

How Lymph Converts UE into Blood Circulation - M Fields Not Blood - Plasma Doesn't Burn - Religions Taken Over - Human Microchips - Brainwashed - Inertia Oscillation Introduction to 655 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

Today is again one of those special workshops where a massive amount of knowledge is being transferred to Mankind, and as Mr. Keshe said, this knowledge will change the course of Man. We have already seen how KF teachings are being utilized in the World of Science even though they deny where the source of the knowledge came from. One of the biggest examples is the paper Mr. Keshe submitted to the Royal Institute of Science and how Stephen Hawkins stole it, and then couldn't explain it. Nevertheless, the knowledge got transferred to humanity because now they changed their ideas about Black Holes and accept that fields do come out of them and they are not just 'vacuum cleaners.' In another example, it has now become fashionable to use the word "Nano Technology," but we as Knowledge Seekers (KS) know where it came from. As he said, no one has come forward to apologize, but it has become part of the knowledge of Mankind and that is our goal as we keep striving to bring the Plasma Technology into public and achieve world peace.

The teachings have been building up over the weeks informing us about the two systems in the body which are the physicality (P), and the Energy or the Soul. First we should make it clear that in the West people put the Spirit of the Man as the higher entity, and falsely assume that the Spirit is the Soul. The Spirit is the collection of all of the Souls of the Cells in the body, which is also subdivided into the Soul of the organs, and the collective unit is the Soul of Physicality (STP), which resides around the heart like a cloud of energy. The STP is also in the blood. In a way, the STP is in-between the P and STM. We should try to organize these concepts in our heads clearly, so that we can understand today's teaching more easily. It is my understanding that the Spirit is the collective energy of all the Cell Souls in the body and is tied to the P through the blood and heart. It has its own emotions and thoughts and is of a lower order, and this is what we more closely identify as who we are. Our current society programs us to be only the P and STP, but denies the existence of the STM. The STM is a higher order entity directly linked to the Creator, and what we call, enlightenment is when we know our STM exists and identify with it.

To further understand the STM, it resides in the center of the brain, but its energy is connected to the lymph which receives the Universal Energies (UE) through the skin. The STM and UE are both higher order energies from the Creator. And the nervous system is really a M field circuit that connects to the STM. In summary, we have these two systems in the body of the Energy and P, now we want to know how they interact and mix with each other. If we have wondered where and when the Energy becomes matter in the body, today Mr. Keshe has shown us the way to understand it. The lymph at the top of the lungs between the shoulders enters the blood vessels. This is where energy becomes matter. It's not just in that area, but everywhere in the body the lymph interacts with the nerves, and blood and transmutes into the cells of our body.

The current science found two small lymph vessels, the 'right lymphatic' and 'thoracic' ducts that physically enter the subclavian vein, which then go into the blood circulation and the heart. So there is a physical connection and it's not just a M field absorption of the lymph. It seems strange that for the entire network of lymphatic vessels there are only these two relatively small holes into the veins. Nevertheless, they exist in the matter state and he is explaining why. This is also related to the blood pressure (BP) numbers. For example, 120/80 Science says, that the 80 is the diastolic pressure when the heart rests between beats, or what he called, the heart being empty. According to Mr. Keshe this is a lack of knowledge. The lower number is actually the pressure of the lymph entering the blood system. The health of the body is dependent on the lymph to supply the Gans materials that all the cells are created from. And this is where the immune system comes into the blood circulation. What does that number mean in terms of health? If the number is higher, then the lymph system of the body is under higher diastolic pressure, and maybe it is backing up the lymph throughout the body, and perhaps this leads to unhealthy conditions and disease.

