Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

Today Mr. Keshe explained more what he meant by, we are starting a new cycle of teachings. He said, the teachings on the matter state like Gans's, reactors, emotions, and Soul are completed. Now he is going deeper into how the Universe (U) is created, and for us to understand what our connection to it is. In this we need to understand how everything in Creation came to be. How we, the Earth, Galaxy, U, 3I and everything else came to be. Today he taught in a very deep way how the plasma functions and what some of its rules are. These teachings are for our Soul and for us to understand the energy patterns of the U and how to play with them. The information today is so massive we'll just cover part of it, and please study this teaching more carefully on your own.

All of Creation starts with a plasma and every piece, or every "atom" of plasma within the Total Plasma carries the same information. So in this sense it all comes from the same Source and in a way, it is made the same. This is what is meant by, I made Man in the image of Myself, but it applies to all of Creation and not just the Man. Another way to think about it is every drop of water of the ocean contains the same information about the whole ocean. Then what makes the difference? The difference and variety of Creation comes about because each thing contains a different amount of plasma. This is where he used the example of the drop being like a cell, a spoon the body, a cup the Earth, and then the ocean is the U. In essence, they are all the same, but they contain different amounts of plasma. Therefore, you can do different things with them. For example, you cannot create a hurricane in a drop or a spoon, it is too small. This means that plasmas behave differently depending on their size. Another quality of a plasma is that the Macro is in the Micro, so if you want to study the U you can do it by studying how a plasma behaves in a cell, or in an atom. It's like the drop that carries the same characteristics of the entire ocean. When a plasma has slightly different field strength then it creates different conditions. The main point is not that in essence everything is the same, rather we should understand that the differences in Creation come from having different field strengths, which create different conditions. The true meaning of 'I am the beginning and the end,' is that everything begins with the ocean and ends with the manifestation of that drop. The Creator is in everything. We also have to remember that plasmas have their own boundaries which are respected in Creation. If we put a drop of oil of a different field strength with another oil we'll see that they don't mix.

Some years ago we were shown photos of the North Poles of Saturn and Jupiter and they appeared to have hexagonal structures. Today he expanded on this by saying, when we put many plasmas next to each other they always form a hexagonal shape. The explanation is that plasmas have to accommodate and cannot go against each other, therefore they take the shape of a hexagonal. With Jupiter and Saturn there are M field pressures from the elements or plasmas inside the planet plus the field pressures from the atmospheric conditions of the Solar System (SS) as the cause. In the case of the skin there are M field pressures underneath and from adjacent cells that cause this hexagonal shape of the skin. In the past couple days they reported seeing hexagonal control structures on 3I. This comes from using dynamic M fields. I am assuming that it is from the Star Formation (SF) reactors inside the craft. From these examples we can understand that when we see hexagonal structures we know plasma is being used. Matter state spaceships will not show this.

Our scientists at places like CERN only know the plasma in matter state understanding and they try to force their way on it with huge megawatts of electricity, billions of degrees, and solid magnets, but it can get out of control and scratch them like a cat. Instead through Knowledge of Creation we try to play with the plasma and collaborate with it. In that way, if we can gently push it, squeeze or shake it, we can get it to open up like a tap and it will give us what we want. It's a totally different approach. For example, when the scientists look at what 3I is doing, for them it is violating the Laws of Physics and they can't understand it. But the Captain is good at playing with the plasma and knows how to use the Laws of Plasma to change color, shape and whatever, and it is not magic, it's understanding the true science.

If we think of the Creator as a plasma, then the ocean is a good analogy. When it gets pressurized by different field forces it starts to change its conditions. For instance, a gentle push creates the beauty of calm beaches to enjoy, but if it gets squeezed and shaken it can turn into a hurricane. These conditions arise spontaneously from all the different field interactions in the U. But if we learn how to play with the plasma we can create these conditions ourselves. The essence of the Creation are the Cosmic Rays (CR), which fill the whole U and they are the embodiment of the body of the Creator. Is this why he started using the term, Cosmic Ray Technology? The mystery of Creation comes to an end when we learn how to make waves out of the 'calm Ocean.' It's the movement of the plasma, or Energy gel that makes M fields. There are ways we have to learn, of how to pressurize the plasma to create a wave. If we can get the wave started it will go forward into physical manifestation. We can do this through our emotions and through further development of the Plasma Technology.

