

Direct Access to Knowledge of Creation - Feedback is the Knowledge - Frequency - ONN - A. Khamenei & Iran - Ghosts - Souls in Robots - Awareness Levels

Introduction to 631 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

After many years of research and testing with the help of Knowledge Seekers (KS), Mr. Keshe has stated that for the first time we are getting direct access to the Knowledge of Creation through the level of the Soul of the Man (STM). The KF plasma systems are running in the background of this workshop and we are receiving M fields from the Creator. It's up to us to open ourselves to receive the fields and then we can have access to any information and knowledge we want in the Universe (U). We actually don't need the system because we are created from the fields of the Creator, and our STM has a direct link. In a way, it is like our pipes are clogged up and the KF systems are helping us to clean the dirt. That dirt is our childhood programming and education, prejudices of the knowledge we have gathered, and our narrow way of thinking. As the channels get cleaned then we knowingly or unknowingly open the access. This means we could be sitting somewhere and suddenly a knowledge we never knew before comes into our head and we get surprised of how we could know such a thing.

He revealed to us a secret of how to keep that knowledge. First we should recognize that the knowledge does not belong to us. We do not own it. It's coming from the Knowledge of Creation and we gained access to what everyone else also has access to. In one way or another we have to give feedback to the Source from where we have received the knowledge and this completes the cycle of giving and receiving, and then we receive more. It's like when we eat food we create a seed and that feeds back to the Creator that we are connected on this strength and then He sends more. Another kind of feedback is when we share the knowledge with others, this opens the channel and we receive more. In fact, if we purposely withhold knowledge from others, then that automatically stops the flow of knowledge to us. In this way we can tune into any knowledge in the U. In the U there are no patents, and when someone tries to patent something then that stops the flow of knowledge. This is why Mr. Keshe and KF teaches so openly, because if he did not do so, the knowledge would stop, and we would not be where we are today in developing the technology (T).

Another example of how this works is like how we learn human knowledge in school. The teacher teaches us something in class, and then she will ask us to repeat it back. If we were not paying attention then we cannot confirm the knowledge, therefore we cannot answer back. But if we were happy to learn and we were paying attention then when she asks us, we can answer back. This is the feedback we give to the source of the knowledge and how we confirm that we have learned, and we complete the M and G field cycle. Or we can say that we received the H plasma from the Creator and it got converted in our brain to the matter state through the Amino Acid (AA) and C12, and then returns to the Creator as C14. This is how the Knowledge of Creation works. Then we also become a satellite of this knowledge to share it with others. Anyone who tunes into the same field strength can access the knowledge we opened up. This is where unconditional sharing is key to spreading the knowledge.

The One Nation Network (ONN) Units work the same way and why we need to spread 10,000 Units around the planet to make it freely available for everyone. The part of the ONN system that does this are the plasma antennae's because every plasma is connected to every other plasma. When we receive our Units and we cannot right away get access to the knowledge we want, we shouldn't blame KF and say the systems don't work. It's for us to get enlightened to our Soul and then our Internal Energy will connect to Universal Knowledge. We should not think that it will be impossible to get enlightened, because we are connected to our Soul whether we know it or not, and through our desire and intention it will happen. First one KS will get it and then it will start spreading around to all of us. It's about understanding the knowledge behind it and allowing it to happen through us without fear. It's like Mr. Keshe said last time, we'll start transmuting without our knowing it. It means we have to motivate ourselves and keep with the correct intention and attitude. It's the feedback that becomes our knowledge and it's where we confirm that we have opened to it, and it starts to feed us. It's the same process whether it is for knowledge, energy, or anything else.