Science says that Lymph is filtered and repurposed blood plasma, or the watery part of the blood, and then it leaks out of capillaries into the tissues and most of it comes back into the blood vessels, but the part that doesn't they call waste, and for them, that is the purpose of the lymphatic system, to pick up this waste and return it to the blood. Anybody that does not go along with this interpretation they ridicule. When something doesn't fit properly with this model then they make up something and the people accept it, because they don't have any higher knowledge of the body. We are not claiming to have all of the knowledge, but at least we are open to receive more light and to continue to learn. In Plasma Science the lungs take in the MG fields, or the energy in the atmosphere, which is UE and it mixes it with the lymph in the area above the lungs and under the shoulders, and this is where the energy enters the blood and coverts to P. Science has observed that darker colored blood, which has lower energy enters the lungs through veins from the heart, after it passes through the lungs it becomes brighter and they say it is oxygenated, which in plasma means it has more energy and not just more oxygen. By the way, O₂ only makes up 21% of air and 1.5% of the plasma in blood, which is almost nothing.

The Science we know focuses on the blood and the number of beats, a pressure number they made up, and the physical components of the blood. It can be very difficult for us to now suddenly switch over to new ideas. The new understanding is that the number of heartbeats is changing all the time, and this number is not as important as we were taught to believe. It's important to understand that the heart is really a M field generator and not just a pump. We need to learn about the frequency of the beats, the plasma pulse, and the gap in-between the beats. All these things are affected by our emotions and are based on

M fields and not liquid blood. The blood is just a vehicle for the transfer of M fields and if we find another way to transfer M fields we won't need it. The blood is more conscious than we think. For example, in the gap between beat number 60 and 61, if we have a death wish, that field strength will get imprinted on the STM and the P, and later we will develop what we call, psychosomatic illnesses like MS, ALS, and others. The way I understood it is, that the death code was created and added to the gap in the heartbeat and widened it by 6 milliseconds. Then, this somehow gets recorded in the lymph that is in the blood, and that circulates around informing the cells that the death code has been issued, and to start preparing for it. This is the same way cancer works. This information was to show the power in the gap of the heartbeat, but it can do other things with it as well. If we manage to control the heartbeat and the gap between beats we can use that to transmute. It's again about creating the Emotion of Detachment from the P of Earth but also the U, and then we have become part of the structure of the Soul as an energy pack, of which the P has no control over it.

It always comes back to controlling the breathing and the emotions to become free and be able to transmute. We have to understand the psychology behind breathing. What does that mean? Psychology is the study of the mind and behavior and explores how we think, feel, and act. This would mean that what's going on inside us our thoughts and feelings affects our breathing. It works both ways, meaning that we can be controlled by them, or we can take control of them. This also means we should not just take breathing for granted, but bring mindfulness and intention into it. The Buddhists teach that we should be mindful of breathing in and breathing out, and this will help silence the mind. Mr. Keshe is saying, we should be aware that when we breath in we are absorbing energy from the U, and when we breath out we are giving back to the U what we don't need. We are part of everything and not separate. When we breath in, it is a kind of creation and there is the excitement of being alive, and breathing out we are giving life back, in a way, for other life forms to live. When we feel that connectedness to life, then breathing will open up to a new dimension. Then we can experiment with controlling the rate of breathing and the gap between the inhale and exhale, and this will prepare us for transmutation.

There is a higher form of energy transfer than using the liquid state of the blood. First we can summarize the different ways the blood gets energized. The lowest form is through eating where we use the digestive system to convert matter state food into Gans and the field energy is transferred into the lymph. Then we have the lungs, but in Plasma we are not focused on oxygenating the blood. This is a limited understanding in matter state. As the air and fields come in they are being absorbed directly to the STM as it passes through the throat. I can't remember exactly what happens, but I think there is a field transfer through the gases like the CO₂, and the N link to the Amino Acids, but the energy gets transferred to the lymph in the lungs. And then there is absorption of UE through the skin with the melanin and myelin system that transfers to the lymph. And now we know that the lymph also energizes the blood directly by passing through small ducts into the veins. It's really all interconnected while at the same time there is a clear pathway of energy transfer. When we learn to absorb UE directly then we don't need this mechanism. If we cut an Alien they don't bleed because they have evolved past the need for a heart pumping liquid and transferring energy that way. He then said, the Galaxy doesn't bleed when it gets cut, because it's not using liquid transfer, rather it transfers energy through M fields. We can look at the body tissues under a microscope and we'll see the liquid flows of blood and lymph, in the same way, if we can put the U under a microscope we would also see the flows of energy, but it will be M fields instead of liquid. It's a different way of energy transfer. The largest water flows on the surface of the Earth are seen in places like Niagara falls, but much larger flows of energy through under water currents are happening in the oceans. And as they rub each other they transfer energy. The point is we should start thinking about elevating our energy transfers to the higher level of M fields.

