Last week we launched 2 new products of (a new type of Gans's, or new materials) to change directions in the social structure (where diseases have created problems). We explained them in-depth and they are for you to test. We call them 'social psychosomatic' materials because they affect the people around us and the society. This week we launched 2 more. The one called, "Twinity Detachment" is for what you are attached to and need to do repeatedly on a regular basis. It's part of being addicted to a certain pattern of life. This could be anything from drugs and alcohol to sex and other repetitive behavior. By changing the conditions of these addictions, we'll change society).

(These work in conjunction with the other Twinity Gans's, and using them together in combinations with each other in a structural way, will bring many changes both psychologically, emotionally, and physically in the society. Because when for example, you are addicted to cocaine or heroin, you affect the life of other people around you like your children, siblings, and society. Addiction affects all of it. It's just like we explained how menopause changes the whole pattern of the family and society. All of these (products work on the same basis)).

(How can we detach from these behaviors and stop the repetition? (?? These behaviors effect the work of the STM and we need to change them to take the next step towards going into Space. In Space there are viruses which behave worse than addictions and could be anything. (Man has to learn how to handle these things within himself, and this is where learning to be detached is very important)).

(These new materials are for you to learn from and then to teach others. For this, combinations of the Twinity sets can be used. It's not anymore one thing. We'll put all of these Twinity Gans's together collectively, and at the end it will be a complete (package). They will be like the field creation systems we sell at KF. (They put things in order and bring inner peace. They will bring change to every man who understands how to use them)).

(The Twinity Gans sets can be used in the KF Field Replication Units, but you have to understand how to place them in the right order, then it will bring the change, through changing the total structure of the STM, STP, and P. (We are releasing these as a series. This week it's called, Detachment. Would detachment bring freedom to the man? Or would detachment bring man to understand what he needs to be detached from? Every addiction is a repetition of the confirmation of his attachment)).

(Once you bring the Soul in this D and direction then you need to understand how this (?? added strength will change things). This is what we saw when the Earth connected directly to the Sun last year for a few seconds, or whatever. (What will be the result of the added fields? Will it bring a new change to the Earth's inner structure because it received strength directly from its Creator, the Sun?)

(The Twinity Gans that adds strength we call, Stamina. It increases strength for one to be strong in their Soul, and through that you will create elevation for the physicality. These combination sets will bring a total change, and total trust in the strength (you carry inside). (We are strengthening your Soul to become independent and be able to Transmute. You will have the confidence to release yourself from the tangle of physicality, and you will know that you have the field strength to come back from where you transmute to because you in charge and make the decision for yourself)).

(Many of you might try these Twin sets because you're addicted to cigarettes, chocolate, cocaine, sex, or whatever, which we all get addicted one way or another to each other. This collection of Twinity Sets are for changing a number of Souls together, in the D and direction of what is to come. This is not any more a Gans of this or that. These are structures that will change the society. These are for social psychosomatic (problems). Now you can see the pattern of what is coming. There are a few more sets we will add to these and put them all together. The KS will understand how to use them. And we'll bring them into the remote systems like Cosmic Ray Bundles and ?? Monthly Flight sessions where you connect through the mobile phones. This is how we are about to bring the change. We have to understand how everything is connected to every other thing, and how we are about to make this change in the RNA and DNA of the man, and to make him detached from many things).

(We are giving you the support to exist. And in the upcoming Monthly Flight sessions we'll start introducing (this) part of the technology and with it bring the evolution. We are making you ready for transmutation through understanding the whole structure of life. I hope those of you who understand what is to come will stay and understand more about how transmutation can be achieved. In the first part of the teaching I opened this chapter very clearly, if you understood).

Q: When the heart moves closer to the central line of the STM, ... does it become part of a free plasma or a free plasma on its own?

K- It's always a free plasma, it's just the line of interaction.

(I've done a lot of work researching and observing this. There are certain positions of heart (?? in relation to the STM) that create specific behaviors, which become part of the behavior of the social structure. (For example, all 9 billion of us have different heights. We are not all exactly the same. And none of us have the same position and distance between the heart and the STM. This is where we are made in different ways).

(In the womb of the mother we can see when the heart is created, but we can't see when the Soul is created. Soon we'll understand that the STM is within the structure of the brain (?? and it can be detected and we'll use this to explain the birthrights (of children). The egg and sperm each have their own Soul, but the STM is created within the physicality of the brain of the new child. We see the position of the heart, and ?? at the very beginning of the heartbeat there is a rotation. (?? When the STM is created does that rotate the heart?) (When we know the time when the STM is created then we can say when abortion should not be allowed. It's the decision of the mother)). Nowadays they say you can have an abortion before 10 weeks, for the safety of the child and the mother. But in fact, man has to learn when the essence of the STM is created, and at that point no one should be allowed to destroy a Soul or a life). (Science has to bring this in and we will collaborate with them. We are collaborating in another direction and dimension. This is very clear).

(Once the Soul is created with a heartbeat, it decides the shape, color, and every structure in the body that is to be born in D of physicality. (This is done together with the structure of the fields of the womb of the mother, which is like another planet on its own. The womb is another Soul structure, which ?? the child's Soul is within). (?? We have the Sun rotating in one direction and the Earth another, and the Moon also. (?? It seems that when two plasma are next to each other they rotate in opposite directions). So the mothers Soul rotates in one direction and the child's Soul in the opposite direction). Understanding it in a deeper way we can understand why babies turn around in the womb at the time of birth. And why the 'Children of Mitra' (stay in one position from the time of inception until they are born on this planet)).

(In the coming time doctors will be able to tell if it is a child of the Soul or of the dimension of P. This is already a proven science. But in the future our science will have to bring it out, because they don't accept what we say. They want to be shown something and then they say they believe. But what I am saying is that you have to educate yourself to understand it. We'll teach it, but it's for the scientists to observe it, (and then accept it)).

(We will recognize 'Children of Mitra' very clearly in the womb of the mother. No one will be able to cheat. And they'll all be born with the behavior that suits the U and not the 'space gap' we call Earth. The position of the heart and the Soul dictates the behavior of the man in this planet. The Children of Mitra are detached from this cycle. Even though they can manifest themselves in the shape of a man or another).

(We will see this evolution once we open up man to Space. It's the reality which we will have to handle, and it's the only way we can become part of the Universal Community. Most of the created things in the U don't (?? create life through the P like the man). They have learnt how to transfer energy of the fields through the interaction of the Souls).

(If you were to sit on a high chair looking at all the people passing on the street you would be able to observe that the behavior of people is related to their height, and to the shape and position of the brain. From that you can roughly estimate what the (distance is between the Soul and heart) and then use that to categorize the behavior. If we watch the people passing by then we'll see that there are very few patterns. (?? One size will behave like this, and another size like that. And in some cases all behave in a certain way. As you observe it more and more you will become aware and understand it)). (Mr. Keshe observes peoples behavior in relation to their height, from which he can estimate the distance between the heart and the STM, and other parameters he may use).

(For example, by looking at the height difference between the husband and wife he can tell if the husband is a cheater. He has also confirmed it by asking the wife. We don't understand this because we are not educated to observe the behavior. The behavior comes from the position of the field energy between the (heart and the STM), and nothing else.

(A lot of research has been done on this and according to the statistics as high as 95% of all men who are shorter more than 3cm than their partner, become unfaithful. The KS is surprised. Mr. Keshe confirmed the research. And the rate of unfaithfulness increases as the height difference goes up to 10 cm with the husband. (It's because the man is the "breadwinner" and is supposed to always be looking after the woman and he is supposed to behave subordinate). So he has to prove to himself somewhere that he is the "boss," or to be the giver, or whatever. The situation changes with women and it's totally different. Women who are shorter than their husband by a certain number of centimeters behave totally different. They look up to the man because they (have always ?? perceived themselves as smaller, and because they always looked up to their father. He was always there, and they love and respect him)).

(Long term research has unraveled a huge amount of knowledge about our social structure. Then if you know how to look at it, it can explain a lot about the Soul, and the position of the Soul, and society's social structure of it). (I have read a lot of scientific papers and I look at the psychosomatic part of the social structure. I don't read the whole thing because they want to (build something of their own up). I look for specific things and conclusions of what is achieved. The data gives us an understanding of the social structure. Because with this T we have to handle the social structure).

(The elections in America are getting the country ready to go through a revolution, because one man is pushing it and he's very ruthless. He says, if he doesn't become president, there will be a bloodbath. Those are his words. I can tell a lot about him by the way he looks, his shape, and how he stands. I can tell you what this guy is. Look at the position of his eyes, because the eyes (are a window) into the STM. Look at the other lady on the other side. She's not so perfect either).

(There is a reason we are physically structured the way we are. We taught you before about looking at the shape of the hands and fingers. Then you'll understand how the STM dictates everything about the physical structure of the man. If you know the distance and the position between the heart and STM, then you can tell what the man will look like when he manifest himself in the D of P. We are too short sighted and we overlook a lot of things. But once you learn how to observe things, then you don't need to overlook them, because it's there, and you just "tick the box.")

(The London Police are trained to look for South American looking people with the index finger and the finger next to it, having the same size. Statistically they tend to be pickpockets, because the fingers can easily slip into the pockets and remove the wallets without being noticed).

Q: What are your thoughts about how European countries are turning anti-Muslim as well as anti-immigration, preventing mass migration? So much so that the Polish government has said it will shoot Muslims if they try to cross their border illegally.

K- The times have changed quite a lot. (All of it is because of the West. They went to the Middle East to steal the oil and rob the gold from different countries, and now that they have destroyed those countries the Arab people have nothing left, so they come to the countries that have invaded and robbed them. They have to live somewhere. And now they become the victims and we call them the wrongdoers. We've watched them invade Lebanon, Libya, and Iraq. (Of course, as they control the Media they made up their own justifications). The Europeans and Americans came to destroy what we built up over thousands of years. You left nothing for us to live with, so now we are going back to the people who stole it from us, at least you find peace with it).

(My message to the Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran three weeks ago was very clear. We cannot lose our nation for one Arab guy. It's taken us two and a half thousand years to build up what we have today. We can't get our refineries, power stations, and our structures destroyed, because somebody wants to get revenge for their cousin. As Iranians we are aware of (the truth) and we stand by it. I made it very clear with no shadow of a doubt, what would be the outcome on Iran, if such attacks take place against Israel. I advised the Ayatollah to take the path of peace and go for the technology exchange. Now we are a nuclear nation, so we can talk a different language than six months ago. Because, we didn't want another cycle of Iranians having to escape, and then being shot at borders).

(We see the future, and we see the ones who want to create that future. And the only way is to (make the) change. (Right now the KF in Austria is under heavy pressure by the Germans because Mr. Keshe is Iranian. They have started doing things like closing our accounts with any kind of an excuse. But in time they'll lose. They understand exactly what they're going to lose).

(In the past few months we saw the far-right winning in the European Parliament. This is all coming out of that far-right movement, and nothing else. Every time it gets economically tough they find somebody to blame. We have to live under conditions of One Planet, One Nation, One Race and that we all will be welcome wherever we go, as we will not be a burden to the nation, instead it will be a pleasure that we'll be part of the nation. We'll see this).

Q: Does the Twinity Stamina product work for smokers, drug addicts, and masturbators? What is the shelf life? After I use it for a while, can I give it to someone else, such as parents, family members, etc. to use?

K- The Twinity Stamina is not for this job. (You're talking about the Twinity Detachment product. You have to understand how to use it. We have introduced a new way to use the Gans water). Do not ever share any of these products. They are for individual use only. It's good for as long as the Gans remains. But the Gans's has a dimension of changing energy. Do not share these Twinity sets. If you have held it in your hands do not share because you have already transferred some of your fields).

(If husband and wife each have their own product then you will feel a change. We know exactly what it will create. It will bring a totally different dimension to the one who uses it and even change the atmosphere of the house. The relationships in the house will change to a beautiful dimension. It will create a beautiful social structure).

(Some KS went through actual physical changes in their life. They can come and tell their experiences if they wish. There are the KF Wellness Policies that include time on the systems once a year to keep in balance. Last Saturday they did an extra session and 3 people reported going through physical changes. So they went into the Soul expansion and when they came back to the D of P and they repaired their body). (If your wish and sincerity of giving are true and in line with your STP, and there is love, even to yourself, and to existence, then the body will change). (This can happen when you sleep and expand the Soul through your head. And then when you come back your P changes. But then we say it's magic and ignore it. Most probably this happens every day of the life of this planet)).