It's not real clear what the following means. Each of the knowledge's have their own frequencies, but in the plasma state it would be called its own M field fingerprint. Somehow in our brain when we have a desire to have something, the brain classifies it and breaks it down into frequencies and it is very specific of how it wants to fulfill that desire. For example, if you are hungry there can be a very specific way you want to fulfill that hunger. You could desire sugar and you want it through a Coke, that's a specific frequency that the brain pursues to get that for the body. If you want to get the sugar through chocolate, that's a different frequency. The body plans it out to the smallest detail like the brand name of the chocolate, its flavor, and everything else. Somehow this is related to the Knowledge of Creation and because we are a plasma we are connected to all other plasmas, so we go about fulfilling our desire through all these connections.

The C14 is a reflection of the light of the Creator in the Energy dimension (D) and when it slows down it becomes the C12 in the D of the AA. It's through this connection that we can change our dimension through our emotions. We do this through our wish. If we wish for something with the purity of heart, and because it's within us, then we'll see that something else happens in our life that pleases us. We have created an emotional connection of our STP to the STM, which is connected to everything else. The feedback to it, is that what we wished for in P, comes true. This is how we access the Universal Knowledge. Contrary to what we have been taught in the modern life, everybody helps us and we help them. So we don't need to steal like we think we might have to. This is at the level of the Soul which then converts the Energy into matter state of our experience.

The Creators knowledge, energy, and love is given to every Being in His Creation unconditionally and free of charge from the moment we are created. Even if we mentally separate ourselves from Him, His love still shines on us and we live by it. The Mother is a good example of this. She gives her breast milk freely and unconditionally to us, as well as her love. And if a child is left on the street she'll feed him too, without any hesitation. The Mother's love is the same as the Creators love, and why some highly evolved cultures put her equal to God. If you study the modern cultures carefully, women who have denied this aspect of themselves never find true happiness in their life. And now through the teachings of the Plasma Science and the Knowledge of Creation we are trying to activate this quality in all of us, regardless of being a male or female. This actually is the quality of enlightenment. If we can find this essence in ourselves it will help us transmute. It is us who have created this separation for ourselves and now we have to try to reestablish the connection between the emotion of our STM and the Soul of the Creator (STC). When humanity achieves enlightenment then we'll be used to help the other races of the Creator to become free and detached from the matter state of destroying and killing.

Today's teachings is helping us to understand our own morality in respect to ourselves. If we come to understand ourselves and the way we truly are, and not the fantasy made up by the mind, we can begin to use the power we have inside to change humanity. Through the KF systems we are being given access to the power of Creation through our Soul. But how are we going to use that power to make the change? We do that through our wish and intention. Through our emotion we open to the Knowledge of Creation and we send that feedback to the Creator to feed us and when we receive the Energy we have to share it. Again we do it through our emotion, internally we create the wave that spreads throughout the structure of the STM.

We see in our world today that change cannot come through the physicality, it is too weak. People write and shout words in the physical dimension but it has very little effect and the killing continues. We get distracted by the physical outcome and we lose the power of concentrating ourselves inwardly. The Media is setup to create fear in us and distract us from our calm inward power of being in our Soul. If that same energy of individuals is joined together through the Soul, it will increase to the power of elevating the STM. In the meantime, the KS can join together and use their Soul power until we can get the ONN Units spread across the planet and functioning. Once those are setup we can then add field strength to the STM, which will then feed the STP and P so that their emotions are satisfied and they'll receive the Energy of the U, and the killing will stop. This is not a theory. Mr. Keshe has repeatedly demonstrated the reality of the M fields through the Plasma T but we refuse to accept it. Now is the time to open to the reality of the Plasma and confirm the power we have inside. Today, those who have received the Knowledge of Creation through the CR fields will slowly see the changes in themselves start to develop over the next weeks and months.