This idea of playing with the plasma on the surface sounds very simple, but it takes getting used to. We can use the 'Macro in the Micro' concept to explore it deeper. So how does the Ocean get pressurized? We see the Ocean, but where are the other forces? There are MG field forces inside the Earth that interact with the Sun, and the Ocean is in between, and then we have the MG fields of the Moon. And most likely the fields of the SS, Galaxy, and U are more in the background. They all get together with the local MG fields interacting on the surface of the planet and the wind and they squeeze and pressurize the Ocean, which results in different conditions like hurricanes or whatever.

Whether or not they do it with intention is another topic. We want to bring this into our understanding of how we are going to play with the plasma.

Mr. Keshe showed us how to create a plasma through the SF back in 2014 in Italy when they created 129 Tesla, which is beyond what matter state scientists can imagine. And it was done with a few volts and a few dollars. It was never explained exactly how it was done and it seemed that there was just a single SF that they were working with. Now he told us that they actually used multiple Star Formations set up in a way that the center SF got squeezed and pressurized by the others and caused it to generate higher fields. The same thing was done in Beijing when he created gold from the fields. There were multiple Star Formations setup on different tables and they 'squeezed' the plasma to create gold. There are more things involved that we are not being told about. It is simple, but it still requires knowledge and understanding. He said, they created a wave, and somehow that converted to the frequency of gold. It is my understanding that since plasma doesn't have frequency, a wave between the plasmas gets created from the 'squeezing' and then gets converted to a matter state frequency of what material we want to manifest. How does the plasma know what to manifest? That comes through the field strength of emotion and intention, but also we have to create a copy of that field strength. That's one of the reasons they created gold over a gold mine for the Chinese Military. The field strength was strongly present in the environment. But again there are more things involved. But from this we can get a general idea of how we are going to play with the plasma.

The reason we see so many different shapes of UFO's is because they are plasma systems and they squeeze the plasma through positioning of the multiple Star Formations they carry. They can change from an arrow shape to a sphere, disk, or whatever. The interesting part here is that the shape is determined by the positioning of the reactors and not their field strength. The reactors in 3I are not solid state matter, they are using loose plasmas that are not confined and they use their thoughts and emotions to control them. According to Mr. Keshe the Captain of 3I is very skilled in playing with and controlling the plasma. It was implied that they can use the same SF and reactors to generate a pulse that will turn into the frequency that will match the field strength to make the Man peaceful, what he doesn't want. And that, the change will come if they decide to convert the plasma into matter state emotion. The rest of the language is unclear. I understood that if humanity understands the knowledge and T being taught then we will not become subordinate to them. We will be equal and be able to dictate what will happen to Earth. And those of us who truly become peaceful inside will become part of the process. The Satellite Souls will be part of this process. And those who became Captains in the Monthly Flight session were being prepared for what is to come. They will be the first ones who will be able to connect to 3I if shows up on Earth. A person who understands the plasma doesn't need to do anything, they just blow and the wind creates the wave. And that wave moves forward and creates what is needed.

In the same way the U creates a star which creates a planet, we, through our emotion create a wave in the body that becomes a cancer. It's the same process of creation. Those working in the medical side of plasma know they only have to change the field strength of that wave, and they will change the cancer. There is something in this explanation that caught my attention. Does he mean that a planet cannot be created on its own? First a star is created, and then it creates the planet or whatever. But if we think about it, then it makes sense. Because how will the planet get fed? Earth gets fed MG fields through the Sun. If it got thrown out of the SS for some reason, how would it survive? Does this mean that cancer cells have a mother "sun" that creates and feeds them? It seems there are two types of creation, those that can feed themselves, and those who are dependent on others to feed them. When we reach maturity we can survive without our mother. If Earth could become self-sufficient, could it leave the SS? Is its Soul developed enough that it can do that? Spaceships travel between stars because Beings with Souls have learned the T of being self-sufficient. There is more in the science of Souls we have to learn about.