(It's the same with cancer. Now we are getting a step closer to understanding the life of a cancer and how it works. We understand how a cancer cell lives in the body of the man, and the conditions of how it's created. After 20 years this T understands the life of cancer as an entity and the reason for its manifestation, and why it migrates across the body. Maybe we'll do a Blueprint Day with it when we are ready, and millions can do something at home about it. I thank the Creator for opening the door of knowledge.

Because, when you understand it, it is so beautiful, and when you can implement it to bring a change, it's more beautiful than anything else. (You have to understand the reason for it. And is your Soul happy with the change)).

Q: What happens when a woman decides to have an abortion when the heart is still beating? What happens to the child's Soul when it has been aborted? Where does the Soul go? Is the mother still connected to it? And can the mother change the position of the child that has been aborted and bring the balance back to the child that wasn't born?

K- This question has been asked many times by the mothers who have had an abortion. In a way, I answered the question in the past few minutes. (Usually we do not see the creation of the Soul until about 14 weeks. The legal guidelines are 10 weeks.

(Now we have technologies that can observe the (creation) of the Soul. When the Soul is created then the mother connects to it. If the mother doesn't feel any connection to it, it means the Soul was not created. When mothers have a miscarriage at 20 or 30 weeks you can see how attached the mother is to the Soul of the child. Usually before 14 weeks, we don't see completion of the Soul. It's physical (process) of making that ?? cell divisions, ?? and then the individual Soul. But the STP and STM have to both be completed. Because one has to support the other and the other has to exist to be able to support it).

(In the Space you won't have this with the human body. When children are created through the Soul, the Soul is created first before the P. You cannot terminate this kind of child, "thy shall not kill," not even on the first day of pregnancy. When we mature we'll understand more. It's the same for Children of Mitra).

(With the development of technologies, it's possible to change conditions of infertility in both the male and female. (Children of Mitra, and children created through the Soul, (will never get addicted to sex in the physical body). They are complete with the Creation and don't need. They feel the Creation through the Soul. Whereas humans feel it physically. It's the same with the confirmation of existence. In the future, hopefully, we'll put a special program just for explaining and training you to understand how to create Children of Mitra. You will feel the motion of the Soul, and the structure of the Soul movement. These children cannot be aborted, because the womb of the mother is sacrosanct for creation of that life. Because the Soul is embedded in the womb, that life is already existing. Now the man first makes the physicality and then the Soul. There's a lot to teach, but man is not ready for this knowledge)).

A KS asked Mr. Keshe for more information about the Star Formation (SF).

(Nowadays, in our research we don't use the SF the way it's used by most of the KS. We have taken a different path and we see different results. The SF has different interpretations as a plasma of fields, than the plasma of matter. At the moment we work with the plasma of the fields).

(You can create a plasma in all 3 reactors of the SF. Then the reactors have to find their own balance. In doing this the reactors might remain in their same position, but the plasma will appear somewhere else. You might see lights go somewhere else. And the reactors might fly away and you won't have them anymore, because they are energy packs. I've lost a few system like this. There is a way to lock it into position).

Q: We know that Ca is in every cell, and is considered a Black Hole. And you said, we would be mush on the floor if it wasn't for Calcium. So how is Ca linked with the Carbon 12 and C14? Is Nitrogen part of that link?

K- (Carbon is connected to C12, it's got nothing to do with C14. In a way it has, but not much. (Mr. Keshe goes into detail about Ca and Periodic Table and adding up field strength. You can study this on your own. It's a long teaching on Ca 40 and 43 and the bone structure).

(C12, H1, N14, and O16 all add up to 43, which is also an amino acid (AA). And the Calcium Isotope 43 is connected to human AA. These are M field strength, not the number of protons and electrons. Inside the bone is Ca40 and the outer bone is Ca43. The lymph comes through the spongy part of the bone and through M fields converts to bone marrow, the immune system, and other things and blood. And plasma moves from the higher strength to the lower, so from the outer bone (Ca43) to the inner bones (Ca40). Every cell of body has a Ca40 in it, and the AA has a Ca40 in it. This creates a kind of gravitational field to draw the lymph into the center of the bones to be converted into bone marrow, etc.. There is another mechanism to reject lower strength Ca from the body. I think Ca below 38 cannot be used and gets rejected to the intestines).

(There is an important teaching about why we get low back pain when we age. I wasn't able to fully decipher it. But my understanding is, that the Ca in the loin muscles that comes down from the ribcage and covers the low back area and stomach and the hips, is much higher in strength of around 47. This causes it to radiates fields towards the center where the Ca is 40. This gives a strength to this area that doesn't have bones in it and the higher M field strength holds the organs like liver and kidneys in place. So it's not just the physical strength of muscles that is important, but it's how strong are the M fields that it has to hold things in place. So I think what happens is that when we age the M field strength in the loins which is 47 weakens to a lower number and causes the chronic low back pain. If we can find a way to increase the Ca strength in the loins back up to 47, most likely the back pain would go away. It might be the same solution for kidney and liver problems if they are related to lower field strength. Modern medicine wouldn't be able to understand this because they think only of chemicals. And now we are learning the reality of M fields).

(Try to listen to this part more times and get as much as you can out of it. Hopefully, in the future he will fill in more of the gaps in our understanding. One other thing is that the Ca seed in every cell connects it to the Ca in the center of the bones, where the conversion of Lymph takes place. It's like a gravitational fields that drives all these processes in the body. We are not born with a liver, the fields generated under the ribcage causes it to be created together with the need. And if we take the liver out, the body can regenerate it. It's strange that we have this gap of no bones under the ribcage, now he has explained more about the power of M fields and not just the physical structure).

(The position of our organs is decided by our bone structure, and muscle tissue strength. The inside is decided by the needs of the STM. Knowledge of Creation is very simple and if you understand it you can create systems to deliver certain behaviors. (This is why the AA through the pressure on the inner layer of the lymph nodes converts into matter state. And it can withstand the gravitational field of the planet, which is Calcium. Ca isn't made through the bone marrow, ?? it comes from the MG field conversion in the Lymph and converts into Ca40. The lymph is an energy pack, but it's got AA in it with a seed of Ca and that's why it gets pulled in. It gains more energy through the bone structure, matures and manifests itself as a seed of the lymph. We forever produce Ca in the body and recycle proteins. The GM field of the Earth decides Ca to have this position. The Ca production and maintenance is like a donkey carrying AA of different energies to different places. Whatever it can't deliver becomes a surplus and gets reloaded to go around the body again until it gets used. He calculated that Ca below 38 or 36 gets rejected from the body through the intestines. If it is above 46 to 48 it becomes a seed for cancer, because the it takes more and more of solid state matter).

Q: Could you release a product of the Twinity type for the victimization syndrome, for people who have been victims. Even though the traumatic event is gone, their mind is still looping that traumatic around even decades after.

K- Traumas are emotions and they have a certain field strength. (We understand it partially, but you cannot make a Twinity Gans for such a thing, as it has a different spectrum of energy with different people. But through the KF Universal Systems in Germany, that can be changed. It cannot be done with Gans's, because it's different field strength. The remote systems are built for this kind of job).

Q: Can you help us understand how to fix or elevate the negative emotions that belong to us and/or we have inherited from our ancestors? For those who cannot access the Twinity products nor can be part of the transmuting processes, what can we do? Please teach us more deeply about elevating emotions.

K- Elevating emotions. (You just cannot elevate emotions. (First) you have to understand where that emotion comes from, and what is it's reason for being there. Partially, emotions are a characteristic of the behavior. I'm trying to find a way to explain it. You can create certain emotions that can help the other emotions to elevate, or reach a new level, or for you to achieve certain things with them. But it needs a lot of work. I am trying to find a way to explain it that makes sense).

(For example, you can't pay someone to love or trust you. It has to be understood and shared and elevated. The same goes with the emotions. It doesn't matter what emotion it is. The best way to do it, is to find the nearest emotion to it, and then try to move from one emotion to the other. In a way you feed it. You don't use the opposite emotion like from sadness to joy. Instead take an emotion next to joy, like happiness, or contentment and work with that. Then you can move across from contentment to happiness to joy. It's very easy to elevate these kind of emotions. Gradually we'll learn how to live with these conditions).

(It needs a lot of understanding of one's own self, emotions, and the spectrum of emotions. In the Space T we will learn about new emotions that we didn't know before. And we'll learn how to connect with the others, and move from one to the other. We can also do that with what we already know).

Q: Can you release a Twinity product for chronic constipation. It may sound silly, but if you are constipated, your entire health and social connections are very affected in a negative way. Plus, you don't think or act right.

K- We have already developed this years ago. This is in our vocabulary of knowledge. (Actually you don't really need it because it's a different structure. You have to find out what the cause of it is. Does it have a psychological and emotional aspect. Usually there is an emotional reason behind it that you have to sort out. Not everything can be done with a Gans or a Twinity Gans).

(He found out that the way the toilets are constructed can effect the persons bowel movement. In some surveys they did they found out that certain European toilets, the way they are constructed cause constipation. There may be other causes as well).

(With every disease you have you should remember back 5 to 7 years and try to find the cause of it. What you changed in your life that brought it on. When you find out the reason then you might be able to fix it, or reverse what happened. The same with cancer, try to find out the emotion that brought it on. Try not to lie to yourself. If you find the emotion then try to reverse it. It's a bit complicated, but it can be done. As we discussed in the last teachings emotions can cause solidification of the plasma state into the matter state, like when water freezes into ice at 32 degrees Fahrenheit)).

(Mr. Keshe shows some advertisements for KF retail shops in Europe. These are the little shops set up in existing businesses like restaurants where there is a little corner for selling KF products).

Q: Some months ago you said the "Gans era" is over. I thought we wanted to get away from the Gans's?

K- (These Gans's are only temporary and are part of the research to fit the Enhancement Units with the fields. We're learning where the mistakes are so we can improve it. It's harder to improve once we make them into solid state. It's a stepping stone to future developments of the field replication).

R: And to be clear, you're using the fields of the Gans, not the actual Gans materials themselves, correct? The fields are transferred to water, and not the mixing the Gans in the water, which is quite a bit different.

K- (Yes, when you receive these materials, you'll see there's a big difference between these materials and what you had before. There are three layers of material in it. We have managed to understand more, but because of the structure, we added new materials to it, and those materials are just like agents. (These are not the same as the old Gans's. It's a development in the new technology. You'll understand it when you get them)).

(For the Twinity Stamina Gans, we advise you to at least add something else to it. These are in the trial stage and we need the feedback from you to set up our fields).

(The technology has become so advanced, in many ways, it's beyond imagination. But we have to do what you'll understand. (?? When you get the Twinity Sets you can connect through headphones to the Wellness Center. Sometimes you will only need to hold the Gans in your hand, while connecting to the Wellness Center. When we complete this part we'll tell you. Sometimes you may need to cover your hand with the Gans ?? water, and when you hold your phone with your headphones on, we'll create a circuit. There will be an energy transfer. ?? Once you're connected to the system you stay connected).

(He goes more into the background of the field interactions. In evolution man went from being from being mostly horizontal to vertical (in his posture). We sleep flat, and we walk vertical. This gives us a variation and spectrum of fields, and brings continuous maturity. ?? For example, if you apply the Knee Gans to your knee with your hand. The hands with the Gans water are continuously moving and they create fields. You're continuously changing the D of the fields by moving your hands. Your hands with Gans water on them becomes part of the system. Everything I give has certain things hidden in them in different ways. These are very complicated structures which we have developed. A lot of what we develop we can't go public with them).

Thank you for being and supporting us with what we are doing. And hopefully sooner or later things will take a different shape.

K- Thank you very much. Good morning, good day to you as usual, wherever and whenever you listen to this series of Knowledge Seekers from Keshe Foundation Spaceship Institute. We welcome you back. And I hope, as usual, we learn something from each other.

We are always wondering what happen when we create a direct line to our Creator, when we see ourselves elevated, or we pass the barriers in the Universe and Unicoise, And we establish a field with our Creator, what we think, what we know, all the fields of the Universe (U) are connected to it, as is a plasma of Creation itself. And what would it do? What changes will bring to us? What is the fear of the man? If we touch, we find a single line of fields which reaches it, would it change us? (:08) Would it elevate us? Would it bring another dimension (D) into play? And as we know, as one of the scientists said, and as we always played with magnet, if we turn a magnet, a spherical magnet, the other spherical magnet which is with it, as to be part of it, will rotate.

