

E=MC2 Wrong - No C2 or Speed of Light - Energy Equals Mass Plasma - M Fields Included - All Light

Introduction to 616 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

This workshop is a massive release of knowledge about how everything is created through the plasma, and Mr. Keshe is attempting to educate matter state scientists as to one of the root problems for them not being able to understand it. A part of the problem sits with Einstein's formula  $E=MC^2$ , and it will be explained why it is wrong. Mr. Keshe has a lot of experience in working with scientists and they always refer back to  $E=MC^2$  and it creates a block for them to go forward. So I decided to do a little research into the background of this formula that is inextricably linked to the name Einstein.

First of all he was not the first one to come up with using Speed of Light (SOL) as a constant. In 1873 the Russian physicist and mathematician Nikolay Umov used a version of this formula when trying to figure out the energy in the ether, but he added a "k" in the form of  $E = kmc^2$ . Later on, it seems that one of the reasons the scientific community accepted  $C^2$  was because it provided them a way to say why there was a huge amount of energy released in a small amount of nuclear material. It also seems to me that they discovered about nuclear through experimenting and not through understanding how it truly works. Definitely not the way Mr. Keshe is describing it. As nuclear was gaining huge political and financial power they needed to be able explain it to those funding the projects and the public. As the American's took control over nuclear and through their public relations tactics they put Einstein on the cover of Time magazine and promoted  $E=MC^2$  as an easy way to satisfy the public and keep them out of the regulatory process. One thing led to another and it became a scientific fact that everyone believed to be absolutely true without question. Then they brought in certain research which they said proves Einstein was correct and a genius. That's where we are today. As soon as Mr. Keshe tries to explain the plasma, they bring up Einstein's  $E=MC^2$  and then the thinking process stops. Today he is opening this up so that we Knowledge Seekers (KS) and scientists understand the simple truth, that the Speed of Light ( $C^2$ ) has nothing to do with the Energy equivalent to Mass in terms of how the U works, which is plasmatic. And the things that do matter like the gravity and the expansion of the Energy he ignored. This shows he really didn't have the knowledge and was guessing, and for the most part nobody was allowed to confront him in a real way. They banned Tesla's paper about Einstein's work for over 100 years. Later in this workshop a new article about 2 merging Black Holes mentions that Einstein's formula didn't work in the calculations and this led them to considering M fields for the first time.

The best way forward is to clearly explain how in Plasma Science and in Reality, Energy and Mass work. Unfortunately, I don't understand it enough to do that. But I will attempt to bring as much clarity as I can, so at least we can start to think about it. It's very interesting that Mr. Keshe said he could not answer the specific question about the nuclear process the way it was worded in his final exam. Therefore, he decided to describe the whole nuclear process with all the calculus and integral equations from the start of it to the end. And he asked Professor Leslie to read from the end to the beginning, and somewhere in between he would get his answer. It's actually quite genius, and it was then that Mr. Keshe said, he fully understood how the plasma works. This is exactly what he is teaching us today, but he is summarizing parts of the process from the beginning to the end of how everything is created from the M fields. All the details of it will come out gradually over time as our capacity to understand increases.

Now that we know that Einstein was not able to understand the Energy and Mass equivalent, how do we explain it so all of us can understand? I am sorry but I could not understand Mr. Keshe's example of squeezing hard jelly in our mouth, other than the pressure of closing our teeth on it creates a wave. Maybe it releases the energy inside the jelly in the form of taste. Is the feeling we get from the taste a Mass? Later, he seems to imply that, when using another example of the brain, which we can discuss now. As the brain is a plasma, if we add a frequency and a pulse to it, it will create an emotion that it will convert into a motion, which is a physical expression of what we feel. Again, there are a lot of little bits and pieces of information that we have to decipher in our heads. I understood that the heartbeat creates a pulse that hammers against the brain tissue which is a plasma. Somehow the M fields created by the movement of the pulse converts into an emotion. We know the emotions are M fields. We know that when the plasma of the brain moves it will create M fields that have Energy. And when M fields move they also create Energy. There are different interactions going on at the same time and not to get confused we have to take it in small parts.

