

Compensate For Missing Energy - Learning How to Transfer Energy - Black Nano Soil - Difference Between Pulse & Heartbeat - Detachment - Discriminating Knowledge

Introduction to 658 KSW

Note: Not checked by KF interpretation by KS of KF Brazil

The theme for today's workshop is how to compensate for the lack of energy this planet does not provide to its citizens and that causes them to kill and eat each other to make up for the shortfall in energy. According to Mr. Keshe there shouldn't be this problem of not having enough energy, because the process of Creation for all life in the Universe (U), is that every creature created, is provided with all the energy they need to live when they are created, from the Creator. Understanding the process of the Creation, is the Knowledge of Creation. The Universal Community were shocked to find out that the Man started killing! It is no less shocking to humans who start to wake up, to find out they have to kill to survive. Messengers of the Creator are here to help correct the situation on Earth. The amount of energy missing is very little. He described it as, just adding a little sugar to the dessert. The 'main course,' or 80% of the energy is coming from Cosmic Rays (CR), or we can say, from the Love of the Creator. The little bit of energy that is missing is enough that our emotion doesn't feel quite satisfied and we go looking around for something to feel satiated. This applies to all creatures that have emotion, but not to the Vertical People like the trees. They don't kill. All the work and knowledge sharing of KF, and all the demonstrations of technology (T) have been to make up for this 'little sweetener,' so that Man and the rest of the creatures of the Soul of the Man (STM) on Earth will stop killing. This pretty much sums up this workshop, but it has taken years of diligent study to get this far to be able to understand this much without 'flat out' denying it. But we'll go into more details.

To understand more precisely about the missing energy, he talked about how plasmas work. What we see as the U is created out of the continuous interaction of the Original Ray of the Creator with itself. The way I understand it is, every plasma in the U is like a Black Hole, which in this case just means that when it forms, it creates a gravity, and its G fields pull energy into itself for its life to exist. At the same time, it gives back to its environment as M fields. We are ourselves a tiny plasma in the mosaic of the life of the U. The planets, stars, galaxies and universes are all plasmas and when their fields interact with other plasmas they create refractions and reflections of fields, and what he calls, 'by-products' and they interact and create more fields. What I could understand from what he said, is that these refracted fields interact with the Earth's core and create radiations, which then interact and affect every cell in the body of the Man. These radiations are actually Cosmic Fields. And when they interact with the Earth, which acts like a filter, that filters out certain things before they reach the cells. It seems that the Inertia mass of the elements of the area where the fields interact also act as a filter, and part of this determines the physical features the different races of the Man will have in that area. The main point seems to be that the filtering action of the fields of the planet create certain missing fields, so that when the STM and the Soul of the Physicality (STP) interact to create the physicality (P), the result are these missing fields, and this causes the Man to kill to make up for it. He said, creatures that have emotion are affected this, so perhaps one of the missing elements is Zinc.

This knowledge is not known by Man, nor by his scientists. In fact, they think killing is a normal part of life, and there is nothing wrong with it. In general, we believe that only Fe has magnetic fields, but even with those, we don't know very much about them. In an attempt to educate the Man KF did a Live Internet experiment where Knowledge Seekers (KS) from around the world could participate and watch how M fields were created from a very simple setup. After some weeks they slowly built up the M field to 29 Tesla which at that time was the strongest M field ever created, and they continued to 100 Tesla and all the way to 129 Tesla. He wanted us to learn that in the 'Law of the Plasma' the stronger fields always gives to the weaker fields to make them equal with itself. This is the same principle our body works on and how we can make up for the missing energy. In the dimension (D) of the Plasma when a field becomes weaker, the stronger fields transfer higher order energies to it. This is how the weaker reactor in the Star Formation was able to generate 129 Tesla, it was being fed, not with high voltage and electric current, but through the understanding the Knowledge of Creation. If Man learns how to tune into the energy of the Soul with the energy of the Spirit, where the Spirit becomes the weaker plasma, this will force the Soul to feed it because it's the stronger plasma, then it will feed the rest of the physicality, and Man will have solved this problem. Understanding how to transfer energy is the secret to living without killing.