But it brings back a lot of deep thinking and understanding. And that is, we know, us, our planetary system, the Sun every 23 years, changes polarity. And we are connected to it, but we don't know that, our polarity doesn't change. Why? But the interesting thing is, we're so minute, that the field just passes, they feel the strength of the change of the magnetic poles of the Sun every eleven and a half years, does not touch any of us. We just know if something happened, there is something we discovered recently. But, every eleven years, every 23 years, how come the Earth doesn't change polarity? What happened to us? And, because it's such a big mass that we are part of it, we are not even considered as... The Sun is considered to be 99% of the mass of the Solar System, all these planetary system are just a dust, a speck of dust in its size, in its operation. (:10)

But the interesting thing is, when it does every 11 years, when it changes its polarity, is this polarity is sequential with its Twin Star? Does it change over there? We know there is a Twin Star, we are aware of its existence, we have confirmation of it, through disasters which has happened to us and the rest of it. But how come it changes with that, but it doesn't change us and the other planetary system? We have our own independent time of switching our polarity on this planet. What controls this change? And we say so many thousands of years, our polarity changes, we have evidence, we measure, we see the flow of the materials, we see in the layers of the soil, we can see in the data directly.

But as the Sun change of polarity does not touch the Earth. So the change of ?? lack of the Earth doesn't touch the man, because you're so minute, you're exactly the same as the Sun and the Earth. But what happen, if the line of magnetic field between the Earth and the Sun opens up, then there is no atmosphere. At the moment we don't have any direct line connection to the Sun. We just see field forces. There is no interaction whatsoever directly with the Sun at all. We are a rotating object, (:12) and the Sun is the rotating object in respect to the Earth and we have another rotating object, the plasma of the Soul of the Man (STM).

What is interesting is that, when this changes polarity, this doesn't. This carries on with its work. And so is our Soul. Our Soul is a third party. The direction of the motion of the Sun, is opposite to the Earth. If we look at the Moon, Moon rotates in opposite direction. In a way, if you look at it, this is the other way around, for you not to get confused later on, I put them in the right way, that you can see it. In a way, the Sun goes anticlockwise, the Earth goes clockwise, that's why we have the horizon on the East. When we look at the Moon, Moon is anti-clock. But isn't the STM, another the Moon? So, is the direction of the rotation of our Soul, in fact, clockwise? It has to be. It has no choice. Because the fact is, we have... sorry it has to be anti-clock, because we have to follow the law of physics. (:14) It cannot be exceptions.

This brings a lot of understanding to the world of creation of the man. Because when the Sun changes its polarity every 11 years, does not affect the Earth. And the same change of polarity of the Earth every so many thousands of years, does not affect the man who live on it. The same, it doesn't affect the Moon. It's something individual. But if Earth had a twin structure somewhere in the Solar System, and we know there is one planet which actually goes opposite, but we know how they change polarity. But if we follow this pattern of work which is in line with the work of the Universe, we see in macro is in micro. So, we see the body to change, the STM to rotate anticlockwise.

Then, if you go back in the structure of the man, it brings a lot of understanding why our heart is on the left side, why we need a jolt of it every few seconds? Isn't that jolt, the change of polarity which the twin sister takes, twins partner takes, in consideration of the rotation of the STM's magnetic field? Isn't it why when we damage the heart, the Soul disappears. (:16) Because it lost his twin, it lost his operation of control. Man looks at the heartbeat of the man for delivering blood. But it's a powerful magnetic field system, because when its work gets interrupted we have a heart attack, we have a stroke. When the emotion gets interrupted in the STM, in the dimension of his physicality (P), in the head of the man, it can damage the heart. This brings our understanding to us, from the psychosomatic direction of the work of the man.

Now if we look at plasmatic structure of the body of the man, the heartbeat, the STM, the direction and dimension of the rotation, the position of the heart, the heartbeat, then the world of the science of the body of the man totally changes. How far in line from the central line of the brain is the central line of the heart? Does the change in its position due to any reason, brings a change in the shape and the operation of the brain? It does. We have a stroke, the energy release so high when it goes up, always touches the left side of the brain. We see paralysis with a stroke usually on the left side. During the stroke, or because of the stroke, and during a heart attack. (:18)

If you understand these things, a lot of the structure of how to release, control your Central energy we call the Soul in space changes. The world of medicine will change. If you play with the field transfer in the brain of the man, you can realign the heart, even it's on the left side, to move his energy to the side that is realigned directly with the physical structure, spinal line of the man and the brain. One of the reasons that man dies so early, so fast, within 70-80 years, is the position of the heart. Because it's not just pumping the blood, it has to keep realign with the brain of the man, with the STM, and the dimension of physicality of the man. Why so many people survive longer and longer? Have they ever considered the position of the heart in respect to central line of the STM? You'll find an answer there, because it needs less energy, it doesn't need such a high heartbeat and it changes it, because scientifically the world of science tells us after so many million something, something heartbeats is the average heartbeat of your system your motor stops. We have even calculated how many heartbeats and from what point we start thinking it's time to say goodbye.

But what happens if the biggest question for man is when in life or at point of death, you connect directly to the Creator? (:20) You are on the same direction of rotation. And would this create us a new dimension of understanding? What do we need to get rid up to be able to create this channel? We have to get rid of those things which us as human beings have created for ourselves. Extra atmosphere, emotion, attachment, and everything else and if we manage due to any condition to get rid of this, and happen that we and the Rays of the Creator finds direct line with us, what will happen to our Soul? You think this is impossible, but we know it's possible. We've seen it, our scientists scientifically have observed it. And we're waiting to see what is going to be the reaction of both the Earth and the Sun when they're connected directly in magnetic field to each other. We are waiting to see how the Soul of the Earth in the coming time will respond to this event. When Earth lost all its plasmatic magnetic (M) field strength in a way, we didn't lose our atmosphere. (:22) And it established a direct line from the Sun to the Earth in a very short time. We haven't seen any changes, we're still a year later observing it. And did its delivery of such a massive amount of field energy has brought a change to this planet since last year?

I think maybe in 50 years, 100 years, scientists will look at the event in April of 2023. And the effect of the direct connection between the Earth and the Sun, magnetic field. If we understand this, then us as human will understand what happened when we get rid of all attachment, this atmosphere of "me and me" aside, this dimension of the facade around the STM, and we manage to create that dimension of connection with the Creator, how we will react?

Scientists are observing and studying the effect of last year's event. When the Sun and the Earth managed to create a direct line of magnetic field to each other. As due to a massive solar eruption, with the strength of it, it pushed back the magnetic field of the, what we call, atmosphere around the Earth, and in these few seconds, the instance created the direct line. (:24) How much energy did we download from the Sun? What information did we get from each other? It's the first time we know, scientifically have evidence, of the mother kissing the child. That's all it is, ?? feeling the warmth of the Soul of the Sun. But what happen with us if we hit that point? Would we recognize it? Or this happen to all of us where, in fact, the game is played in a different way, where we, as humans, we lose this barrier, and we have nothing to protect us as the blood flow at the point of death, and we become connected to the Soul magnetic field of our planet.

Then it comes a question. Would man at the point of death, gets as it loses it's atmosphere Magnetic fields, pressure as we saw with the Sun last year, will this energy from the Earth, from the STM and the Soul of the planet, pushes, dictates a new dimension and direction in a way, kissing a child and letting it go. This become a push, which propels the STM in the open space of the Universe, for the child to find its place in the dimension of Creation. (:26)

In the last year event, the central system of the Earth, still had half of the pressure on the South side, on the South East side. So it did not lose the totality, so it was still in charge, but we saw the connection from the North Pole directly to the Sun. It received an immense amount of energy. Most of you remember this event when the, what we call, Aurora moved down toward the central line, to the Equator, it moved down all the way in northern Europe. We could see the Aurora, if you remember. The Sun flare was so huge, powerful, that it literally blew everything up. Blew open the magnetic field connection of the Earth, creating that dimension of protection. And, got in touch direct, it's the first time we have such a record. But, we always say, when you want to understand ?? or you don't see in micro, you don't see in macro, and vice versa.

But at the moment of the life of the man, we have this heartbeat which creates that pumping of the second Soul, continuously holding the STM attached to itself, but like a dangling belt, has a little space to move. The brain cannot move, the STM cannot move. So something has to give in that position. So, in a way, the winding, dangling, the little pendulum on the grandfather's clock, which is the heart of the man, the motion he has in the heart, the ?? movement he makes in the heart, is that grandfather's little dangling pendulum in the clock of the life of the man. (:28) And the most important thing for man to understand, is it the energy taken by the STM, which stops the clock pendulum to swing, or does the swing of the pendulum due to weakness of his cage and structure, stops the work in separation of the STM from his physicality?

And then it comes, at that point, when the man's defense system, because the pendulum stops and then stops the secondary system, which is the blood flow, the cage of the STM, releases. And man moves in the same direction as the Sun, but not in the same direction as the Soul of the planet, does that is attracting the STM to itself as two opposite magnets or is that because of its what we call, rigidity of the time and the place and the space of the fields of the Earth, creates and the spring for the STM to spring out into the space of the Universe to find its place according to what we call, the field strength of the Soul, which the man has gathered during the life time. In a way, we become a 'slingshot' piece where God knows where we land, because the magnetic field of the STM in rotational dimension should have been attracted by his Creator which is the Soul, by law of physics. (:30) But due to his vulnerability and the position, these fields become the rejecter of the STM into the infinity space of the Universe.

If you understand this part of technology (T), if you understand the interaction of the plasma fields of the whole system, a new science will emerge, which is emergence of the positioning of the, what we call, the structure of the physicality of the man, and the structure of the, what we call, the STM. And if you understand this, if you go deep enough to it, You can predict in the depth of the fields of the every nitty-gritty from DNA to the cell, by changing the magnetic fields, to create a change in RNA, an energy pack, which will affect the, what we call, the DNA of the man, which in fact, if you, how you learn to control the dimension of the speed of rotation of your Soul, will allow you to manifest yourself in another position by transmutation in the shape, place and position, which you can survive anywhere in the Universe.

This is, in fact, our Soul is a chameleon, it's the heart of that chameleon, and how atmosphere around it reacts, this chameleon will show its field interaction with that atmosphere. This is how you take shape in Space. This is how the future development of the technology will make that fish tank. That you see yourself, how you're going to end up in that planet. Depending on the strength of your Soul. How much good you've done, how much bad you've done? (:32) What you have given from your Soul, that you have not much to be left to interact with? If you understand all the little words which were said in past 5 or 10 minutes, in detail, you have found the path to your Creator. You have found how to break that magnetic field around your Soul, which keeps you away in reaching, in a way directly connecting to your Creator. I made man in the image of Myself, and the physicality of the man is created by the field strength of the STM. And the environment of the womb of the mother dictates the shape of man. When you arrive in another destination, the environment, the womb of the planet, in interaction with your Soul, decides the shape of your physicality. As your Soul has to survive on a point of arrival, in a position of arrival.

But in fact, when you get there, it's just a nightmare. You wake up, nobody can hear me. Nobody can understand me. And I didn't look like this on the Sun. If the planet is liquid and you can look into the lake and see your face, you'll run like mad. I didn't look like this. I'm aware of my Soul, but the physicality is not what I'm used to. And then you understand in more depth, how the technology of the future, in development of an understanding of the transmutation, will affect the whole process of bringing this technology, (:34) for mankind to become ready for it to understand.

Many people, once it becomes public, will raise fear amongst the people, because they know their Souls cannot go in the commitment of the faults, they've done by their physicality, to deter the others, to reach the point of maturity of their Soul.

As I said before, we are testing new systems that allows you to expand your Soul beyond. And in that process, to bring a cycle of the change in your physicality, and Soul of the Physicality (STP) and the STM. We can create condition that when you get to that point, you can see if you can reach to the point of, in a way, detachment, from the fields of the Creation, to become, to see your future. What it'll be... because those you see in the present life, have already passed part of it. And you're seeing for what you're going to see, it's already been decided.

But, the connection ?? to the STM, with the connection of the Soul of the planet, with the connection to the Soul of the Solar System and then to the Galaxy, all has a sequential event and no one can change it. Even though we think we are in charge of, we are in control of, we dictate the future. (:36)

There's a very interesting test that you Knowledge Seekers (KS) can do and learn from it, in a very deep way. Put a cup of Gans and rotate it clockwise over your magnet, and drink the water. Then fill up the water again or new water, don't use the water which you tasted and took the energy when it was going clockwise. Now with the new water. Put it on top of your MaGrav, and watch. You'll ?? wish that the system will go anti clock and the other one go clockwise. Taste both waters. Drink it. And see what is the difference between the two. Which one is the food, which one is the medicine, which one gives you what pleasure, which one does take the pleasure from you, which one are both there to serve you and provide you with the facilities of the material to exist and survive. (:38)

It'll be interesting what you report back. The next step is, when you put your water, do not put it directly on the MaGrav material, the box. Keep a distance from it. If you hold it in the right hand, or you hold it in the left hand and then taste the water. You have to remember that you have to be in a position to be secondary to the structure of this planet, as the system has already changed itself.