Let's take the example of experiencing fear. The heartbeat and pulse increase and through certain processes in the brain the Energy of the emotion converts into the physical motion of running. What I understood him to imply, is that the Energy of the emotion converts into running, which he is calling a Mass. This conversion of Energy into Mass has nothing to do with the Speed of Light (SOL). I understood that Energy of the emotion is getting converted into a physical reaction in the body, which is in the matter state. So we are going from Energy to the matter state, or Mass. But where I get stuck in my thought process is that the Mass in this case is a more functional aspect of matter, rather than a matter state object, which we usually consider. I don't know how else to think about it, unless the brain tissue actually creates a physical mass in the location that it experiences the emotion. If that were the case, then science would have picked it up on an MRI scan during their research. However, this is what happens when through our emotions we create a brain tumor. A mass forms in that area of the brain where it experienced the Energy of an emotion. So in this instance, we do see that Energy becomes Mass, or  $E = M$ . But I don't think we create a tumor every time we have an emotion. Or do we? So we need more clarification on this.

He went further into this. Energy is M fields in motion and equal to Mass. But it depends if the M fields are in motion or if they are stationary. If they are stationary then we consider the Inertia, which he says attaches to itself. Then if we squeeze the Energy we'll get a wave that will manifest physicality. The P is the same as the Mass. And this has nothing to do with the SOL. And further, a plasma is Energy and when it forms a pulse it creates an emotion which creates Mass. Then we have to consider when we travel in Space there will be the initial Energy and then there will be a field strength difference of when it reaches to a destination. This is one side of the equation, the other side is the Mass and that will be effected by the strength field of the Creator and that each of the universes in the Unicos have their own Mass constant. This is divided into two different forms. There is the Mass Matter, and Mass Energy condition. The Mass Energy depends on how the Creator was created. It's difficult to untangle and it's not clear what it means. And the Mass Matter is the Mass constant only for our U. And the Mass Energy in our U is not conditioned by the Mass Energy of the Unicos. We'll need to know this when we want to travel across the Unicos. If you noticed, no where does he mention the SOL for traveling in Space. In human science that's all they talk about is the SOL and the number of Light Years to travel Space. Maybe this is why Mr. Keshe said the knowledge Man has gathered up to now, including quantum and nuclear are insignificant when compared to the Plasma Science. This puts KS far ahead in their understanding.

In comparing the Plasma to the Ocean, when it is still there is no manifestation and is constant. What does 'constant' mean? Does it mean the Energy is in a potential state? And then when a boat passes it pushes the Mass in one place and creates waves and shows itself as a Mass in another place. Then it is these different Masses that can interact and cause destruction. I am wondering what this Mass is, that is being created. It doesn't seem to be a matter state object. Would it be the Mass Energy condition he talked about earlier? The hint he gave us was, what applies to the Energy also applies to the wind. Energy is M fields in motion, and the life of the Man is the wind in motion. When we can understand how the Energy becomes the Mass, then we'll know that there is nothing unique in the U, it all works on the same pattern. The pattern is, a plasma creates a pulse. That pulse is like putting a pressure on a M field which converts to a frequency and manifests matter. We learned that the same field contains both the M and G. This is the same as the Yin and Yang, the higher strength gives to the lower, this is what converts and becomes the frequency and the matter state. There are other interactions like Inertia and interactions with the environmental fields, but the pattern is the same. It's the same field that goes in the South and out the North Poles of our planet to cause it to rotate. In our understanding we give them different names but they are the same fields. The pattern is the same in all of Creation whether it is the plasma, creation of the U, the atom, the M fields of the protons and electrons, and everything else.