In the old days when KS were spinning Gans's in plasma ball reactors we didn't know at that time that they had emotion. Mr. Keshe gave this clue when he said, in Beijing the reactors that were empty of Gans could not create emotion, therefore there was no materials being formed by them. They were empty. What was the reason for having an empty reactor? Was it to create a flow, because the higher strength plasma always feeds the lower strength to make it equal with itself? Or was that how the wave got started that led to creation of the gold? Understanding how to create this Wave is very important. When we press an Acupuncture point in the body, does that create a wave in the Qi Meridians? And when it reaches the organ if it is strong enough can it create a new Time, what we call, restoring health? This "squeezing the Plasma" technology is going to be very interesting. Maybe we could find more clues by studying what the ancient Qigong Masters taught about Yin and Yang. The same way the hurricane is formed in Nature, the stroke is formed in the body. Somehow the Calcium is involved in creating a pressure to start a wave that goes towards the brain and heart. And we know that it occurs when the emotions get overloaded. The main point in this discussion is that the essence of the pattern is the same in all created systems whether in Nature or in the body. If we accept this unification we can open to a lot of deep wisdom. And then we'll understand that there is no use being attached to the body and physicality because it's always changing and transforming. The joy is in living fully aware of the present manifestation and not worrying about what is going to happen or when it will end. We know it's going to end and become something else, but our Essence remains. Again, it's about identifying with the Source rather than the manifestation. When KS mature to this knowledge we'll be able to understand every possible scenario that occurs in the U and not be baffled by it like the NASA and other scientists. We will know that we are part of it, and then understand how it works from inside ourselves. This is the true Knowledge of Creation and not concepts made out of Man's fantasies.

When we understand the Totality of the Knowledge of Creation we can remain in the D of the Energy, or the Plasma and not have to manifest P. We can come in and out of the physical life as we want to. To do this we need to learn how to squeeze the Soul to manifest whatever P we want. But there is also the understanding of how to amalgamate different dimensions of the Soul and then we can decide to exist as a cat, dog, man, tree, or anything else. He just said amalgamate different aspects of the Soul, is this what happens when the 'Soul of the Prophet' joins with a STM? It's a hint towards understanding it. Another hint is that the plasma is the creator of the M fields and their strength, and they all have a common denominator, and this is why we can move between them. We can learn how to squeeze the Soul to get different field strengths to manifest different entities. But it goes back to the principle of being able to control the emotions of the Soul, which can change the emotions of the STP and the physical manifestation. This is how we become the chameleons of the U.

Those in 3I have advanced enough to be able to do this. He said, they can read our emotions and will manifest in a form that is acceptable to us. They know by reading our emotions that we'll have a hard time communicating with a creature of the U if it is looking too strange. They will 'tone it down' to our liking. They did this in the movie Contact, they used the form of 'Jodie Fosters' father. But if they use an exact copy of a human that might confuse us more and we might not trust them. Whatever form they use it will be a mirage. And the way they create this mirage is the same way we create cancer in our body. It's the transfer of energy through emotion.

In the womb of a human, only a human can grow not a dog or a cat. But in the "womb" of the World of Creation anything can grow in it. The fields outside in the environment create a cocoon, together with emotion decide what will be grown. Different things are grown in different cocoons. New T is being developed that will be able to recognize the Soul and the location of the heart. This is how we will be identified when we become travelers of the U. This time when the change to humanity comes it will be permanent because Souls tainted with killing and wrong things will not be allowed into the U. When the STM gets elevated it will elevate the STP and will become detached from the matter state condition. Nevertheless, we will still enjoy the physical life.