Then tell us, tell yourself, what's the difference between the two. And then, move the same water to the right hand and do the same thing, and see how you feel, what change brings to you. I think many of you will be shocked. Many of you would not believe that just changing the hand, in changing the position of a cup, can create so much change in emotion and understanding. (:40)

In a way, you should be able to feel the condition of the heart attack and the condition of the good life. As the magnetic field of your Soul and your heart will dictate the connection and correction under the material of the detector. If you come for the section or session for plasma technology next time, bring your MaGravs. And, remember that, which way your MaGravs are twisted first, and to which material they belong to. I would like to see the shock in the mind of you Knowledge Seekers, the emotion, and realistic response. Then, you can go to the next step, and try another step, in the interaction of the STM with the Soul of the Creator (STC). In the upcoming sessions of September, I'll put you through this position. I'll force it, that you feel it. (:42) You feel the change with your physicality. When we bring everything to zero, and you start the structure of the life around the ?? new system.

If mankind understands the totality of what's at the table, man will understand the principles of Creation. Man will understand how to transmute, how to reach the Soul of the Creator. The lesser you carry, the lesser fields you have created amongst yourself and the Soul, the sooner the man will create the connection with his Creator. Detachment is not that get rid of the clothes and the wealth. Detachment is to get rid of the fields which you have been created within you. That you can at least stand a chance to create that line of connection.

The reason I brought this topic up today is that you have to start learning the process of magnetic fields. You've been taught a few pieces to play by magnets, and ?? and more. In this place, there is no time for play. And you need to learn, and you need to be part of it. Understanding a field of the Creation is the must for those who become the Passenger of the Universe. (:44) And if you get it wrong, you might one day hit the ceiling of a planet that nowhere else you can go to.

Many times, in trials, on the Fridays, we have set out to push the STM out, to give it enough energy to go. And in last Saturday meeting, we moved it in a way that we opened the gate and see where the man is. What man does with his dimension of physicality and what will be the next step in the dimension of the Creation for the Soul and physicality of the man.

I hope you understood simple teaching of the space, time and the Sun. And I hope you can apply it when it comes time for transmutation in how to create and establish a line of communication with your Creator, that His wish for you to be where, in the which Universe of His Creation, will become obligation, and part of the structure of the Creation of the next generation of the man. Thank you very much, for today, and I hope you understood, And if you haven't, listen to the teaching 2-3 times, to be understand it fully. Rick, take us for a break and we come back.

>> BREAK >> 553 KSW August 29, 2024 (:50).

K- ... In the magic box. Yes. There is not much as, as many of you know, wisdom and what we call, understanding that has brought us what I call, the peace of mind. And as many of you know past few weeks we have transferred our emotion and Soul, the way the Universal Council works, we work in the same way, to achieve a "stepping stone" towards ?? another ?? space to bring peace to a corner of this planet. And we had the pleasure of our request to be heard by the Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran. (:52) In our request directly to his position to withdraw from war, and expanding the war and use the tool of advanced technology in exchange for talks in peace. And we had the pleasure to receive that message yesterday. As many of you know Iran has stepped away from war and instructed the Iranian nuclear negotiators to go back in and find a way with America, that through it we find a way of peace in Middle East. Without America there is no solution. And I would like to thank those who conveyed and those who worked in the background, through whatever, and to bring the truth, the horrendous position that Iran got itself into, by what I call temperamental, hot-headedness for a few seconds, when somebody got killed or whatever. And as I said to our people and those who work in the background with us, yesterday and today, we have achieved the first steps of goal of peace. As this time, we'll negotiate with Americans on a par of Iran nuclear weapon technology and space technology. And we're sure the solution can be found. And bringing man close to the nuclear war threats of the war of nuclear has moved back. Huge steps. And this time we'll reach, we'll for sure reach, the conclusion and beginning of a start of the world of the peace, through religions. (:54) And the next step for man to be ready to become a passenger of the Universe.

You got to understand everything is connected, and as I said strongly clearly, literally cleared it in one of the teachings two or three weeks ago, that we'll move and with us moving technology will move, and the wisdom was sitting within Iran, and we managed to change direction by the wish and the wisdom. And this is how you as individuals have to understand, your wish is your command. As long as your command, your wish, which is the energy, brings benefit to the others, brings elevation of the Soul of the others to bring peace. And that's all you needed to be done.

And I hope, as Knowledge Seekers, you will understand this. And especially for Universal Council to be able to understand the power of what we call, the 'wish of the man,' in every level. And I hope, we move to the next stage, that we back off from fighting, and we start exchanging technologies and understanding. In a way, it's thanks to many Souls and the wisdom which was put forward. And now we see the heavy-headedness of the religions and those who fight for religions have stepped back one step. (:56) Next step is to bring technologies that forces nations to accept new technologies to create new life that we move forward.

On the other hand, as you know we have been launching a series of new Gans's, new materials for you to test, to change directions in social structure, as we explained about the in-depth, in situation of last week with the two products launched. Keshe Foundation this week has launched a further two new materials. I don't know if they have reached the websites of the Keshe Foundation to be promoted. But this is again, is another structure in bringing social, social, with what we call, emotional and physical together. Social psychosomatic materials, which affects the society, affects the people we are around. We have launched a new material, what we call, "Twinty Detachment." Which means, what you are attached to, to do on a regular basis. As part of being like addicted to a certain pattern of life. This could be anything. And this change of addictions, the change of conditions, brings a change to the society. (:58) Because it will change the people around us. It changes the position around us. And, in a way, brings a condition to the end to the repetition.

This is in a way, in conjunction with the other two which we launched last week and the one which done before that. Using combination with each other in the structural way will bring many changes. Both in the psychological, in the emotional, in the physical and in the society. When you are let's say addicted to cocaine, or heroin, you affected the life of other people, your children, your sibling, your society. So an addiction has an effect on all of it. It's another, as we explained, how the menopause has come down and changes the whole pattern of the family and the society. These are the same thing.

How can we detach from them? How can we stop the repetition? How can we become detached from repetition that brings the dimension to the work of the STM? And how we will change the next step? The reason for this is when we go to Space, there are viruses which behave worse than the addiction. (1:00) Could be anything. It's for the man to find out how to handle, how to get detached from this. We have seen one of these what I call, attachments structures, very much like Corona. These new materials is for you to learn, to teach, and then to move on, used combination with the other Twin sets. This is not anymore one thing. You will understand in coming weeks, we have created a combination of what we call, Twin Gans sets, which when put together collectively at the end of the time when we complete with it, and it's put in a way very much like the field creation systems which we sell in Keshe Foundation and put in order, the inner function will bring peace, will bring change to every man who understands how to use them.

In a way, when you use them in the Field Replication Units of the Keshe Foundation, understanding the work of the Twinity sets, placing them in the right order, it brings you the position which brings the change, bring totality change in the whole structure of the Soul, the physicality and STP of the man. First one was reproduction, the cycle ??, next one was the pause pain, this week is detachment. (1:02) Would this detachment brings man the freedom? Or would this detachment brings man to understand what he needs to be detached from? Every addiction is repetition of confirmation of attachment.

And once you bring the Soul in this dimension and direction then you need to understand how this needs ?? strength, change of strength. This is why in the teaching of today I explained what happened to the Earth when it was directly connected to the Sun for a few seconds, or a few hours, or a few minutes last year. Did it bring a new change in the structure of inner structure of the Earth in changing dimension and bringing more strength directly from the Source of it, from its Creator? And what would be the result?

We call this one the Gans of Stamina. How you increase the strength to be strong in the strength of the Soul, that you create elevation of the physicality. Then you understand, in the coming time, these combination sets are to bring a total change, total trust in the strength of, very much when you connect this Stamina Gans's with the Menopause, with the Cycle, what we call, Gans's, Twin Gans's, (1:04) then you understand what it means. I can produce, I trust, I do not need to change and I have the strength to do it. Now you see the pattern of materials we are putting out step by step. Creating an independent Soul and a strong Soul to be able to go through the transmutation. I can go, I can release myself from the tangle of physicality, because I know where I go, I have the field strength to come back. I am in charge, I make the decision for me.

Many of you might try it because, "Oh I'm addicted to cigarette, or I'm addicted to chocolate, I'm addicted to cocaine, I'm addicted to sex, or whatever, which we all get addicted one way or another to each other." But the collection of what has come as a new series of Twin sets, is for changing a number of Souls together, in the dimension and direction of what is to come. This is not any more a Gans of this and that. These are the structure will change the society. These are social, psychosomatic. And you can see the pattern, what is coming. There are few more pieces, with all these put together. The Knowledge Seekers understand how to use it. We bring it into the remote system, Cosmic Ray headphones and the mobile phones. Then you understand, how we are about to bring the change. (1:06)

You understand the two new lines, which is put out today, in conjunction with the others, it brings in the need for man to change his dimension and direction. And understand how everything is connected to each other, and how we are about to change that step, in what we call, the RNA and DNA of the man, to make it detached from many things.

In the next couple of weeks we introduce two more of this set. And I'm sure many of you are guessing what it could be, and it could be quite ?? wrong. What we give, we have to give it the support to exist. In the coming month session on the Friday of the, what we call, 3rd week of the month, we'll start introducing that part of the technology and then with it, we'll start bringing the evolution, making them ready for transmutation, through understanding of the whole structure of the life. I hope those of you who understand what is to come, stay and understand more how transmutation can be achieved. And in part of the teaching of today, I have opened this chapter very clearly, if you understood.

Any questions? (1:08)

Q: ... With today's teaching, Mr. Keshe, when you were speaking about the heart, my question is, when the heart moves closer to the central line of the STM, contributing to increased time the STM spends in the physicality, staying within the cage that, that is created, but at the same time it's actually out of the cage, taking care of the totality of Souls. When the heart moves closer to the central line, does the heart become part of a free plasma or a free plasma on its own? Thank you.

K- It's always a free plasma, it's just the line of interaction. And it's very interesting that... I've done a lot of work on this research, done a lot of observation. Certain position of heart, with position of the, what you call, (1:10) the STM, creates a specific behaviors. And that behavior becomes part of the social structure behavior of this. We are all different heights. We are all born 9 billion different, we are not exactly all the same. But, none of us have the same position, and heart position and structure and a distance between our heart and our Soul. And this is where we are made in different ways.

When you look at a few days, maybe in the womb of the mother you see the heart, but you don't see the Soul. In the coming time, we're working with the scientists, maybe next few months, few, very soon, now that we understand that the STM is within the structure of the brain of the man, to detect, to explain the birthrights. Even though egg and sperm have their own Soul, with understanding that the STM is within the physicality of the man, within the brain of the man, and having the position of the heart, at the very outset we see the heartbeat, the rotation of it, we can say when abortion is not allowed, then it's the decision of the mother. (1:12) Nowadays they give us a figure of 8 weeks, 10 weeks, you can have abortion because of the safety of the child and the mother. But in fact man has to go to the essence point of when the STM is created. And at that point no man is allowed to destroy life, to destroy a Soul.

Q: Is that two weeks, roughly two weeks that from...

K- You will, you will. Let the science to bring it in. We will collaborate. We are collaborating in another direction dimension. This is very clear.

And once that Soul is created, with a heartbeat, decide the shape, the color, the every structure of the man, to be born in dimension of physicality. Plus, the structure of the fields of the womb of the mother, the womb of the mother is another planet, on its own, it's another Soul structure, which your Soul is in it. You are that, the Earth between the Moon and the Sun, you are both going in the same direction, the Soul of the child is on its own, it's opposite. Even then, if you understand it deeper, why do the children turn around in the womb at the time of birth. And why the Children of Mitra are born in one position from the point of inception till the birth of this planet.

In the coming time, in the coming time, the doctors will tell you, this child is the child of the Soul. (1:14) Or this child is in dimension of physicality. These are proven science, is not something, which is scientifically we can prove. This is something that, in the future, science has to bring it out, because our people don't accept just to talk. Show me, I believe in this, I'm saying it is that you have to educate yourself to understand it. We change the position. We teach it, and it's for the science to observe it.