We can use this knowledge of energy transfer to handle a stroke or brain hemorrhage which happens when too much emotional energy builds up in the heart and explodes upwards to the brain and STM. First of all, we were taught that we receive CR through the skin in the melanin and myelin system which goes to the lymph, and by two small lymph vessels drain into the blood system via the subclavian veins above the lungs. When there is excess energy in the heart we can use this system in the reverse direction to disperse it to the extremities and skin. We have to learn how to create a demand at the tips of our fingers and toes so that the higher energy in the heart feeds it. I have personally witnessed a Qigong Master start a fire with his fingers. I wonder if he was using this method or something similar. Mr. Keshe gave an added piece of knowledge. We can think of the blood flow as like an electric current flow, and the lymph as the Eddy Current, which means it flows in the opposite direction. There is more to it. When two fields are flowing opposite to each other, and the lymph and blood systems practically overlap each other, that interaction in itself will create energy. Remember Energy is M fields in motion, not $E=MC^2$. He seemed to be implying that this flow together with the neural system feeds the cells, and this will compensate for whatever energy is missing, then we don't need to kill for it. An example of this, are that the Vertical People understood how to do this with the CO₂, and they receive enough energy from this process to live by. Then we won't need a mouth, because we won't have to eat, drink or breath.

Another example of this kind of energy transfer is when we have a migraine headache. People lose their appetite but they don't feel hungry either. This is because a pressure has been created in the D of the STM to absorb energy from the environment and then feed the body through the lymph system. This is using the normal feeding system in the reverse direction. So instead of getting energy from the digestion and air, we are getting it from the Soul and it is sending it through channels in the reverse way. How I interpreted, 'getting a nation to walk backwards,' is that we don't need to eat or breath, but we have a bunch of fools constantly telling us that we do, and then, they come up with technologies to prove that we do. Therefore, we believe it and 'walk backwards.' But we can chose to walk forward and naturally receive the energy that is already provided for us from the Creator and the Creation. The choice of who to believe is up to us.

The next part is very interesting. It is about the 'Black Soil' the South Americans created centuries ago. Please see the Quick index for more details. Somehow they got part of the knowledge to create Nano materials to grow food. The land was barren and they started to burn the trees and vegetation and created very thick layers of this black soil to grow food and live on. The ash and charcoal are Nano materials and he says, they act like a Black Hole and absorb a spectrum of Universal Energies beyond imagination. The land absorbs high order energies and passes them to the Soul which gets elevated and receives energy and knowledge. Now we can understand why they were able to build advanced technology cities with the pyramids and other structures. This may very well be the true reason they suddenly abandoned their cities. They all got enlightened and transmuted to another D in the U. They had to make a connection to the Nano materials and they did that by eating some of the plants that became part of the ash. They received another form of energy absorption from the U that made up for what was lacking from the planet.

The KF is doing the same thing at the Space City in China. They have been burning all the vegetation from the greenhouses and putting it back on the land. The workers eat some of the produce and rest of the plant is burned. This gives them a connection for the field transfer from the Nano ash. So far no one gets sick, and they start to eat less, but further observation will be made as to how their intelligence, knowledge, and emotion changes as well. Now we have found another way to elevate humanity. They are planning to extract 20 tons of ash to fill up a 4,000 square meter greenhouse and from that to gather a lot of data on how the environment changes. The CR Balls that we hold in our hands have the same effect as the ash. KF will make a Plasma Mat that we can sit on and it will create the same effects as well. The Nano ash creates a barrier that separates us from the Inertia and MG field effects of the planet. This will make detachment from Earth and transmutation easier and will change many other things in our lives. And through our thoughts we can connect to Universal Fields. As we are getting closer to the 666th KSW the knowledge transfer is getting deeper and it is up to us to connect all the teachings together within our minds. The people have been trained to be afraid of those numbers. But for KS and those who accept the Knowledge of Creation, it will be the time for us to decide through our own will whether we want to remain trapped in the killing fields of this planet, or to elevate ourselves to live in the bigger structure of the World of Creation. The Messengers are doing everything in their power for humanity to understand what has to be done, but the decision to do it is ours and nobody else's.