There was a very important announcement made by Markray in the Financial Post and other world news organizations that marked the start of KF going public with the Plasma Technology. It said that Markray Corporation has made a Quantum Leap Breakthrough in Science and technology by converting energy to Matter and Gas using the edge of Science Cosmic Ray technology. Mr. Keshe said the difference between this news release, and those we did in the past, is that now KF is ready to commercialize, and the T is ready, and the governments are ready. But it won't happen through just one announcement. Gradually it will build up over time and we'll continue with more news releases and eventually the governments will confirm their cooperation with KF. Everything is in position for this to happen and they have already started setting up research centers but out of the public's eye. It took 20 years to get to this place and another 20 to complete it. The important thing is that we have started it and there will be more announcements as we move along.

When asked about "squeezing" the Soul he said, it's more like making an impression on the Soul. We do this with our emotions and we can move the Soul and the STP. First we have to learn how to distinguish between the emotions of the different parts of our Being. The STM has its own emotions and we don't admit that to ourselves. We put everything together and think it is all the same. Sometimes people will say, of course, I know my Soul. When we know our Soul there will be no doubts in us. Meditation can help, but most people don't know how to interpret their experiences to make it useful. It's about becoming aware of what is happening inside us. One clue when we are experiencing the emotions of the STM is that we feel peaceful inside and everything is okay the way it is. It tends to be a profound experience that affects us.

Recently a mother asked me how she can communicate with her child through the Soul. I replied, that first we should recognize that we usually see another person as a physical body. We may say to ourselves, yes, but I know they are a Soul. If that were true we would experience the peace of detachment and the knowledge that physical life is a temporary experience. If we recognize our own Soul then we'll automatically know how to communicate with the Soul of another. If we can truly admit to ourselves we don't know the Soul, that humility will open the door. And when we are with another person we can ask our Soul to please show us how to be with the other person's Soul. If we sincerely want that experience, and are willing to give everything for it, it will happen. The surrender will cause the Soul to open. When I first experienced this with my "Friends," it was then that I realized, in our society we don't know what love is. What we call love is something else. The experience of it will bring the enlightenment to know the difference. Until then, we can wish and work at it.

When asked if 3I will change child abusers, he answered in a way to make us think deeper about how these conditions came to be the way they are today. Mistakes were made in the past that changed the emotion in society to allow these conditions to arise. It's not a simple matter of blaming everything on the abusers, in this way we try to wash ourselves of our own responsibility for the decisions we made, or we unconsciously went along with. Our Souls and minds are all connected to each other and it is like we are in the small rescue boat together. If we allow someone to rock the boat on that side, they might capsize all of us. And he skillfully said, we have to understand how we allowed this situation to become like it is today.

Deep sea submarine listening devices have been picking up harmonic and non-harmonic frequencies coming from 3I. The harmonic waves are on the emotional level of the Man. Does it wipe out (all of) the Man's knowledge from the essence of his separation from the STP? Does Man start a new cycle of life every time this thing appears? We have found exact depictions of 3I in caves and other drawings from thousands of years ago. So this is not the first time they have been here. Do they bring enlightenment? Is that how the Mayan civilization in South America suddenly disappeared thousands of years ago? Do they take a part of the human race with them every time they pass? These are all interesting questions to ponder. I came across a video by chance that was made up. They used AI and tried to portray that a famous scientist was saying these things. What is strange is that he said exactly what Mr. Keshe just said. He said, that 3I was able to wipe out his memories of scientific theories and formulas he created himself. He just couldn't remember it anymore and this was happening to other scientists as well. I got happy when I first heard it before I realized it wasn't what they call, "fact." If all of the matter state knowledge gets wiped from their conscious mind, then they will become open to receive the Plasma Science and will be part of the change. The useful parts of the matter state knowledge will be stored in the RNA anyway. Recently on Internet all of the more liberal minded mainstream scientists are coming out and vehemently denying that 3I is a spaceship. But their answers to questions have become emotional and irrational without any scientific logic. As we get closer to December the Establishment is getting more scared.

As Markray shares go to governments who sign the World Peace Treaty and as Markray expands its operations the Keshe Coin will change the Financial World as we know it. With the Keshe Coin everyone will receive what they need in terms of food, medicine, Energy, and everything else. Then governments won't have to go begging to Vatican and Rothschild's for finances to build their nations. The Change has started as of last night.