Children of Mitra will be as clear as day and night in the womb of the mother. No one can cheat. And then they'll be born with the behavior which suits the universe and not the space gap of the earth. The position of the heart, the position of the Soul, dictates the behavior of the man in this planet. The Children of Mitra are detached from this cycle. Even though they manifest themselves in the shape of the man or another.

We will see evolution once we open the Space. It's the reality which we have to handle. It's the only way we become part of the Universal Community. Most of the created things in the Universe don't have the physicality of the man for creation of life. (1:16) They have learnt through transfer of energy, transfer of the field, what we call, interaction of the Soul. So, just sit in the park, or go and sit on the high street in a chair, and observe the behavior of the height, the shape, and the position of the brain of the man, and roughly estimate what the Soul position in the heart is, and what is the behavior. There are very, very few patterns. We never observed it, but if you observe it, you'll see. This will behave like this, this will behave like this. And they all behave. When you're aware of it, you understand it.

You know, you sit on a bench, on a bus stop, in a busy street. One is black, one is brown, one is white. If you understand what we see, what we understand, you'll say, "This guy is a cheater. This guy does this, that guy it does (that)." And go to the man and say, "Does your husband, has your husband ever cheated on you?" She says, "Yes." Go to the person and say, "Is this such a behavior you have? You're a very angry man." The wife says, "Yes." We are not educated to observe the behavior too. And the behavior comes from the position of the field energy between the two. Nothing else.

Q: ... If the heart is positioned slightly closer to the STM, the conduct of...

K- It creates a very short man. (1:18)

Q: Oh, okay.

K- It creates a very short man. And depends how they are connected, you can see how the behavior will be. Let me give you an example of the statistics. According to the research statistics, a lot of research has been done. As high as 95%, there are very few exceptions, as far as, 90%, 95% of all men, who are shorter more than 3cm than their partner, they are unfaithful to their partner.

Q: No way, really?

K- It's the statistics, it's a research statistics.

Q: Wow! Why? Why?

K- The rate of the unfaithfulness increases and this runs up to 10 cm with the husband. Why? The man is a breadwinner. The man is supposed to be, he is always looking after the woman and he is always behaves subordinate. He has to prove somewhere himself to be the boss, to be the giver, whatever. You understand? The situation changes with a women. Totally different. Women with the taller men, more than certain ?? centimeters, or within certain centimeters, behave totally different. They look up to the man because they always been always small. They always looked at their father. He's always there, they love and respect. And you see that relationship between the father and the son, now because of the height changes, changes to the man and the woman. (1:20)

There's a lot of studies done, if you go and find that, just ?? research. Researchers which is done, like Canadians do a lot of these researches, 25, 30 years research. They follow one PhD into another sometimes. And the Swiss do some of these researches in a very remote way, by their own intelligence, their own understanding. And South Africans used to do these kind of researches, not these just for somebody who wants to get a PhD, or to be called something. Long term researches unravels huge knowledge about social structure. And then when you look at it, it explains about the Soul, position of the Soul, and society's social structure of it.

I read a lot of scientific papers which I look at the psychosomatic of the social structure and I don't read the whole thing because they want to add it up. I look for specific things in conclusions of what is achieved, what was the target, that is relevant, because that's what we wanted to do, but we actually found something else. But, the data which gives us an understanding of social structure. Because, with this technology we have to handle the social structure, we are not dealing with you or your mental case, or you have depression. Why the whole society changes to going to war? What is the position of the leaders? How can we change the leaders that we can change the structure?

Now, with the elections in America, the country's ready to go through a revolution, because one man is pushing it. And he's very ?? ruthless, "If I don't come president, there will be a bloodbath." That's his words. Look at the... (1:22) look at the shape of him, look at how he stands. I'm not American, but I can tell you what this guy is. Look at the position of the eyes, because the eyes, are the eye into the STM. Look at the other lady on the other side. She's not so perfect either.

You, there is a reason we are physically structured the way we are. We told you before, look at the shape of the hand, the fingers. And then you understand the STM dictates everything about the structure of the man. And if you find the distance and the position of a heart and the Soul, you can tell what the man look like when he manifest himself, in dimension of physicality. The thing is, we are too short sighted, and we overlook a lot of things, but once you learn it, you don't need to overlook it, because it's there, you just "tick the box."

You know, in... I always say, it's like the London Police. The London Police are trained. I used to live in London for so long. And I was, part of my education, I had a bunch of police people in our group all the time in the education side. And one of the things they teach to London police, (1:24) especially those who operate in central London area, where there are a lot of tourists. When they walk on the streets of London, Oxford Street, Knightsbridge and that part of the world, you understand where it is, where there are a lot of tourists, they look for one thing. ?? South American looking, and the index finger and the next finger to it, about the same size. That's all they look for. They are pickpockets. The two finger, if one is a small, if you put a finger in a pocket, it slips, if you're trying to remove a wallet from somebody's pocket. They play with the fingers, that the two fingers are equal, and when you go in a pocket, you grab tight, and it can come out.

Q: Wow! The police are trained to actually look for that?

K- The police officers are trained for these kind of things. Of course, the way they are trained to pick up drug traffickers, yes. As part of my ex-life, before I walked away from education, before what you call it, my business life, we had a very close connection with the British police and drug trafficking. And I learned a lot from them, how they recognize by standing, who to pull, and they bet on each other, their success rate. Because each person of behavior does it for certain characteristics, for certain reasons. There are "odd ones out," but majority fit into.

It was very interesting, I explain to you to understand. Those of you who remember nineteen eighties, nineteen nineties, (1:26) there were, what's called, Ford cars, with a back opened, you could load things in it. And the police of England, literally, knew, these cars are only used, majority, by drug trafficking for ?? And interesting thing was, they used to go, those days was cheap, there were regulations, rules across the channel, you could bring cigarettes or whatever, and with it used to come drugs. And these, these cars are solely used for trafficking. And what it was, most of them had a cut on the seat, and the driver used to sit on the drugs, on the... on what you call, the drug, or whatever. And, they always picked these up. And I asked the officers, I was in Dover, we used to work there, I said, "How do you know this guy could be innocent?" He says, "They fidget a lot." Because the seat is cut, is not comfortable, when we hold them for a long time, we hold them for things, they move to find comfort in their buttocks. And we know this guy, we just take them out, we pull the chair and the drug is there. You understand? So, behavior brings certain structure, brings certain behaviors. Physicality is the same.

Any other question?

Q: One more question Mr. Keshe, just a very quick one and it's to do with the mayhem that is going on at the moment. (1:28) What are your thoughts on how European countries are turning anti-Muslim as well as anti-immigration, preventing mass migration? So much so that the Polish government has said it will shoot Muslims if they try to cross their border illegally. This is madness. What are your thoughts on this?

K- The times has changed quite a lot. And all of it is because of the West. They came to us to invade us, they came to us to rob us, and this time has robbed so much out of us in Middle East and in Arab countries that now that there is nothing left we are looking for somewhere to live to survive. And now we become the victims, and now we become the wrongdoers. We didn't go to invade Lebanon, we didn't go to invade Libya, we didn't go to invade Iraq. You came to our land, you destroyed what we built over thousands of years. You left nothing for us to live with. We go back to the people who took it from us, at least you find peace with it.

In my message to the Ayatollah Khamenei of Iran, three weeks ago, was very clear. We cannot lose our nation, for one Arab guy. (1:30) Taken us two and a half thousand years to build this. We can't get our refineries, our power stations, our structures to be destroyed, because somebody wants to get revenge on the cousin, as Iranians we are aware of and we stand by that. I made it very clear with no shadow of a doubt, what is going to be the outcome of Iran, if such attack is taken place on Iran, by Iran against Israel. I advised Ayatollah ?? to take the path of peace, go for the technology for change. Now we are nuclear, we can talk different language than six months ago. Because, we didn't want another cycle of Iranians escaping, and then being shot at borders.

We see the future, and we see the ones who want to create that future. And the only way it is, to change. You have to understand, the Polish, Germans have started doing the things, everything else... Keshe Foundation, because I'm Iranian, we are under a lot of pressures, they're finding in every way to close our accounts, anything, to find an excuse. But in time they lose, they understand exactly what they're going to lose. When I came to England, nineteen seventies, it was a, what you call, they were proud if they had an Iranian, a Persian, as a friend. They used to take you to their homes, you know, "We have a Persian friends club." And by change of time and evolution, we became terrorists. We are still the same people. (1:32) It's just what they perceived to do, what they perceived to make. And we've seen the far right winning the European Parliament in past few months. And this is all coming out of that far right movement, nothing else. We see in Germany the same place, we see in England is running to the same thing.

Because the far right, and we've seen this, if you were my age, around 1970, '77, '78, '79, we saw this cycle in England in a much worse than what it is now. There was a party called, National Front, they even painted British flag on top of the Minis, hundreds of them. And they bought these Minis and they painted that they are, you know, far-right, blue color, usually they were. And then the police found out and they saw the problems coming, how the attacks comes and everything. They confiscated all these BMW, what you call, the Minis and the government got them, whoever ?? got it, had to repaint it. Every time, there is a social pressure, inflation.

Now we see problems in Germany, because Germany is a very much a car industry nation, and now not getting Chips. A lot of Mercedes, BMW workers are short of work. A lot of things have been, shortcut, and then it goes through other things. The energy is diverted to blame someone, the Muslims, and the rest of it. And those who are opportunists are using that position and the power. You destroyed their homes. You bombed their homes (The Europeans & Americans made wars in Middle East for the oil). Where do you want (them) to go? They're looking for a new home.

But, this is what we've seen and what it'll be to be. (1:34) Keshe Foundation, just because I'm an Iranian, is under huge pressures from the government of Austria, through the banking system of Europe. And we don't talk, we observe, we tolerate, but we know what sits behind it. Does not matter, if you carry Austrian passport, British passport. They look at your color and they decide what to do.

We... If you go into the history of Iran. During the first second war, a lot of Polish women escaped into Iran. And these people, a lot of them women because all the men were killed in the war came, not being able to survive, they became prostitutes. We have a district in Tehran, which is Polish prostitute area. But that was the only way they could (survive). And now these people have become part of the Iranian society after the second, third generation. When you walk the streets of Tehran, you can say which one is the Polish connection from Polish mother. And there are certain reservation for these people, because they have tendency to line in with the Americans. And we never separated them, but we observed their behavior in a national intelligence way. We never shot them. The only time the Polish women were killed in Iran during the Second World War, when the Americans drove to, through the, (1:36) what you call it, area, because an American soldier was killed. They were not touched by Iranians. Did we shoot them? No. Did we bring a change to them? No. Did we do that with the Jews, when we brought them, and we do it with the Christians, when we brought the Armenians into Iran? No. It's the perception of how the society brings to change, or for leaders to change their position.

One of Iranian Prime Ministers said, "A nation does not need a wise King. A nation does not need a wise prime minister. A nation needs a wise men, its citizens." And unfortunately, we have lost all three in Europe at the moment because of the economical situation. And immigrants and foreigners, it does not matter where you are, you are in Africa, in Europe, in America, in Asia, always are the short cut, they take the "short stick," when there is economical or political change. And now we are going through that phase, in 2 to 3 years time this will be over. We saw with Idi Amin in (Uganda) Africa in nineteen seventies, the short stick fell on the Indians and they kicked all the Indians out of Africa. Plane loads came to England before 1972, 73 hardly any Africans, hardly any Indians. All the Indians ?? with China, ?? were, England took to Africa to colonize, (1:38) the Indian army kicked out, they all had a British passport, England had to accept them. They shipped them, plain loads came in, suddenly England became land of Indians and when they came they brought their families with them from India. This is one of the reasons we see such a high population. Now you have a Prime Minister of Indians in England.

And now every time it gets (economically) tough, they go against somebody in a way, they've been the tools of. Statistically, in Germany, there is a huge number of Turkish descendant children. But their fathers were never given the German passport. These are the people who came to Germany and built the Germany on the back of the Second World War. The way now we bring Chinese or whatever. In that time Turks were near, they were brought, they built the country. But if, and not if, all of them had children from German women, the fathers were never given the German passport. And those children now are coming up from the Turkish father, grandfather, and nobody knows about it. A very large percentage of children born in Germany, after second World War, are of Turkish descent. But they carry German passport as a ?? man. It was set up that (way). So, now how do we handle it? These are temporary time, before, now we kick all the Turkish and the Muslims out of Germany. Do they know, so many percentage of them are actually German name, but actually Turkish descent? (1:40) We have the same in England.

And I'm sure you see it right across the world. We have to live under condition of One Planet, One Nation. We are welcome wherever we go. As we are not a burden to the nation, we are a pleasure to be part of the nation. We'll see this. We'll change and these things will... has come through for decades and centuries with mankind.