If we look up online about the pulse and heartbeat we just find some mechanical things like pressure and that the elasticity of the blood vessels create a pulsing rhythm. He has talked about the importance of the pulse and heartbeat before, but today he gave some more hints to open up the knowledge. First of all, we know a plasma is only DC inside it and at its boundary it interacts and creates a frequency, which is AC, and the matter state. This interaction creates light, an atmosphere, and what he calls, the dimension of the plasma. We also know that inside the M vacuum of the body it is in the Gans plasma state. The pulse is a plasma but when it hits a solid material then it reflects back and becomes matter state with a frequency. What I understood is that when the heartbeat as a pulse interacts with another spectrum of M fields it becomes the matter state with a frequency. This is how the body is created. For now, we can accept it as a general statement to ponder over, but it needs much more clarification about the details of how it works. It's also related to why we can re-grow an amputated leg. Is it because the heartbeat keeps recreating the cells, and if we know how to access the codes then we can re-grow the cells by changing the conditions in the cell's environment?

In the past we defined that when two objects vibrate with each other they create a frequency. They are two independent objects moving back and forth in relation to each other. They create a frequency with each other, and we understand that this is matter state. However, when two plasmas interact they create an Infinity Loop (IL) type of interaction and exchange energy, receiving and giving with each other. It is my understanding that this is the nature of life in the U, because everything is in the plasma state, and this is how we'll live with the Universal Community. When plasmas interact and want to create something, it becomes frequency and a manifestation of physicality, like a planet and whatever else Creation is filled with. Our scientists don't know about the plasma and when they use the word 'pulse' of the heartbeat, they mean the frequency of the matter state blood expanding and contracting the blood vessels, and the source of the pulse is the bouncing of the blood off of the walls of the heart creating that pressure throughout the system. Mr. Keshe seems to be talking about the pulse of the interaction of the plasmas of the STP with the STM and these two create a plasma pulse in the body. When a Chinese TCM doctor feels the pulses he can tell everything about the Qi, Blood, and organs. The physical pulse reflects this information but is not the source of it. There is something behind that physical pulse. Perhaps the plasma pulse gives that information and it interacts with the Soul of the doctor. Until now I never came across any scientific explanation of the pulse, and we haven't even scratched the surface yet in terms of Plasma Science.

The pulsing of the STP and STM converts the energy to the matter state of the body every second of our life. Without the heartbeat there is no life. But where does the energy come from? In the Book of Genesis of the Christian Bible it says, 'I made Man in the image of Myself.' Another way to say it is, the heartbeat converts the energy of the Cosmic Rays of the Creator into the local manifestation of the human physical body, as well as every other manifestation of physicality. We can take it a step further and say that the pulse of the Creator interacts with the heartbeat of the Man and that becomes the Man's body, but it is also a body of the Creator. Then we should begin to wonder, has the Creator ever killed His own fields? Then why does the Man commit such heinous crimes? Man has denied and ignored that it only takes a pulse of the Creator to give the image of the Man to His fields, and that every single one of our heartbeats is the manifestation of His physicality in the dimension of Man's existence. Are we the true image of the Creator, or are we a pulse short of being Him? We have lied to ourselves and have accepted for them to lie to us, so that we won't know who we are and what we are created out of. We are created out of the fields of the Creator and yet we speak wrong in His name, live wrong in His name, and we kill in His name. Nevertheless, the truth remains, that His light and energy have become us in the matter state of physicality.

We have been taught many times that we need to detach from physicality and the fetters of this planet, but today Mr. Keshe gave us a living example of what it means. When we detach from the cares, worries, and desires of the physical body then we can serve the Totality wholeheartedly and without worry. Around the time mark of 1:34 into the workshop suddenly there are loud sounds in the background and he stops talking. He continues teaching as if nothing is happening, and he doesn't show any worry or fear, and keeps the flow of the topic he is teaching. Then he says to someone, perhaps his bodyguard, 'they are too close, aren't they?' and 'we have to see if he enters,' and 'too close to the line of fire.' Now we can try to imagine that we are personally somewhere in Romania on the border with Ukraine giving a teaching and suddenly there is gunfire going on and we know we are on the front line of a war. What would be our reaction? Could we maintain our composure, or would our thoughts, worries and projections take us over? Could we be so centered in our Self, and the truth of what we are doing, that nothing else matters and we become unshakeable like a mountain? I heard these kind of teachings in Buddhism many times, but never have I had such a pure demonstration of it. It's like a loving father protecting his children from the reality of the world we have created for ourselves.