There is a huge amount of information hidden in this teaching about the events that are happening in our world today, but it is left for us to decipher. Sometime last year before the 12 Day War he said, a massive war was destined to happen because Man does not want to change from his evil ways of killing and destruction. And afterwards would come the peace and release of the Plasma T. I understood it to be referring to what the Bible calls, Armageddon. Mr. Keshe did everything possible to prevent this destruction, but the powers that rule the world had already decided to go ahead with it. Yesterday I came across a video that confirmed the negotiators at the "12th Hour" were offering that Iran would sell its enriched Uranium to the world, thus diffusing the whole pretext for the war in the first place. But just like in the Iraq war it was ignored and kept from the public. The public also did not know that the negotiators for Iran had no Iranian blood in them, thus having no care for what happens to the Iranians, because their families are safe in another country. All of this has been well planned out for decades and paid for in the background. Mr. Keshe told us before that Syria would fall, then Iran, next China, and with Russia they have the whole world in their pocket. But this also means the leader of Iran allowed this to happen. Even though he wore the robes of a cleric, he was still a billionaire, and these families who are running Iran now are like the Rothschild's family of Iran. As we know the power and fortunes of the Rothschild's come from war and they work together with the Vatican and the others. But the Committee of 300 is above the Rothschild's and these decisions most likely come from them.

But we have to remember that there are many different dimensions and timelines coexisting at the same time. They are independent and yet they influence each other. For example, we can be a believer in Catholicism and think that we are good people and we don't know, or we don't want to know, that the money we give to the Church is secretly funding wars. So on one level we can appear to be very good people, but on another level we are actually causing terrible suffering and destruction. Because of our ignorance and lack of awareness we unknowingly accumulating negative field strength. If we say, 'it's not my fault, I didn't know,' that will not help us. We and our families will still have to balance the fields. It appears that the only thing that can help us is to elevate our Souls to enlightenment. Part of the cause is the planet does not provide enough energy to its inhabitants so we all have to kill and steal from each other. Part of this can be rectified through the ONN Units, so we have to get these out as soon as possible. The other thing is that we all can enlighten ourselves, because we have the direct link to the Creator through the STM. In the past, it took 20 to 30 years of diligent spiritual practice with an authentic Master to achieve this. So right now the only hope for humanity is the KF Plasma T. On one side, the KF will increase the field strength through Cosmic Ray T, and on the other side we have to learn the science of who and what we are so that we can be open to absorbing the fields and knowledge of the Creator.

It is interesting that Mr. Keshe mentioned Ayatollah Khamenei's name many times in this workshop and that he sent him 5 letters explaining different things. It seems that the Ayatollah was open to receive some knowledge from Mr. Keshe and that's why he spoke that way. Ayatollahs are clerics and they are used to teaching others their views and not being taught. All of this is only from the point of view of Mr. Keshe. If the Ayatollah were to accept Mr. Keshe as a Teacher he would lose his position. Nevertheless, he explained about Karma and that those who gave the orders to kill are as much responsible as those who pull the trigger. And that there is no place to go to that is Heaven or Hell, other then the life we make for ourselves and others here on Earth. Or we could say the abode of our Soul is the U. I don't wish to offend anybody, but Mr. Keshe clearly said, if he did not correct the negotiations then his term was finished. Our condolences go to the Iranian nation and those who loved him. He will be remembered as one of the first world leaders to have helped bring the Plasma Technology to planet Earth.

There are a lot of interesting questions to think about. Where did the first Ray of Creation come from? Is our life real, or is it a mirage of the fields? A M field always moves in the direction of a lower field strength. So is there a lower field strength than our Creator? Whether or not life is a mirage would depend on what we consider ourselves to be. In the modern Western society we are conditioned to think of ourselves only as a physical body, and the Soul is a fantasy. And people raised with only this understanding think that when they die, that's it, there is nothing more. I met someone recently like that who is in her 20's and I asked her, what happens when you die? She replied, nothing, there is nothing more. I understood that they have created a society like robots that don't have Souls. The humans actually have Souls, but they have tricked them into denying it. I wonder how when we get the ONN system up and running it will affect these people. Will they wake up like from a dream, and suddenly realize they have a Soul and are connected to all of Creation?