Any other question.

R: ... We have a number of questions and I think we'll start with the practical questions about some of the products that you mentioned and so on. We have a question from Anonymous Attendee in the Q&A who asked...

K- Who has done this before, didn't we?

R: Pardon me?

K- Who's this one?

R: I'm not sure, it just says Anonymous Attendee and there's no ... name attached to it, I don't see anonymous attendee in our list. So, they may have come in as anonymous attendee, or somehow changed their name for the Q&A.

K- Ah, okay.

R: The question is, does the...

K- If the question we would like to ask, answer, I will take it as a non-question, carry on.
(1:42)

R: Sorry, I missed that, could you say that again?

K- We'll see what the question is, and then we decide, if we answer to somebody who doesn't exist.

Q: ... So, it's a question about the Twinity Stamina product, the Gans that we had a look at on the screen... Does it work for smokers, drug addicts, masturbators? What is the shelf life? After I use it for a while, when I don't want to use it anymore, can I give it to someone else, such as parents, family members, etc. to use?

K- The Stamina is not for this job. You're talking about the Detachment. And you have to understand how to use it. And we have introduced a new structure of the use of this as the Gans water. And for that you have to look into the, what you call, the Detachment, and not into the Stamina.

R: Okay, is there a shelf life to it?

K- No...

R: last forever?

K- No, do not share. Do not ever share any of it.

R: No, I mean, does it last forever though, for, for personal use, let's say?

K- It has a time, as long as the Gans survives, stays, but the Gans's have a dimension of changing energy. But these Twinity sets do not share, especially if you hold it in your hand, do not share. (1:44) It's like they're very much, in this section, very much like the Pain Pen.

If you understand it, the process. The Twinity to do with the, what you call, the last week set, those you can, you can use it, but don't change it. You cannot change it, because one is for female, one is for male. But, the interaction of the two, creates a new dimension of energy between the two. If you are a husband and wife, and use one of each, you will feel a change. We know this, we've done this, we know exactly what will create. We never discussed it, but those of you who took, what do you call it, a Flagpole, and you don't get one for your wife, you'll find out, it changes, it brings a totally different dimension to one who used it. Even changes, one says, the atmosphere of the house. The relationship in the house changes to a beautiful dimension. It's the characteristic of creating social structure.

We've done a lot of work into this. It's very interesting, how things turned out with these Twin sets. The last week Twin sets is amazing. (1:46) If you're a couple and the, what you call, the Stamina, is good with those two, very much so. The what we call, Detachment, is to let go of certain things which are connected to ?? rapidly. Even people with, with emotion of everything else, they'll find it, you will see the change. They'll start getting dispatched from next week or the week after, once they are produced completely. And then we'll see what comes out from the things.

It's very much ... the new system, you... you... you all know that Keshe Foundation has got a, what you call it, a policy which we put out a year ago. If you buy a policy you have to attend two one hour session, a year, into the systems. And then, we, because we evolving, it changes the system. And this morning we received one of the most amazing things, what this system has done. I cannot read it to you, the gentleman knows who he is. But, this is the second, third time, we have seen a physical change, using these systems, being part of the structure of these new changes. And when I was reading it this morning when it was received, it really, really brings home how beautiful this technology is. I'm sure the Knowledge Seeker is on the line, if they want to say what happened to them.

And three people in the last session, (1:48) last Saturday, have seen a physical change in their life. We changed the parameter in our system. If you were on a system, last Saturday, the structure, the system used, has switched slightly. Because it was time to change to a new position. And, we seen how people on Saturday session, these are the people who were missing from the Friday before, so we arranged a Saturday for them, as you know some of you joined in. They have totally changed physically. And that was the whole manifestation of transmutation. And now we see how people go through the Soul, and come back to the dimension of physicality, and they repair their body.

We've had many of these in the past. But now with a new system, much, much, what we call, in line, not more powerful, more in line with the STM. Now we see, when I was telling you years ago in this, that you expand your Soul and when you come back into it, you can change the, what do you call, the ?? feeding of physicality with it. I wish the Knowledge Seeker was here, he could tell you what happened to him. Then it can be done, it's not the power of the system did something. We have, we are perfecting the art of, you have a cancer, you go through the system, your Soul, if it's in line with your STP, if the wish and sincerity of giving what we call, love, even to yourself, to existence, will change your body. Because you do it, not us, we just allow that. (1:50)

When you sleep, you just expand through the Soul, through the head of the man. And you pass through, and if anyone reaches the point that they leave in a specific way. You can see, it's happened, it's not the first time, it's happened more or less, most probably every day of the life of this planet, has happened to somebody or the other, but we just call it, or by magic, or something strange happened. Because what, now we learn to do it, control it, is back to the same situation, the healing of the body by yourself, not by anybody else. And now with the new system we see.

It's the same with cancer, we are stepping one step closer, to understanding of the work, the life of the cancer, not work of the cancer. How cancer lives, in cancer cell, how a cancer tumor lives, in the body of the man. The condition of its creation. This technology has taken me maybe 20 years to develop and we are in one of the most beautiful stages of understanding the life of cancer as an entity. And the reason for its manifestation, and the reason for its emigration across the body.

And, with combining the two side of the technology together, in emotion, Soul and STP, understanding it, it's a matter of weeks, before we go, most probably public with it, that every doctor, (1:52) has to do certain parameter work to literally, as our friend said, the Polish government was it, shooting the immigrants. Here we don't shoot anything. We give them a welcome party, and they will change. We know, we understood the psychosomatic of the cancer for decades. Many time I explained, about it.

But now it was the problem of what we call, finding the answer to the confirmation of existence of it, which now we think we have achieved it. And we go with a Blueprint, one day, most probably, across millions of people, they can do it at home, they don't need us. The way we showed you to the MaGrav most probably if everything we get right, maybe 100, 200, 1000 people with a cancer, even stage 4 cancer, can go online, and watched by ?? the doctors, monitored by the doctors, on the x-rays, they can create a condition of body that the cancer, you find the answer in the STM and they will not be there.

In its stage we understand these things we understand now very, very, very, very, very well. And as I said, I thanks the Creator, for opening the door of knowledge. Because, when you understand it is so beautiful, and when you can implement it to bring a change, is more beautiful than anything else. (1:54) And you have to understand, what you connect to what, and what's the reason of it. And, "Is my Soul happy with this change?" That's the first question you ask, before you do the thing. And not that "I do it, it'll be okay." Those of you who suffer from attachment, repeat the attachments of certain materials, or conditions, or emotion, try it and see what you find out about yourself.

Any other question?

Q: ... What happens when a woman decides to have an abortion when the heart is still beating? What happens to the child's Soul when it has been aborted? Where does the Soul go? Is the mother still connected to it? And can the mother change the position of the child that has been aborted and bring the balance back to the child that wasn't born?

K- Can you repeat the question? (1:56)

Q: ... Okay, what happens when a woman decides to have an abortion when the heart is still beating of the child? What happens to the child's Soul that has been aborted? Where does that Soul go? Is the mother still connected to it? And can the mother change the position of the child that's been aborted bring balance back?

K- This question has been asked many times by the mothers who had abortion. It's not the first time I've faced this question. And, in a way, I answered the question in the past few minutes. Usually we do not see the creation of the Soul till about 14 weeks. The guidelines is 10 weeks for the mother. We... this is part of the... that's a legal guideline. But, if you have not reached that stage, now we have technologies which the doctors should, I think, world of Creation should, observe the establishment of the Soul. Then, yes. You have to, and if done so, you transfer the fields to and you make a connection.

If you don't feel any connection with, it means the Soul is not created, especially the mother. And this is roughly what you have to understand. For you, this is what scientifically we understand. (1:58) You cannot connect to something which is not there. You connect to Soul of a child, if you have a miscarriage at 20th month or 30th month, you see the mother is really getting emotionally attached to, because they have a connection to the Soul. And that goes with the same. Usually before 14 weeks, we don't see completion of the Soul. The whole thing is a physical progress of making that ?? division, individual Souls. But the STP, STM, has both, has to be in completion. Because one has to support the other and the other has to exist to be able to support it.

But with the new technology which we are developing and now... If you remember, years ago, I showed this position and actually the spot where the Soul is. Now, developing technologies which...

(Just one second, I have to answer to this message, one second please. It's very important).

K- (2:00) Sorry about that. There is a structure where ... in the Space you cannot do this, with the human body, it's possible, with the delay of time, due to physicality. In the creation of the Soul of a child through the Soul, or Mitra, what we call it, the Soul is already established before physicality. "Thy shall not kill", not even in the first day. And this is the part of the cycle which as we mature, we understand more. We... it's very interesting how these things work and how research has shown so much.

In the recent past, with the development of technologies, it's possible scientifically, to change condition that women who are not .. , due to the condition of the ovaries and other things, do not release eggs on a regular basis. Due to whatever. With the new technology, the research shows, you can change that. (2:02) For the man who do not create sperm enough to lead to pregnancy, as we see, which is, that's why most of the, what we call, because if the clinics work on the man, than the woman, because it's the man, whatever, with "lazy eggs." Now it's possible through technology to change that. So, now when you do that, then is it the right thing, in that process with the new technology, to embed within the structure of the body, creation of the Soul, child. The same with the man.

Those of you who are lucky enough, if you understand the process, creation of Children of Mitra, which are the children created through the Soul, will not get addicted to sex, but you become complete with the Creation of, not needing to. You feel the Creation through the Soul. You physically feel it. The same with the mother, the same with ?? . And the same with the confirmation of existence. In the future, hopefully, we put a special program just for this to explain and then you can train yourself to understand the creation of the Children of Mitra. (2:04) And then you see how they are created. You feel the motion of the Soul, you feel the structure of the Soul movement. Then, then those children cannot be aborted, because the womb of the mother is the sacrosanct for creation of that life. Because his Soul is already embedded, life is existing, than the man which first you make the physicality and then the Soul. There's a lot to teach, but man is not ready for this knowledge.

Any other question?

R: Well, perhaps we're ready for the knowledge that, in Mark's question, who, ... was present in the Keshe Plasma Reactor Group yesterday, and his question is... he actually put a little one minute video together, to have to do with this question. So, I'll play that without the sound, or perhaps I should play it with the sound later, because...

K- Is there anything we might cause a problem with the sound?

R: No, it's just him talking about his little invention here, having to do with the Star Formation or Tetrahedral.

Q: ... He says that Mr. Keshe said, at one point, that he would add to the knowledge of the Star Formation or that Tetrahedral Configuration. (2:06) So, Mark is asking, "What have the Knowledge Seekers missed, And can you give us another aspect or something to ponder about this topic? Other scientists may be listening and it may help them in their research.

R: So let me... before you answer Mr. Keshe, let me play his kind of cute little video here, and maybe it explains a little more about...

<< Rick shows video of Mark and his Star Formation >>

R: (2:08) Okay, that's it, and... So can you add to the knowledge of the Star Formation (SF), for Mark and others who would like to know?

K- Nowadays, in our research, we don't do the Star Formation the way it's done by most of the Knowledge Seekers (KS). And we have taken a different path and we see different results. But you got to understand the Star Formation has different interpretation as a plasma of fields, than the plasma of the matter. And we work at the moment with the plasma of the fields. And I've seen this before and I was explaining actually today to one of our Knowledge Seekers. If you reach a point of creating plasma in all three in a correct way, (2:10) and knowing that the plasma always finds its balance on its own, you cannot dictate a balance to it, you'll find out and you will see that you put the plasma in the positions that are now, as we see on the picture. But...

How can I annotate on this? Can I? How do I annotate?

<< Mr. Keshe tries to write on the screen >>

K- ... Okay, you shown your three reactors. (2:12) In the plasma reactors, if you for example, create a plasma in this reactor, like this, and you reach the point of balance, for the field. Not just because you put your reactors, they have to be here, as reactors have to find their own balance. You might actually find your reactors, still in their position, but, your plasma appears somewhere else. Usually, a few seconds before this happens, or a few seconds when this happens, because you see the plasma without, actually you say, "Oh I put my reactors here, why the light is in the middle?" And you might see one of the lights, or three of the lights, in different positions, not necessarily where you put them. Because this is the energy balance, magnetic gravitational balance between them, as they balance each other, you find that you have your reactors but you don't have your plasma, plasma is outside, but maintained. And usually when this happens, you say, bye, bye, your set is gone. The whole thing finds it's... what you call, positioning in respect to the ground level you are.