If we were to put the body under a M field scanner we would see that the heart is really a M field generator. It brings the M fields from the bottom of the feet all the way up to the top of the body where the heart is, and it makes huge volcanic eruptions in the heart that push upwards and feed the STM. It's quite an interesting image to ponder and it would be nice to see an artist interpret it into a painting. In terms of M fields, he is describing the STM as a separate entity without physical connections to the P, and where the M fields freely flow into it. When we age the eruptions get weaker and cannot reach the STM. This is the time separation from the STP occurs. He then added to this image that the heart is like a Black Hole that pulls all the fields in the body to itself, and then releases them upwards to the STM. The main point again seems to be that we don't need the blood circulation to live if we learn how to absorb the UE directly through the emotions and breathing. But eventually we won't even need to breath, the fields will be there. And even further, a time will come when we won't need outside fields, everything will come from inside us.

In matter state heat and temperature are very close and interrelated with each other so they are assumed to be the same. In the world of the plasma something can be millions of degrees in temperature but be ice cold, so temperature and heat are not related to each other and are like two different entities. The way I understand it is, it depends on how two plasmas interact, whether or not they will create heat, and how the fields expand for that heat to be felt. In the famous Chinese epic called, 'Journey to the West,' Sun Wukong was the Monkey King who accidentally got enlightened and rebelled against Heaven. When they put him in an oven he wouldn't burn, in fact, he got stronger. Were the writers giving us a subtle message about plasma and M fields? Scientists don't understand about the M fields and meteorites. Sometimes they find meteorites that are ice cold inside, but at the same time they say they heated up to thousands of degrees when entering the Earth's atmosphere, and the crust gets melted. In our limited understanding of plasma the light of meteorites are from the interaction of two fields and is a separate condition from the heat. Perhaps the heat is due to interaction of the materials inside the meteorite with the matter state Inertia of the planet. And what about the elements in the meteorites that don't match with the elements found on Earth? Would they be able to manifest here, or would they remain in the energy state?

We heard the story before about the most eminent academician in China for Rare Earth materials, but now it is very clear, that he cheated and lied when Mr. Keshe demonstrated the creation of gold from the M fields to the Chinese Military, to protect his position. He actually did the world a favor, because it created a dilemma for the Chinese authorities and the result was that now, the KF Plasma Technology does not need confirmation from the jealous academician class, it stands on its own merit, and doesn't need to be proven by those who cannot understand it, and don't want to understand it. Mr. Keshe had this problem all over the world, where the 'Rulers of the World' meddle, interfere, and block the technology from coming out. Now the Chinese government has accepted that KF Plasma is a Science in its own right. This is why all the efforts are currently being focused to bring the technology out through China. When people say that KF technology is not true, it's because we all were trained only to believe in the matter state, and to deny the energy state of Creation. Then if we show them the energy side of life, they deny it, say its magic, or ignore it. The education system will have to be changed so that children are taught that both matter and energy exist together, and both knowledge's have to be understood to live an holistic and integrated life with the rest of the U. As KS the most important part for us is to understand the technology and then apply it to our lives, so that we can become universal travelers.