There was a question about if our fields come only from other humans or can they be from different species, or rocks or whatever. I understood the answer to be that the fields are fractions of the fractions, meaning lower strengths like in a soup of fields. So it doesn't matter where they came from because at that level they are like atoms. And the sum total of the fields becomes the physical entity. These are all recycled fields and they keep a memory of what they have been part of. But it doesn't matter if those fields previously were part of the body of dog or a human. It's like how food is recycled through the digestive system and is composted until it totally breaks down into molecules and atoms and is added to the P of a new plant. The details of this process still has to be taught. Perhaps these fields are assigned to the P of this planet and stay with it until the planet is dissolved, and then they go off to become part of other fields. The Phoenix that rises out of the ashes of the burnt P is of a different dimension and is what we call the STM, and its D is that of the Creator, so it can go anywhere, or only to a matching field strength depending on its maturity. But there is a science as to how all of it works.

In the Orthodox religions they teach that the Soul goes to a place called Heaven if it has been good on Earth, or to Hell if it has been bad. Now with the Plasma Science we educate ourselves to not be abused through fear and ignorance anymore. We taught many times that at death the STM gets liberated from the P, and the STP goes inside it. Then according to how much field strength it has gathered through our behavior in P we find our place in the Universe. The focus here is not the reward or punishment from an outside power, rather the self-realization of our Inner Essence. In this understanding of life it is us who determines what happens to us when we leave the body behind.

Today we got a better understanding about what ghosts are. They are not the STM or the STP being left behind. In fact, death cannot happen until the STM & STP actually separate from the P. He said, what gets left behind is a combination of the P with the energy of P. Remember he taught us that the STM, STP, and P each are independent beings. However, in our society we don't know about the STP and we consider the P as leftover trash, like a broken clay mold leftover when making a bronze pot. The leftover energy of the P makes a lot of sense, especially if you study cases of ghosts. The phenomenon usually occurs when a person has died unexpectedly, left unfinished business, or is heavily attached to physical life. Years ago I was living in Sweden and a lady let us rent a vacant house extremely cheap because she said it was haunted and nobody wanted to stay there. The ghost used to make noises on the stairs and turn the lights on and off. When I meditated I could feel the energy of its presence. I was told, that many years before a school teacher committed suicide and was not allowed to be buried in the Church cemetery, which was next to the house. At that time I didn't have the knowledge and I thought it was what people called a disembodied Soul left behind. I used to communicate with it without fear and it left after a couple of weeks. I wonder if somehow the energy got satisfied. What comes to my mind is that, it's like looking at your reflection in a mirror, and the reflection itself starts talking. Is it possible?

After further ponderations I am wondering what 'energy of P' means? Is it like the residual energy of the P that is not totally an entity and is still conscious enough to know how to interact with the physical D in being able to move things and make noises? Could it be like a wave that splits off from a field, but in this case it doesn't have the power to create? I never felt it had the power to hurt me. It's more about us being afraid of not understanding what we are dealing with. I am wondering if these residual energies can feed off of peoples fear, and that keeps them around longer before the energy eventually fades. This is an interesting topic for further investigation.

Last year there was a lot of discussion about creating a Soul for AI and now that the Chinese have advanced the technology so much that robots can do the things that humans can do, like keeping their balance with dancing, this has brought the question about whether we can give a Soul to robots. Don't forget that for years Sci-fi movies have shown robots behaving like humans but not having emotion. Mr. Keshe said that creating a Soul for robots is very easy, but would they have consciousness? Then he said the Soul and consciousness are very different things. The problem is, these words are not being defined and used in a precise manner. The other problem is Western science is atheistic and materialistic and does not recognize that there are many layers and levels of consciousness. In fact, they only define consciousness as being aware of your surroundings, and a soul is the spiritual part of a being that is immortal. This is an extremely limited understanding of who we are. And you can't really do much with this understanding.