And when you see them going, going through the ceiling or whatever, you never find them. Because they don't even... it's energy pack. And strange enough, they cover the whole of your even reactors. (2:14) I've lost a few system like this, and the first time you're shocked what happened, and then second, third time you're used to, you can understand it, and you find exactly what happened and how it happens. You dictate this position of the reactor in the matter state. It does not mean that the plasma follows your wish, because once established, interacts with, and now, he has to find a balance. The balance might sit here. And you, you will see this.

And there is a way to lock it to the position, always in the same position. And so, this is what you, the Knowledge Seekers have missed, and because of this, a lot of you, a lot of times, cannot reach the desired effect. You haven't missed, you haven't understood fully. They say, in the language, we say, "Don't think what you wish is good for you." Don't think, just because I built the reactor in a position I think it is, with the Gans's, is the right position for it. It finds its own position. You've missed a lot. A lot has been missed, a lot has been learned. (2:16) And these are the things which Keshe Foundation Research we are doing. We are quite aware of these things.

Any other questions?

R: ... So, yes, question from Gail again from the Plasma Reactor Group. And she's quoting some things that you said about the cell.

Q: ... We know that Calcium is in every cell, and is considered a Black Hole. And also that the quote from you I think is, "We would be mush on the floor if it wasn't for Calcium." So how is Calcium linked with the Carbon 12 and Carbon 14? Is Nitrogen part of that link?

K- Carbon 12 (C12)... Carbon is connected to Carbon 12, it's got nothing to do with Carbon 14. In a way it has, but not much.

R: You said Carbon is connected with Carbon 12, you mean Calcium is connected with Carbon 12?

K- ?? with Carbon 12. Can you go on Wikipedia and tell us what is the Calcium? The atomic mass and atomic weight. (2:18)

R: Just a second here.

K- I'll tell you a joke about Calcium one day.

R: Joke about Calcium? Yeah, that seems funny in itself.

K- It's about the history of the Keshe Foundation. When I started writing the first papers for myself and things, I didn't want people to know, what you call it, or not to go directly in target. I played with a lot of Periodic Table. I knew what it is. Anybody else doesn't make any sense. And I gave a few page note to someone to read it. And I put what is potassium. We put K. And I put Calcium instead of Potassium, that they don't understand what it is. And this guy was a chemist. He says, "Your technology is wrong because you don't even know the difference between Calcium and Potassium." And at that time I don't want anybody to know, that I use Potassium for increasing the energy for creating Nano materials. He said, "There is no way you're going to get support from us, you don't know the difference." And I said in my head, God knows what, you don't even know why it's there. In the past, you know, in olden days they used to write it in code. I knew wherever I wrote a Calcium, it's Potassium, (2:20) because Potassium increases the ionization effect through Carbon, whatever Potassium 40. And, whenever I say Calcium, sometime it reminds me of that guy said, if you knew what I knew and why I wrote it. Okay. What do you have as Calcium? Can you read it to us?

R: Calcium is a chemical element, is symbol Ca, an atomic number of 20. As an alkaline Earth metal, Calcium is a reactive metal, that forms a dark oxide nitride layer when exposed to air. Shall I continue with that or...?

K- So it's 20 and 40. Yeah? You have 20... Now I've got my board back. Okay. Now you've got to understand this. You got Hydrogen at 1. You have C12, you have Nitrogen 14, you have Oxygen 16. Now, you got it back, you took it back, Rick. I lost my white board.

R: I didn't do anything but ...

K- Okay, let me get it back again. Okay. Start again.

You have Carbon 12. You have Hydrogen 1. You have Nitrogen 14. (2:22) And you have Oxygen 16. (All add up to) 43. You have Calcium Isotope 43. I wish we could separate these that you could see it. Now maybe for the first time you understand which Carbon, which Calcium is connected to human Amino Acid and you understand, has a deviation of 10% in the higher level and then you add Calcium 40. To have a Calcium 40, it means you have to be lower by 3, which is isotope, energy balance, we are not talking about the atomic, the number of electrons and protons, energy balance to the energy of Carbon and Calcium 40. This is very hard, but once converted, very stable. So, when you talk, if you, we can't have... Go back to Calcium again please.

R: Okay I'm not sure if I can do that without disturbing you.

K- We can come back to it. Okay. When you look at the bone structure of the man, we see Calcium 43 on, let me just delete if you haven't changed, I'll teach you something else. (2:24) When you look at the bone of the man, the bone is hollow, majority of the time. Because this is where we produce, it's the cavity where we produce the, what you call it, the bone marrow, as they come through. The bone marrow confirmation, conversion, does not happen on the outer layer of the bone. It happens in the inner layer. In a way, the Amino Acid once when the...

Let me give you a new page, that I can explain it, and edit. I need a new page. I want to get a new page. One day I'll learn how to use this system. Oh, where is this? I'm going to start a new page for you to... These are part of the... this new thing which I have a problem with.

I open up the structure, then you understand scientifically what happens, why Calcium is connected to the, what you call it, the bone structure. The heavier the mass is, the harder and closer to matter state. Here, majority of the (outer) bone are Calcium 43. Here, the majority of (of inner bone is) Calcium is Carbon 40. (2:26)

R: You mean Calcium 40, correct?

K- No, no, no, no, no, no. Sorry, the Calcium 40, yes.

But, but, very interesting is that, the lymph has to wriggle its way to come here, to become part of bone marrow. The way the system works is, heavier feeds the lighter in the strength, the stronger feeds the weaker. Due to ... outside, it's a Calcium 43 outside and a Calcium 40 in the center, the lymph due to being in a way plasmatic, moves to a lower strength to come. It's still got element of Amino Acid in it as it's lymph. So when it gets to this point, its plasmatic field motion brings it to this point. Now your Calcium is Calcium 40. But the material arrives in a new environment, and the Amino Acid of the bone marrow is 40. It needs, as long as it's weaker, it need, it will stay in that position. It needs to be rejected to and outside of the bone. So, now, you come with a different structure. (2:28) This is the head of the bone. A soft tissue, it's softer than the bone itself. Now, this bone marrow, this bone area, is soft, and its Nano layers in a very specific way. And certain strength can go through, get repelled by field motion. So to get repelled, to get moved, you have to create a condition, that now you need a support from another element, which in a way converts the Amino Acid with, because of the pressure of the bone marrow, converts to Calcium. But this is Calcium 40, it's not Calcium 43. And becoming a Calcium, it attaches itself, it gets embedded inside of the Amino Acid, which is 43. These Nano layers have certain affinity to certain strengths of the Calcium because it's of their own and the Amino Acid inside the bone marrow. Creation of the rejection of the fields.

As one marrow is pulled up, in a way pushes itself out, you have a field for rejection. (2:30) Then this Amino Acid uses the Calcium inside as a weight of a 'slingshot' to move out, through the Nano layers. So the Calcium in the cell, inside the Amino Acid to become a cell, is product of the Calcium 40 in the environment of bigger field of 43. And if the scientists understand, which a lot of scientists understand, the Calcium we have in our blood, in every cell, is Calcium 40, not Calcium 43. And in Amino Acid, the stronger trying to feed the weaker, makes the plasmatic magnetic field of the Calcium as a center point. This is how it becomes the gravity. You have proteins and the structural Amino Acid that are all 43. The only reason they come together is because of the Calcium 40. In a way they're trying to feed it, to make a connection, to create a balance, and through the process of his work, it's releasing all the energy out. And then it becomes energy, becomes a propeller for it to reject out of the body. (2:32)

This is one of the reasons why we even have a bone in the center of all our structure. And this is why you have heavy tissues on the back, the loin, where you don't have much muscle cover on the ribs. That muscle structure carries a very, very light Calcium, and comparison, very heavy, what we call, Amino Acid, in the order of 45-47, where normally it's 43. This gives a different texture. So, when it's heavier and it pulls more, radiates out. It can cover the hollow section of what we call, even the stomach. This is why, we don't have anything between the ribs and our hip. This is where, if you look, your loins, the back loins are the strongest. The Calcium inside, takes the job of covering to fields the shape.

And that's why you... majority of us run into back problem. When you have a back problem, look at your Calcium level. The strength is not there, because the conversion of the Copper, which is 64, 62 and 60's, which produces the muscle tissues, supports the muscle life, is concentrated with a Calcium 40 in the center. So it becomes very tight. And that tightness creates tough tissue, But that top tissue creates a massive magnetic field, which replaces the Calcium as rib cage. (2:34) And, you see, the minute you come to the tail end, even the animals, the muscle thins out, because the hip takes that position of the Calcium, gravitational field balance. Those of you who suffer from the back problem, especially around the hip, look at your Calcium structure, you'll find out very quickly you can solve it, because it's there, it's built that way.

And so, the Calcium, its position, its shape, is... and because it's in the center of every cell, through the bone marrow, dictates our life, dictates our structure, even dictates our emotion. As I said, you see the position of the Soul and position of the heart, you can see what kind of person it is. Calcium of the skull of the man, creates certain fields and the shape of it creates certain characters, certain behaviors. And that shape of the skull the Calcium used, dictates the orientation of the cells of the brain of the man, and the connection of the plasma of the emotion. Creation is very simple, once you understand it, and then you see how it is.

That's why if you understand the magnetic field, your, your loins, on the back of your spine, dictate the position of your kidney. Dictates the strength of your kidney. Because it's not just a loin, you have to look what field it creates, what it covers. Why do we have all the liver and kidneys and everything, (2:36) up near our chest cavity? Right here on the top, the stomach is at the bottom. Because, the combination of field of the back muscle, the loins, and the rib cage magnetic fields, dictates, I can hold on to heavier material, the liver. The things, they can hang on me, by this magnetical field, but they create all sorts of things for it to ?? manifest. And if you understand this, you can take the liver out, create that field, support that field, you see the liver to be created again from fresh.

You have to understand, at the point of birth there was no liver. How did it come there? Because the rib cage and the stomach or whatever, created a field that, that field allows construction of something we call it liver, storage capacity, automatic feeding. Why do we have two kidneys on two sides, I explained before. Because the magnetic field of the emotion of man trying to, brings it to where has to be, and this is the best position, the field strength to confirm this is the position. And then, condition of the salinity and everything else, dictates the structure.

The position of our organs is decided by our bone structure, and the muscle tissue strength. Inside is decided by what we call, the needs of the STM. These things you have to understand, why Calcium is in the center of everything. You have Amino Acid of 43, 45, you need to hold the things together, to be able to go through rejection of the bone marrow, (2:38) and the soft tissue magnetic field layers of the Nano material, on the head of your bone. Why your, if you get a chicken bone, if you get any bone, why is it different color, why is it sometimes darker? Have you looked at your Nano material? Have you seen how porous it is? It's just... you cannot scrape... a layer of Copper from the Copper plate with your nail. You make it Nano layer, layer by layer, a week, and you just rub it and it's on your finger. It's the same Copper. It's the position ?? you have it . And your... top of your bone, that brownish you see with, or it's five different color, it's the same. It's a space gap, is, is in total Nano on top of our, head of especially our Femur, is totally structured from Nano layers. And what space gap we say energy hides in it, that space gap detects, dictates, what energy is pulled out of the bone marrow, to go back into the blood vessel.

Knowledge of Creation is very simple, if you understand it. And when you understand this, you can create systems to deliver certain behaviors. And this is why you have, what you call it, the Amino Acid, through the pressure on the inner layer, what you call, the process of lymph nodes, coming from inside ?? inside, that Amino Acid converts into matter state, which can stand the gravitational field of the planet, which is Calcium.

Calcium doesn't come through your bone marrow and become Calcium from here, Calcium coming through. It's lymph, as it comes through the gravitational magnetic field, converts into Calcium 40. (2:40) We don't eat up, our body doesn't just, phew, produce, what you call it, holds to Calcium and rejects it. And this, is made this way. Don't forget, the lymph as it comes in is energy packed, but it's got Amino Acid with it, already has a seed of the Calcium with it, that's why it gets, pulled in. And then, in this process of gaining more energy in the bone structure, matures and manifests itself as a seed of the lymph which it came in, conversion.

We forever recycle protein, or recycle production and creation of Calcium in the body. Now you know why. Just follow Knowledge of Creation. We can always feed the ?? lighter. The Amino Acid cannot be inside that 42. By being outside, we need something to hold it together, which is the Calcium, because the, this planet decides this. Gravitational magnetic field of the Earth, decides Calcium to have this gain, this position.