According to Mr. Keshe the original field strength of the Creator is the H and it changes in two dimensions. It's difficult to decipher, but he said this is one side of it. The other side is that the same field comes from two different directions in the U. The side that is lower in strength creates the Inertia, and the higher strength creates the wave, which then creates the Mass. Through our own understanding we have to fill in the gaps. Maybe in both cases he is really talking about the H. Nevertheless, this is where Energy gets created into Mass. This is what we call the 'mystery of life.' It's like watching the sperm and egg combine and then suddenly it starts dividing and multiplying cells. The M & G field interactions are unseen and appear as magic to us. The Mass is really part of the plasma. The Energy becomes the Energy of Emotion and converts to a Mass in the body.

But in this case the Mass is the physical reaction of the body, which is in the matter state. When we feel the love of our lover, it becomes a Mass in that we move the body to cuddle and kiss. This is how the energy converts into Mass. Or we run when we are afraid. This Energy Mass becomes the pulses in the blood. I am assuming this happens when we have emotions, the blood carries the Energy pulses and they interact to become Mass, or should we say the different physical reactions that run all the functions in the body. When there is more Energy than what the body can use it leads to brain stroke.

The enlightenment is when we have comprehended how Energy becomes Mass, or Creation, or how love manifests itself in P. There are many words for the same process, it's for us to get that feeling of it and then we'll become co-creators. And if we educate our child from the very beginning the true meaning of Energy and Mass, then they will have no problem understanding the plasma. Then the transmutation will be a short step further, and easy for them to comprehend, and it will be a confirmation that Energy is Mass. Now we can understand why humanity was purposely kept ignorant of this knowledge and they promoted people like Einstein and Stephen Hawking to secure their own position. When we understand how to transfer Energy into Mass, and Mass into Energy then we will complete the cycle of Creation. Then he said, there are further ways to manipulate the Energy by interacting with the 5th, 6th, and 7th dimensions. But this has to do with expanding Time into all 3 and then something about integrating the field strength. This is where we need to know about the M field that created this condition. This is where Professor Leslie said, that doesn't apply. And Mr. Keshe became the teacher and replied, of course it applies, because without it there would be nothing here. Since Science is atheistic they have to deny the M Field that created us. But we are not talking about the conceptual God of the hypocritical religions. Without the reality of the knowledge of the Initiator of the M Fields, humanity's science will never move ahead because it is missing the Foundation Energy. The calculations for traveling through the universes will be wrong because they are missing the foundational field strengths.

What I understood is that the Creator made the Energy to be M fields in motion so He could experience the beauty of Himself. This makes me think there are other ways Energy can behave and that there is more creation beyond our Creator. Even though he created Man in the image of Himself, he has no interaction with the pulses or frequency of Creation. This is the same way the STM behaves with the P of the Man. It was the Man who added emotions of greed, killing and the rest of it to the image. When the Love falls in the hands of the wrong fields it becomes the hurricanes and all the destruction we see with humanity. As a Westerner the next thing we usually ask is, why has God allowed this to happen? In India, they just call it a Divine 'Lila' or play, and leave it at that. From the point of view of Plasma Science we understand it as how the M fields interact, and the Creator in a way, watches His Creation and doesn't get involved in it. He sends His creations like Mr. Keshe and the Messengers to fix up Creation, since He Himself doesn't interact with it. In this way the balance is restored and life becomes richer from the experience. So it really is a Play, and nobody can be permanently lost. And if the damage gets too big it will simply be recycled again into the Energy of the Soul of the Creator (STC). On the one side we have the Void or where Energy does not exist, and on the other side we have the physical manifestation of the Mass.

The reason we kill is that the STP wants to match with the field strength of the STC, and he can't do it. He always falls short. The ONN Units will help Man to receive the Energy he is missing, then he'll have the time to study Life and understand his mistakes. The Aliens who live among us on this planet already do that and they don't have a mouth or stomach. But we don't see any of these people in our everyday life. So are they creating an illusory body for us to see? There was a man who helped NASA develop lasers who said he was from Pleiades and that he was conscious when he became human and remains to be conscious of his original origin. He had a presence and knowledge, but he was extremely fat, so he definitely liked to eat. Mr. Keshe must be talking about some other kind of manifestation as humans. If Aliens come through the womb then they will be just like us and eat food, or do they just appear to us to be eating? So there is more to understand in this D.