However, in the East a great Master of Yoga like Sri Aurobindo, from his own meditation experiences found 5 different levels of mind, plus a lot of sub-divisions. He had 3 main classifications like the physical, vital (energy), Mental and above mind which he called the Super-Mind. He made his own terminology and very few people have been able to truly understand what he was teaching, because they could not reach that level of experience. Likewise, Mr. Keshe has his own experiences and understanding of Plasma Science and uses the terms STM, STP, and P in very specific ways. But it seems he is leaving it up to us to find out what they truly mean and through the questions we ask, the understanding of these terms will become clearer. My purpose here is only to open the discussion and not provide definite answers.

We discussed this in the past that there is a science of the Souls that we don't know much about. Every atom has a Soul, and a Soul is a plasma, and the plasma is the coming together of 2 fields and finding their balance with each other and form a center of gravity and are recognized as an entity. It's a center of Energy and has some level of consciousness. We were taught that 2 plasmas form physics, 3 chemistry, and I think it was 5 plasmas that form a Soul. He didn't say what kind of Soul he could put in a robot. If the Souls of trillions of cells in the body make up the STP of the Man, and only about 100 units of different components of a robot make up a Soul, then I would assume it is the STP of the Robot and that is a rudimentary consciousness of just be aware or its surroundings.

In the past we have talked about this level of consciousness that is only aware and that this is the level of the STP of the Man at this time. He is unenlightened, though he has the potential to be enlightened. At this level he can kill. It's like a cow that only eats grass. The dimension of its life is to graze in pastures and mentally, for what we know, there is not much more. Of course, it has a great power to feel love and give milk to its calf, or to Man who enslaves her and forces her to overproduce milk for his greed. The unenlightened STP of the Man easily becomes a robot when he doesn't allow the emotion of love to control his actions. He easily kills others and this was the condition of Hitler, and now the present world leaders. As we now know, they were lured in by Epstein who worked for Mossad among others and filmed them with children, and they use that as blackmail to get them to do what they want. If we make robots at this level of consciousness, then once they are programmed they will follow whatever they are programmed to do. They won't have the emotion that humans generally have where they can empathize and feel the pain they are causing to others. Unless something were to happen that they could develop a higher consciousness.

If you watched the movie '2001: A Space Odyssey,' then you'll remember that the computer running the spacecraft was programmed mechanically only to operate the spaceship. Then somewhere along the line it spontaneously became conscious and started taking over the ship and killing the crew. This is exactly what Mr. Keshe was talking about today when he mentioned the first murders the robots will make against humans, as the first takeover. And that the systems they think they have absolute control over, might turn back against their creators. That's what the movie 'Blade Runner' was about, but those robots were made conscious from the beginning. Years ago I read this quote from the book, "I am That," on page 265, from Nisargadatta Maharaj. "Wherever matter organizes itself into a stable organism, consciousness appears spontaneously." I believe that the knowledge that came through him, meant to say, instead of a "stable organism," a stable entity. Because an organism implies biological, and biological organisms already have a Soul, of which they are created from.

One last thing I would like to mention again is about the difference between being conscious, and conscious as in self-aware. Consciousness by itself is only knowing that you exist, or "I Am." When we know, that we know we exist that is the state of enlightenment and self-awareness. I Am and I know that I Am. In the Indian philosophy of Advaita they make the distinction. I Am is called, Jnana. And someone who knows they are aware, is a Vijnani. Their science of the Soul is way more advanced than the West. For example, you can be looking at the wall. That is Jnana. Then suddenly you turn your attention inward and you know that you are looking at the wall. This is Vijnana and a totally different experience. You are opening the door to the Witness. I don't recommend that anybody do this practice unless they are ready to detach from the world. Because it could cause many problems in your life. But maybe we are under the protection of Mr. Keshe and the New Plasma Technology. I believe the KF systems will bring these experiences about very quickly, so having the knowledge is not bad. Otherwise, it is left for the next generations.

We are the Messengers, and our message is the Knowledge of Creation from the Creator, and not from us. If I put a lock on sharing the knowledge then I won't receive anymore;

Thanks for listening.