If you think of it in a different way, Calcium production and maintenance is like a donkey. Calcium is a donkey of carrying Amino Acids of different energies to different positions. (2:42) And when it gets there, it delivers. And when it's surplus it comes back to conveyor belt, to be reloaded. If its energy is below, I calculate what's about, below 38, 36, we reject it as part of our rejection system through intestines. If it is above, it is 46, 48, it becomes a seed for cancer. Because then, it takes more and more of solid state matter.

Any other question?

R: Thank you Mr. Keshe. I think Gail will be playing that excerpt back, quite a few times to extract the information. Thank you. We have three questions from George in the chat.

Q: ... Hello Mr. Keshe, thank you for your new products. It will make me very happy if you could release a product of the Twinity type, for the victimization syndrome, people who have been victims. And now even the traumatic event is gone, their mind is still looping into that traumatic time and space, even decades after. Thank you. What do you think about a victimization syndrome Twinity?

K- Traumas are emotions and they have certain field strength. (2:44) We understand it partially, and you cannot make a Twinity Gans for such a thing, as it has a different spectrum of energy with different people. But through the Universal System in Germany, you can change that. With Gans's you cannot do, because it's different field strength and the systems in Germany and Austria, the remote systems are built for this job.

Q: ... Okay, well that leads into the second question which is a question from the last time, Mr. Keshe. If you could help us to understand how to fix or elevate the negative emotions that belong to us and/or have been inherited from our ancestors. Part of the answer is by Twinity. Part is transmuting. But for those who have access to neither of these, the solution would be?

K- Can you read it again?

Q: ... If you could help us understand how to fix or elevate the negative emotions that belong to us and/or we have inherited from our ancestors. Part of the answers by the, I assume the Twinity products and part is by the transmuting processes that have been offered. But for those who have access to neither of these, the solution would be what? (2:46) Please teach us more deeply about elevating emotions. Thank you.

K- Elevating emotions. You've got to understand that, you cannot just .. promote emotions. You have to understand where that emotion comes from, and what's the reason of it. Because emotion is a characteristics of what we call, partially the behavior. behavior? I'm trying to find a way to explain it. You cannot... You can create certain emotions, which can help the other emotions to, what you call it, to elevate, or to reach a new level, or for you to achieve certain things with them. But it needs a lot of work. I am trying to find a way to explain it that makes sense.

As I always said, for example, you can't ask someone, I pay you to love me, or I pay you to trust me. (2:48) It has to be understood and shared and elevated. And this goes the same with emotions. It doesn't matter what emotion you talk about. And the best way to do it, to find the nearest emotion to and try to move from one emotion to another. In a way you feed it. But, not the opposite to. Not, what you call it, sadness and joy. But, what is next to joy, emotion, happiness? What is next to happiness? Content. And so you move across the (from) content to happiness to joy. And it's very easy to elevate these kind of emotions. And we gradually learn how to live with these conditions. And it's very easy, then you find out, if I'm content, I'm happy, if I'm happy, I am joyful.

It needs a lot of understanding of one's self, emotion and the spectrum of emotion, because now with the space technology, we are learning about new emotions we didn't know. And, because we learn how to connect, we learn how to connect with the others, and how to move from one to another. We can do with what we know already, too. (2:50)

Any other question?

Q: ... He would be very happy if you could release a Twinity-like product for chronic constipation. It may sound silly, but if you are constipated, your entire health and social connections are very affected in a negative way. Plus, you don't think right, you don't act right. Thank you.

K- We have already developed this years ago. This is in our vocabulary of knowledge. Maybe in the future we might do, but you actually don't need it. It's a different, different structure, because you have to find out, how it has come about, it has a psychological, emotional condition. And, you have to understand it. Sometimes, it happens through the physical dimension, but some of these have an emotional reason behind it. Then you can sort this.

Not everything can be done with a Gans or a Twin Gans. Yes, we touch the emotion, but you have to understand what I... Is there physically, what you call it... There's some surveys, some research done by... don't ask me how I know this information... But it goes back in my business time. (2:52) If you look at certain shape of what we call the European toilets. Manufacturers produce toilet seats according to nationality, according to the culture. And, they've done a lot of these tests, with a lot of things, how you sit on whatever. And, certain seating of European seats especially, creates condition of constipation. And the manufacturers know that. Because it positions your hip in a certain way, okay, it fits the Chinese, but it won't fit the European. It's a different shape of a structure, and they change. You think you go to a manufacturer and you buy a toilet or whatever, but they've done the studies on these things, that, how does the shape of the toilet, affects how your colons work? And, yes it does.

If you have, and you lived in a house for a long time, change your toilet, and see if it changes. Change your habit, and see if it changes. There is... I got to know this in a totally different way through my business life. And ... you find out, if you go for example, to Malta, (2:54) the toilets are, doesn't matter where you go, toilets in hotels are what we call baby toilets. Short. And because it's an island, everything is a small population, literally short, on average, than the rest of Europe. So, they build these short toilets. And, you find out, in research, they associate a lot of problems for long-term stay people in, in Malta, regarding constipation and the rest. But all you get used to it and there is nothing there.

Look at, and then look at your psychological, and then you, you might find an answer to it. On the other hand there is a lot of things to do with how we see tension with us. If we, if you are constipated, you look at the stress point, and your eating habit, what created to create a lazy, what you call it, intestine. You have to find out. Go back where you started, and see what change you made that time in your life, and then you find it out.

Every time you have a disease, or you have a condition, go back 5 to 7 years, observe what you've done, you find the answer, you don't need a doctor. And then you find it, fix that 7 years ago, fix that 5 years ago, fix what happened 3 years ago. And then you'll find out, you'll find what the reason, if you can fix it and how it's happened, and if it is, if you can reverse. (2:56) Psychology of the position and the memory, because that thing creates a new effect.

Always, you have a cancer of a certain part, go back. Find out what that cancer has to do with what emotion, and then find out how that emotion was created, for what reason, when. When did it... Don't lie to yourself, you find an answer. And then go back in how you felt, what emotion it created in you. And then you find out how you started your cancer. Can you reverse the emotion because of what you felt? Yes, it can be done, but it's a bit complicated.

Emotion, with the, as I said in the last teachings, creates, in conjunction with the structure of the body of man, certain condition of solidification. You change that, it's like a, you know, at 40 degrees, the... nothing happens, so you go 42 degrees, in a freezer goes ice, rock, solid. Find out which temperature, what emotion gave the strength you created, that solidification.

The new cancer development and its success is totally regarding this, understanding this process. (2:58) Many of the constipation comes from fear. And once it sets, you carry it. You find that you're very good, but when you go somewhere, out of fear or whatever, you cannot do, it stops. And then, sort out the fear, the emotion of it.

Any other question?

Rick, I have sent you some messages on the channel. If you can put three of them up, because I received a message from the, one of the webmasters, somebody called it, people to put these up. Because, it's important for some of the knowledge to get. Can you put them up together, all three of them, and come out? Have you seen them? Hello Rick?

R: Yes, let me just share here.

K- ... These are, as we said, Keshe Foundation is opening, in conjunction with Knowledge Seekers around Europe, what we call the, retail shops in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. And we try to promote this on the website. If you want to buy the products of the Keshe Foundation physically, and see more products, or whatever, or you want to buy services of Keshe Foundation, these shops now are operating in these three countries. Soon there will be more of them. They are exclusively, (3:00) only sell Keshe Foundation products, and the future products which come up under different licensing.

So, you'll find out, for example, the one in Austria will have a, what you call it, a workshop in the, in September. It's a shop within another structure of the, what you call, the restaurant. But it's one of those most beautiful places you can have a barbecue of the fish, directly from near, what you call it, one of the branches of the, what you call, Danube. And it's a place to go and at the same time, these shops are connected to other structures, which is very normal in Europe. And, so we're promoting the people who start these kind of things, and you find most of the products, Keshe Foundation released, you don't need to order, you can just buy and walk away, with the products. And they do, running their workshops and the seminars and the rest, which we support with them, because, contractually, they're part of the Keshe Foundation, of its work, shape or form. Thank you very much.

Is there any other questions?

R: We had a interesting question in German, in our Q&A here. We've got, actually, quite a few questions in the Q&A, and I know we're running short on time here.

Q: ... He says that you said months ago, that the Gans era is over. (3:02) So why the change now, and that we wanted to get away from the Gans's? Why do we see the Gans's being offered currently?

K- We offer these Gans's temporarily, till the, what we call, Enhancement Units are fitted with this. And we're learning where the mistakes are, where we can improve it, that once we make the solid states, we cannot change it so easy. We use it as a stepping stone to the future developments of the field replication.

R: And to be clear, you're using the fields of the Gans, not the actual Gans materials themselves, correct? They're made to be... transfer the fields to water, and not the mixing the Gans in the water, which is quite a bit different.

K- Yes, when you receive these materials, you see it's a big difference between these materials and you had before. And they are three layers of material in it. We have managed to understand more, but because of the structure, we add new materials to it, and those materials are just like agents. They are not the actual performing the Gans's. But it's, as I said, it's a development in new technology. And these Gans's are not the usual Gans's you ever had before. Use, and you'll understand it when you get it.

And for example with the Stamina Gans, we advise you to at least add something else to it, that we will recommend when you receive it, you know what you have to do and what we can replace it in the system ourselves. (3:04) These are what we call, a trial Unit and the feedback we get allows us to set up our fields.

It's very simple, we don't constantly produce, that's why if you listen before I said, there are very few pieces of these, this is not going to be forever there. We do a trial of 150 and what we get response back from huge knowledge, it is usually write back to us what was and what the effect is, allows us to set up our system.

As I said, the technology is advanced in so many ways, beyond imagination, that as we want to add, we have to go to what you understand, what is available to you, then come back to us. Most of people with... you will see now we introduced the Twin System, Twin Set. In the next few days, maybe next couple of weeks, you will get the Twinity System. But, you receive a Gans at home, you connect through the headphones to the Wellness Center. Sometimes you only need to hold the Gans in your hand, while you're in touch, your headphone to connect it to the Wellness Center. This when it's completed, we'll tell you. Sometimes you need to cover your hand with the Gans's. And when you hold your phone with your headphone, we create a circuit we need to do.

Let me explain to you, most of you, I'm sure most of you in Knowledge Seekers don't even, have never understood the process. (3:06) We give you the Gans's. The Gans needs energy transfer. Put the Gans water on your knee. Okay. Put the Gans on your hip. You do. No connection. But, what changes the condition and the work of the Gans? Remember part of the teaching, always we tell you, once connected, cannot be changed.

You have a connection like a mother and child. You used... now I have to go to one step back to come forward.

The evolution of the man comes because man can move from horizontal to vertical. We sleep flat, we walk vertical. So, there is a variation of the fields, brings continuous maturity, spectrum of fields in use. You look at your, let's say, let's even call the, the best example is the Knee Gans, or the best example is the Cycle Gans. You don't put the Gans, the Gans doesn't jump on your skin, the water, on its own. You have to use your hand. And now you have two hands which are continuously moving, covered with Gans. And you have the knee connection. It's the hand which put the Gans on the knee. Now you understand, (3:08) you're continuously changing the dimension of the fields by motion of your hands, because of the Gans you carry on your hand, which you rub on your knee. Your hand is part of the system, everything which I have given you, ever, but it's hidden in different ways. You look at the Communication System, has got two hands. Why do you need your hand when you can do it? Because it connects the physicality to the dimension of variation in fields.

You'll find when you put the Gans water on your knee, you go and wash your hand, you ?? have a different effect, because now it has to work on its own. When you use the Knee Gans, you put on the hip, you create a circulation. This is a mobile circulation. When you use these Gans's, in which ever form you use, you will see when you dip it into the Gans water, you get different things on your syringes. Never turn them over. With the new Gans's, always use a syringe. 5ml syringe is there. We try to post it with every pack you see. When you dip it in, take that oil and with it rub on your skin. Because that's not Gans. But it has, it brings a different, what we call it, a structure which we are looking for.

And these are not simple, they are very complicated structures which we have developed. I told you what we developed, we can't even go public with it. So, we use and then we transfer this one in our systems. (3:10) We produce some Amino Acids which are specific for certain jobs, for certain diseases and are tested. Once we complete the cycle of testing, we use the implication in the field application, in the systems.

Any other question?

R: Well depending on how long you want to hold out here Mr. Keshe.

K- I'm just about to go. I had...

R: Yeah I think... I think so.

K- Yeah, I was about to give a few minutes ?? three hours ?? on something.

R: People have questions, they can save them for next week and we'll have another go at them.

K- No problem, thank you very much for being here and thank you for being and supporting us with what we are doing. And hopefully sooner or later things will take a different shape. Thank you very much, and see you next week.