To become co-creators we can learn how to direct the Sound of the U, which he said before was the background noise of Creation. He said the Sound is not the same everywhere in the U, because it creates different materials in different parts of the U. But I think he might have meant that the essence of the Sound comes from the Source and is the same, but manifests differently in different parts of the U because the field combinations are different. For example, what manifests in our Solar System as C12, might manifest as C10 in another area, then we would remain as energy in that area, because C12 is our manifestation to matter state. This is due to something called, 'resonance transmutation' which refers to how energy is transferred to matter state.

Those who come to understand only a little bit of the Knowledge of Creation start to play the 'game of being the Devil.' Perhaps the reason the word 'Devil' is used is because this is how the Western culture describes those who 'eat from the Tree of Knowledge' and start to become greedy for more and more power and control over others. It's because they haven't gone far enough into the Truth to be the Light. They become the advocates of crime and their power comes from separating the STM from the Soul of the Creator (STC). This is going to be a shock for so called, 'religious people' because they don't want to go deep enough into their belief's and dogmas to understand that they have been taken over by the evil doers. The essence of the 'text books' of religions is that, in order for the priestly class to rule, the followers must remain separate from the STM and to not know they are part of the World of the Creator. This is how they can rule, and how they abuse the P of the Man. And they purposely had their scribes rewrite the scriptures, and then to seal the lies in, they said the scriptures, are the absolute truth from God and cannot be disputed. This is true even in the East. We are not talking about the few people who are trying to practice spirituality. We are talking about the masses who follow religion as culture and as a dogma. These are the religions and they are instruments of power and politics. This includes the Buddhists too, who are held up above the rest by Western intellectuals. But when you live among the people you find out they are the same as the rest. When KS realize the teachings they can become the teachers of the 'Aliens.' Perhaps in the past the Universal Community used to come to Earth if they wanted to play God to ignorant Beings. Now through the grace of the Creator and Mr. Keshe, the human's are advancing to such a point, that the Aliens will start saying amongst themselves, Earth is the place to go and get enlightened. Of course, it is just a fun joke, but maybe there is deeper meaning to it.

The One Nation Networks (ONN) Units are getting into position across the world. If we understand the significance of these words, they are the most beautiful sound of the change that is coming to humanity. To the ordinary person they might say, well, I only see a computer box and some flashing lights how can that possibly change what we see going on in the world today? As KS we know these are not just computers, but in a way they are, because the CR Plasma Antennae's have not been added to them yet. Nevertheless, they carry a special energy that knows the intention behind their creation and most probably are connected to the result even as a potential. The 13 units that are in place and making a solid foundation for peace and change have already guided us into the New Age. Now it's a matter of building and growing and this is where us KS come in. It's our job to register for the Keshe Coin (KC) and start spreading its use around the world. We have entered the time and phase where KF starts interacting with governments and the public. One of the first new innovations that are needed is the introduction of what he called, 'Human Microchips' that have emotion and know 'right from wrong.' Because they are pushing so fast with the current non-conscious AI, in the next few weeks Mr. Keshe wants to get this into position. These Chips will be able to control the systems through M fields and we can't create a spaceship without them. Those who are planning to rule through AI will not be happy about this. We'll have to wait and see how this develops.

It's my understanding that the reason we can reconnect the nerves after they get cut is because they are really using M fields to communicate. That's also why the nerves respond instantly to stimulus. The scientists haven't understood this because they deny plasma. Therefore, they had to come up with another reason. The specific details of it were not discussed here, but it's something to do with the impulse coming through the gaseous state. When a nerve gets cut there is resistance inside the cells that prevents the M fields from going through. What happens is the cell orientation changes and it creates a Nano coating, and that doesn't allow the electric current to go through. The KF T knows how to use the Nano coating to overcome this problem and it has been tested and found to be correct. All this scientific data we are collecting shows that our life is about M field connections and not matter state, nor the gaseous state. It's the same knowledge that was used to rebuild brain cells. Don't forget a gas also has GM fields. It's not about waking up to some new knowledge. We are in the fields and we know, but there are those who play this science game to milk us for money, and Mankind has put up with this abuse. Now with the ONN system coming online this will change.