We are all isotopes of the Soul of the Creator. But we manifest ourselves in respect to the field Inertia of the environment, and we live according to Time, Place, Position, Possession, and emotion. This is where the Man developed greed and all the rest of it. But this is not the case with the Creator, He is rich and doesn't have greed. He doesn't try to be higher than the others, and He doesn't think or do wrong, because He's is the possessor of everything. He made Man in the image of Himself in the D of the Soul. Mitra and Zoroaster taught the essence of the beauty of the Creator's existence. And that if we followed the principle of Think, Speak, and Act Good we would live a harmonious life in balance with our environment. But Man has missed the path to his lover, the Creator. Instead he pretends and has become the false lover. It's because we have not understood about how to transfer the Energy from Creator to us. Then we don't need Prophets and gurus, as we'll become the teachers of ourselves. Then we'll learn how to teach our physicality to replicate the Soul of the Creator.

A new article was discussed about a recent discovery of 2 Black Holes that are merging together and formulas like  $E=MC^2$  would not work for the calculations. For the first time they had to include M fields into their analysis. Mr. Keshe said, well the M fields are the essence of Creation, if you don't include them it's like trying to bake a cake without flour. He has explained many times that they teach to the STM and even though the scientists did not hear the physical words, the STM hears, and it's his job to manifest it in the physical D. This new development is an indication that the message is reaching the Soul and it is indeed responding. Sometimes it feels like we are all alone out here and everybody is ignoring us hoping we'll go away. But we don't go away, and we don't stop our work because we don't get physical confirmation. That's the love and power of the Soul and now we are getting confirmation of it in P. And because the teachings are taught without greed, and in pure sincerity through the Soul it is able to break through even the darkest ignorance and arrogance. The amazing part is that the sincerity is so pure it reaches to elevate all the races of the Creator.

In the question about changing the DNA to make the Man peaceful, the answer was, that it is more effective to change the field strength, than trying to adjust the G and M fields of the Man, which means you give and take to affect them and that gets tainted with your own emotions and desires of what you think is good for someone. It's my understanding that it is better to increase the field strength in the environment, then the Man will take what he needs and the balance of G and M fields will be maintained. This is the process that happens when we give unconditionally, we don't say the other has to do this or that. Instead, the field strength is made available for them to take what they need.

Then he discussed the meaning of love. Unconditional love means that when we say, 'I love you,' then whatever we have the other can take. This is not a sentimental statement, it really means that. A person can lose everything to the one they say, 'I love you to.' That's why Mr. Keshe says, he rarely writes 'I love you' to anyone. But to be able to give to another you have to be of a higher order strength than they are. Otherwise, we might say, that you don't have anything to give. Because the stronger fields give to the weaker. So it means even if you have the feeling you want to give to someone, your fields might not be strong enough that they could receive it. This is a deeper understanding of the Science of Love and comes by way of life experience. To train ourselves how to give unconditionally we could start by first recognizing our attachments and then practicing by giving to people we have no emotional connection to, or 'business deal' with, then we won't expect something in return.

When we turn on a light in our house we probably don't think it has anything to do with God. Today he informed us that all light originates in the Divine. This is because light is really the interaction of 2 M fields, and all M fields originate with the Creator.

Other Topics:

Hold the Cosmic Ray Balls each in one hand and try to feel the different emotions they create. One hand can give and the other take, and feel the energy transfer and then understand the M field emotion it creates in the body and the Soul;

We have received a beautiful gift from one of the KS and I would like to thank this person from the bottom of my heart. Because this will allow us to make gold literally worthless. It will bring in a lot of changes.

Thanks for listening.