A big part of the second half of the teachings were about the nature of knowledge itself. That's something we probably never thought of, we are used to reading things or listening to people speak and we just take for granted that this is knowledge. But is it really? Or is it just ideas people have and they found a way to get others to accept it as knowledge? Some people may say, that may be true, but my ideas are based on scientific experiments or mathematical formulas. We can say to that, yes, but it depends on how you are trained to interpret what you observed in your experiment. We explained this before that there is a difference between someone who just repeats the words they read and heard, and someone who has direct experience of what they are speaking about. In a way, knowledge can be described like a mountain, at the base you can only see a little bit, but as you climb higher you can see more, and you can understand why you thought the way you did when you only understood the base. This implies that there is in the background a knowledge that is already known. This is called the Knowledge of Creation, and every Soul can access it. Therefore, there is a fundamental Truth, or an Absolute Truth, and there is relative truth. Relative truth changes according to conditions and that is what people fight each other over, especially in religions. With this background we can understand what Mr. Keshe was trying to teach us today.

He again told the story of how gold was produced for the Chinese Military and how the top academician used his power and influence to lie and cheat, and by deleting the data for the gold and silver he disgraced the Chinese Military. But the main lesson in this story is that the Chinese government was going to rely on one man's word who said, no it is impossible to convert energy to matter, rather than their own experience of having the Generals covered in gold and witnessing gold raining heavily out of 'thin air.' In this case, the top leaders of a nation were directly experiencing gold being created right on them, and they said, no, the top academician said it is not possible, so we believe it is not possible. It is important for us to deeply understand the implications of this example, and how we do this in our own lives. Where we don't have the confidence or the knowledge to understand our own life experience. Then we accept to believe what others say, and not what we know and experience to be true. This is the essence of this part of the teaching, and it includes the Electrical Engineer who said, the KF patents don't work. This doesn't really depend on our level of education. Because if we make an honest evaluation of our education system, we'll come to the conclusion it is mostly indoctrination to believe certain ideas about life, rather than trying to find a higher truth that includes the essence of knowledge itself.

This is also part of the answer given to a Knowledge Seeker who wanted to see some proof that the plasma technology (T) really exists. Mr. Keshe has been showing and demonstrating the plasma T to humanity for years from production of 'free energy,' to re-growing missing brain cells and an amputated toe, light that has no power source, plasma batteries, countless processing of diseases, the list goes on and on. The 'crown jewel' was the production of gold in a prestigious public place in Beijing for the world to see. But unfortunately the world 'turned a blind eye' to it. So what can we be shown if we don't want to see? Then we have to look into the reasons why we don't want to see, fear, protection of wealth and power, forced to be responsible for our own lives, etc.. In Western philosophy when we don't want to believe in something we try to discredit the one with the knowledge by saying, 'show me and I will believe.' And then when it is shown we ignore it. The other problem is we are not able to see even if we are looking right at it, because of the way our mind is programmed. So instead of blaming the T, we should look within ourselves to discover why we don't want to see. The reasons Mr. Keshe cannot work with the Americans is because they only want weapons to sell and dominate the others with. There was an alleged capture of an Alien at Roswell in 1947, and the book called, Alien Interview, by Matilda O'Donnell MacElroy, the Generals only wanted to get weapon knowledge from her. In the last 70 years, that attitude has gotten worse and more concealed. The other obstacle is that people say, they will believe if it is on CNN. Well, as we have seen with this war, so many lies coming from CNN, why should we make that as our authority to believe in? The message in this teaching is to educate yourself to trust in your own experience and not rely on others to decide for you. And KF has now provided us with a huge resource of knowledge to do just that. And the bonus is we have a technology to give us a direct experience of what we learn.

Thanks for listening.