The question about the so-called, Sunni insurgency, was from the assumption that the controlled Media is correct in that anybody that challenges Western control, is automatically the 'bad guy' and the subconscious trigger for that is to be a 'terrorist,' and a Moslem. They use sophisticated language because they know the people cannot comprehend the deeper meaning. If you study the Media for the past decades you can easily see the trend of who is controlling it and how clever they are with brainwashing the unsuspecting public. Back in the 1970's the Elites wanted to keep their control over Middle East oil and they needed to have a place to sell weapons, so when Communism collapsed they turned to make the Masses afraid of the Moslems. The Intelligence Agency's are backed with billions of dollars to stage events and they contract famous people to influence and guide peoples understanding of events and to place a subconscious seed of fear in their minds. They have power over the stories on the Internet, Newspapers, they put subliminal messages in Hollywood movies, Netflix, and others. If you pay attention they even put them in Disney movies to set the control subconsciously in the children. So Mr. Keshe replied, why do you call the Sunnis, the ones who are insurgents, and overlook the ones in 'your own backyard,' namely the Catholic Insurgents whose murder, genocide, and evil deeds are considered normal and correct. It seems he purposely wanted us to know that it wasn't only the Jewish Zionists of Netanyahu and Trump that killed 186 little school girls in Iran, but all many European countries joined in that attack. But how they participated must be kept from the public. Perhaps his final comment was to imply that we have allowed ourselves to be brainwashed because we are afraid to admit the truth because our whole economy is powered by the blood of others.

The understanding of isotopes in matter state science is limited to the number of protons, and whatever, but only cover a few different materials. Whereas, in the Plasma the M field strength spectrum is broad and covers millions of the manifestations of Energy into matter as materials. Every slight change in field strength gives something new, and this is what we are going to be doing for eternity, playing with the M fields. This is also how we will navigate Spaceships and how the STM will travel through the U.

It may sound strange to hear that the reason the Chinese are calm and peaceful, and the South Americans aggressive, is because of the Inertia interactions of the M fields between the Soul of the Planet and the STM, and yet this is how the Plasma Science explains it. Obviously, there is more to it, but the interesting part is the oscillation between the Inertia fields of the different plasmas and how they interact and affect each other. It will be good to study this more carefully. But there are the Inertia fields created in food, air, and water. And the movement of water generates an Inertia that effects our emotions. The new radiant floor heating that pumps hot water through tubes under the floor in the winter time are a real problem. The constantly changing Inertia from the water bring instability to the neural system and affects the emotions and behavior. There is more important information about Inertia that you can read on your own.

I was always wondering how that would look to have the STP and P embedded in the STM. But in a way, our body is embedded in the Soul of the Earth, which is embedded in the Soul of the SS, Galaxy and so forth. So it seems the structure for transmutation is already setup, we just have to learn to move into it. Then he said, the Galaxy is in transmutation, but the body of the Man is in transportation. Transmutation is not a wish, it is an emotion we create and control, when we can do this, then there is no time and no age, and we can travel the U. It puzzles him that we don't see it. Then he used the example of the Emotion of Love. When we feel love we transfer energy into it and create a physical reaction to it. We transfer the energy into love and manifest hugging, kissing, and love making. So if we just sat with that thought of Transmutation and transfer energy into it, would we turn into the Plasma?

The truth is we were created out of a collection of energies and by accident. The STM was created that became us. It's like the seed of an oak tree blowing somewhere and starting an oak grove. But the point is, now what are we going to do with our own creation? That's our journey of self-discovery when we take birth as a Soul. There are two parts to it, we were created by the accident of the love between our Mother and Father, and then we plan our destiny. The difference is that the STM added love to his creation, and that is unique in the U.

Thanks for listening.
